Nixon May Declare Cease-Fire

...Sources Say He Reportedly Tells Thieu: 'Trust Me'

Saigon (AP) President Nixon plans to declare a unilateral Viet cease-fire to start on the eve of his inauguration and Saigon has no choice but to go along, South Vietnamese sources reported Tuesday.

"Trust me," Nixon was reported to have said in a personal message to President Nguyan Van Thieu of South Vietnam.

Barring a last-minute hitch, the sources said, Nixon intends to order the indefinite cease-fire effective at 11 p.m. Friday Saigon time, 9 CST Friday. The President will be inaugurated for a second term Saturday.

The cease-fire would be designed to convince the North Vietnamese to release American prisoners of war and take the final steps toward sealing the peace agreement under negotiation by Henry A. Kissinger and Hanoi's representatives, the sources said.

Enforcement Methods Vague

The South Vietnamese sources did not indicate how the unilateral cease-fire could be enforced or what the chances were for a positive response from North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops. But South Vietnamese and American forces presumably could continue defensive operations and would be authorized to open fire if threatened.

For the longer term Nixon was reported to have advised Thieu that an international agreement had been reached to guarantee against further hostilities by North Vietnam once the peace accord is signed.

The Florida White House in Key Biscayne said it would have no comment on what the South Vietnamese sources said.

"There will be a great number of these reports," said deputy press secretary Neal Ball. "We are not going to have comment. We are not going to discuss the subject."

In Saigon, there was no official comment from the Presidential Palace, the U.S. Embassy or the United Command.

Sources Have Access To Thieu

The reports emanated from sources with access to discussions by Thieu and other high South Vietnamese officials on the latest draft agreement.

One senior U. S. official said it was possible they were deliberately leaked by Saigon because of its objections to some conditions it feels Nixon is imposing on Thieu.

Nixon's reported plans for a unilateral cease-fire in the South would run parallel to a bombing halt he ordered into effect across North Vietnam Monday night because of progress in negotiations with Hanoi and as an apparent signal to Thieu that he now considers a settlement likely

There were other indications that a cease-fire and a settlement were near despite lack of an official confirmation.

Nixon's emissary, Gen. Alexander M. Haig Jr., conferred for 2½ hours with Thieu on the latest draft agreement before the Paris peace negotiators.

The U. S. Embassy indicated further meetings between Haig and Thieu and said Haig's schedule was "open-ended." This was taken to mean Haig hoped to get final agreement from Thieu before returning to Washington, thus laying the groundwork for Kissinger to return to Paris to okay the agreement with Tho.

Other sources said the South Vietnamese president has ordered key military aides to Paris to join technical negotiators working on details of the prospective agreement.

The group, headed by Lt. Gen. Vinh Loc, a Thieu associate, was given the mission of outlining plans for regrouping opposing forces under a final cease-fire.

The latest developments gave new momentum to peace hopes and produced reports that an agreement to end the war already has been reached. These reports interpreted Nixon's actions as an indication that Kissinger and Hanoi negotiator Le Duc Tho reached a basic agreement during their six days of intensive talks in Paris last week.

Some South Vietnamese government sources predicted a final agreement would be signed in Paris by the end of the month. Optimistic reports also came out of the North Vietnamese capital of Hanoi.

A pro-Communist Japanese news agency, quoting informed sources in Hanoi, said North Vietnam and the United States are expected to sign an agreement by the end of next week at the latest.

The Florida White House said Kissinger will not return to the Paris peace talks before next week, and perhaps not then.

Press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler left open the possibility that Nixon might say something about Vietnam in his televised inaugural address.

The South Vietnamese sources, who have access to exchanges between Washington and Saigon, said concessions had been made by both the U.S.-Saigon and Hanoi-Viet Cong sides on essential issues blocking a final treaty.

Omaha And Lincoln Drug Probe Sought

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

The Judiciary Committee Tuesday voted to seek legislative approval to conduct an investigation of drug activities in Omaha and Lincoln.

The surprise proposal emerged from a public hearing on a relatively minor drug enforcement bill after Sens. Ernest Chambers of Omaha and Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff expressed dissatisfaction with city and state drug control efforts.

Chambers said "known pushers and suppliers in Omaha" go untouched while some Omaha vice detail officers "become affluent," suddenly acquiring real estate and opening bars.

Kruger Blasted

Carpenter said State Patrol Chief Col. J. E. Kruger has been "inept and irresponsible" in drug control, and should be replaced.

The committee decided to request the Legislative Council's executive board to approve an investigation by the judiciary unit. Carpenter, chairman of the executive board, authored the motion.

A vote of endorsement will also be sought from the full Legislature.

Sen. Loran Schmit of Bellwood, sponsor of a package of drug enforcement bills, said he would like to participate in the investigation

Would Add Help

Schmit's LB14, authorizing the employment of not fewer than three legal counsels to assist county attorneys in prosecuting drug abuse cases and to advise the State Patrol on legal matters, kicked off the discussion.

Chambers said Omaha police "get a lot of little fish," but fail to attack the supply of drugs "at the source."

At 24th and Lake in his legislative district, Chambers said, police officers watch people exchange clothing for dope. Sometimes, he said, they are "involved" in the exchanges.

"That is common knowledge in our community," he said, "and it builds a great disrespect for the law in our community."

Chambers said he would like to question Omaha Police Chief Richard Anderson who, he said, quashed a proposed grand jury investigation of drug activities in Douglas County.

'Get Payoffs'

The chief knows that some vice detail officers "get payoffs," Chambers said, "but he won't do anything about it."

Carpenter said Kruger has failed to ask the Legislature for the funding and personnel required to properly investigate and control drugs.

"We should get rid of him and get somebody who wants to do it," Carpenter said. "It won't be a surprise to him that I want him replaced."

Schmit said Kruger has been "handicapped because we haven't provided him with the tools" to do an adequate job.

The Patrol has only 10 undercover drug agents, and "that's not enough," Schmit said.

'Not Handcuffed'

"Why doesn't he tell us he needs more?" Carpenter asked. "He's not handcuffed."

The Patrol asked for 26 agents a year and a half ago, Schmit said, but the Exon administration cut the request to four. The Legislature increased that figure to 10, Schmit said.

His drug control package this session would provide the Patrol with the necessary tools, costing some $600,000, Schmit said.

Then, if the Patrol failed "to stem the tide," Schmit said, he too would join in urging that Kruger be replaced.

Bureau Of Investigation

And, he said, he would be prepared to hand the Legislature a bill he has already prepared to create a Nebraska Bureau of Investigation which would "drastically reorganize law and order in Nebraska."

Sen. Wally Barnett of Lincoln suggested that Kruger be invited to come before the committee to "tell us directly what he needs in men and money" without having the request first scaled down by the executive budget.

As the father of 10 children, Schmit said, he is determined to "stamp out drug traffic" in Nebraska.

The committee advanced LB14 to the floor for full debate.

University Working At Reallocating 5% Of Budget

By MILAN WALL
Star Staff Writer

The University of Nebraska-Lincoln, with an eye toward quality improvement within current resources, is in the process of deciding how it might reallocate an amount equal to 5% of its operating budget.

The reallocation process, which is occurring at the direction of Chancellor James Zumberge, is affecting every academic and non-academic sector of the campus.

"The basic problem," said Vice Chancellor Virginia Trotter in an interview, "is how you go about shifting funds internally when it's obvious some programs need a greater proportionate share, and some maybe don't need as much."

In the past, she noted, the university has been able to justify budget increases on the basis of student enrollment increases.

'Can Justify Some'

"I think we can still justify some new programs and directions for increases," she said. "But we also have to show we can reallocate in the shop."

As a means to do just what, Zumberge late in 1972 informed all deans and directors in the academic divisions and similar administrators in the non-academic areas that he was calling back to his office an amount equal to 5% of the 1972-73 operating budget.

Each administrator affected is being given the opportunity to explain where he would cut back by that amount and "do the least damage," why he should not be asked to give up that much or why he believes he should be reallocated an amount equal to more than his 5%.

Probably Confident

"We've not had anyone say we shouldn't do it," the vice chancellor for academic affairs said, although she also noted each dean is probably confident he will get back at least the 5%, if not more.

Since that simply will not be the case in every instance, the process will lead to some hard decisions in the chancellor's office.

But, Vice Chancellor Trotter noted, by the time the review process is completed, every administrative unit leader will have had the chance to argue for his programs in meetings that include not only the vice chancellor, but also the director of business and finance, the vice chancellor's assistant and at times Chancellor Zumberge as well.

The reviews of the academic areas are taking place under Vice Chancellor Trotter's direction, while Director Miles Tomemeraasen is handling similar reviews for the business and finance area and Vice Chancellor Kenneth Bader for student affairs.

About $1.3 Million

The reviews will mean that sometime this spring, the chancellor's office will have as much as $1.3 million across the three campus programs to be reallocated within the separate budget designations.

The results of the reviews, to be built into the operating budget for 1973-74, will mean some colleges and divisions may have more in so-called continuation funds, while others may have less.

Although criteria for the reallocations have not been set, Vice Chancellor Trotter said she anticipated they will include considerations on enrollment shifts, student demand for courses, student credit hour production, leadership qualities and employment opportunities after graduation.

"Permeating through all this are the recommendations of the five-year plan" for excellence, an academic plan which was adopted earlier this month by the Board of Regents, she said.

'Pick A Few'

"We're not going to be No. 1 in every program," she noted. "But I think we should pick a few programs for high-quality national distinction."

Committee OKs Nominees For Defense And Intelligence

Washington (AP) — The Senate Armed Services Committee Tuesday approved President Nixon's nominees for top positions in intelligence and defense.

Confirmation recommendations, without dissenting vote, were approved for Elliot L. Richardson, named to be secretary of defense; William P. Clements Jr., to be deputy secretary of defense, and James R. Schlesinger, to be director of the Central Intelligence Agency.

The three nominees still face delay in Senate confirmation until after Inauguration Day.

Sen. Harold E. Hughes, D-Iowa, withdrew his demand for full public disclosure of the financial holdings of Richardson and Clements, but by voting "present" in committee reserved his right to seek to block Senate confirmation as a protest against the war in Vietnam.

Chairman John C. Stennis, D-Miss., said Hughes would be given at least a day to decide whether to submit separate views for printing with the committee report.

Use Of Powers Urged

Freshman Sen. James E. Abourezk, D-S.D., urged the Senate to withhold approval of all presidential nominees and to cut off funds for the White House staff in an effort to recapture authority from the President.

Hughes earlier had asked Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana to hold up action on Richardson, Clements and Schlesinger at least until after the inauguration of President Nixon for his second term Saturday.

In his first Senate speech Tuesday, Abourezk accused President Nixon of exceeding his authority in the Vietnam war and impounding money appropriated by Congress.

"The Constitution gives us two ultimate weapons, the power of the purse and the right to advise and consent on appointments," Abourezk said. "We must now make full use of both."

"If the President persists in carrying on this illegitimate war, or in defying the will of Congress by impounding billions of dollars in appropriated money, then this body should impound money for the President's staff, impound money for high executive branch officials and refuse to approve any presidential appointees."

Won't Do Much Good

Mansfield told a newsman he would honor the request of senators to withhold confirmation actions for a reasonable time, but he did not thing such moves would accomplish anything because government business still could proceed.

Senate Republican leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania called it "a little petty to delay the President's Cabinet" and accused Democrats of playing politics.

The Senate in its first 1973 action on Nixon's nominations, confirmed William E. Simon as deputy secretary of the Treasury, its No. 2 man.

Additionally, Edward L. Morgan was confirmed as an assistant secretary at Treasury.

The confirmation was by voice vote, with Mansfield noting that both men had said they would honor committee requests for their appearances and views.

Area Residents Seek Court Order Voiding 43rd, Normal Zone Change

By GERRY SWITZER
Star Staff Writer

Residents who opposed a change of zone at 43rd and Normal passed by the Lincoln City Council on Dec. 4 over the mayor's veto appealed Tuesday to Lancaster District Court seeking an order to declare the ordinance on the zoning void.

In a suit against the City of Lincoln, Mayor Sam Schwartzkopf, City Council members and Charles Henkelmann, who had sought the change of zone, the plaintiffs contend the City Council acted arbitrarily and capriciously in originally enacting the ordinance on Nov. 20, 1972, and subsequently voting on Dec. 4 to override the mayor's veto.

The nine couples who filed the suit allege that the City Council's action failed to give consideration to the planning efforts of the planning director and City-County Planning Commission, acted contrary to the facts and gave consideration to and relied upon representations and statements of fact and opinion which were "irrelevant and immaterial to the issues."

The plaintiffs contend that the alleged representations and statements of fact included "unreliable and unsubstantiated hearsay statements of fact which included statements of opinion without any showing of a basis in factual knowledge, experience or technical knowledge for forming such opinions."

According to the petition, the plaintiffs contend that the ordinance is contrary to the City Charter, singles out one small parcel of land for use or uses classified differently from the surrounding area, is contrary to the Comprehensive Plan and deprives the plaintiffs property without due process.

They allege that the zoning is primarily for the benefit of the owner of the zoned property, Henkelmann, to the detriment of the area and other land owners and thus constitutes "unlawful spot zoning."

Plaintiffs in the action are George G. S. and Joyce M. Holmgren; John L. and Dorothy Adams; John and Margaret Bay; Wilbur and Elizabeth Gaffney; Ross and Audrey Luff; Rex and Kuulei Marquart; Wayne T and Gloria Robidoux; Gary E and Diane Smith and Ralph and Mildred Wallin.

The nine couples who filed the suit allege that the City Council's action failed to give consideration to the planning efforts of the planning director and City-County Planning Commission, acted contrary to the facts and gave consideration to and relied upon representations and statements of fact and opinion which were "irrelevant and immaterial to the issues."

The plaintiffs contend that the alleged representations and statements of fact included "unreliable and unsubsantiated hearsay statements of fact which included statements of opinion without any showing of a basis in factual knowledge, experience or technical knowledge for forming such opinions."

According to the petition, the plaintiffs contend that the ordinance is contrary to the City Charter, singles out one small parcel of land for use or uses classified differently from the surrounding area, is contrary to the Comprehensive Plan and deprives the plaintiffs property without due process.

They allege that the zoning is primarily for the benefit of the owner of the zoned property, Henkelmann, to the detriment of the area and other land owners and thus constitutes "unlawful spot zoning."

Thieu Expected To OK Text Of Truce Agreement

(c) New York Times News Service

Saigon — President Nguyen Van Thieu of South Vietnam is expected to give his approval to the text of a cease-fire agreement brought to him Monday by Gen. Alexander M. Haig Jr. The Saigon government is going over the details of how the agreement is to be carried out, according to Saigon officials. It was reliably reported that the agreement does not contain any provisions for the withdrawal of all the North Vietnamese troops now in the South. (More on Page 1.)

Nixon Officials Mum

Key Biscayne, Fla. — While reports persisted abroad that a cease-fire in Vietnam was imminent, the Nixon administration refused to give any information on that possibility. (More on Page 1.)

U.S.-Soviet Trade Triples

Moscow — The level of Soviet- American trade nearly tripled in the first 11 months of 1972, even before large grain shipments from the United States began arriving in Russia. For the first time the United States is among the Soviet Union's major Western trading partners. (More on Page 3.)

Seniority Changes Ordered

Washington — The Labor Department charged Bethlehem Steel Corp. with failure to overcome the effects of racial discrimination and ordered the company to make sweeping changes in the seniority system at its plant at Sparrows Point, Md., to assure blacks of better job opportunities.

SEC Issues Order

Washington — The Securities and Exchange Commission ordered all stock exchanges to accept as members any firms doing "a predominantly public business." (More on Page 2).

Nixon Authority Challenged

Washington — In a new challenge to President Nixon's authority, the Senate Democratic Policy Committee decided to try to limit the administration's use of "executive privilege" to avoid giving testimony to Senate committees. The 14-member committee tentatively approved a resolution that would require White House aides and Cabinet members to have written pleas from the President to excuse the officials from testifying. (More on Page 43.)

Justification To Be Attempted

Washington — Gerald Alch, defense lawyer for James W. McCord Jr., one of the two remaining defendants in the Watergate trial, said his client would attempt to justify himself on the ground that he had feared violence against President Nixon and other leading defendants. (More on Page 3.)

Anthem To Be Played

New York — Bowing to public protest and private pressure, officials of the Olympic invitation track and field Tuesday reversed their decision of Monday and said they would be "delighted to continue the custom" of playing the national anthem at their meet on Feb. 16 at Madison Square Garden.

$8.88 Billion Budget Proposed

Albany, N.Y. — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller sent to the state legislature a proposed $8.88-billion budget for the new fiscal year beginning April 1. He said it represented a "sound balance between justifiable optimism and realistic caution" in assessing the state's fiscal condition.

Bitter Fighting Reported In Contested Territory

World News

Saigon (AP) — Bitter fighting was reported Tuesday in contested territory throughout Vietnam, with U. S. bombers attacking to support Saigon's troops and to hit southern targets of their own.

The Viet Cong charged the United States with persisting in "savage bombardments" in the South despite the bombing halt over the North.

A Viet Cong broadcast monitored in Saigon said antigovernment forces are determined to continue their ground offensive to "step up the struggle against the United States for national salvation."

One source said: "There is no indication that the Communist side has abandoned any of its ambitions."

The Saigon command reported a slight increase in the number of ground engagements between South Vietnamese and Viet Cong or North Vietnamese troops in the 24-hour period ending at 6 a.m.

Military sources said the increase also reflected more aggressive action by South Vietnamese forces.

The sources explained this was the result of spoiling operations by the South Vietnamese to pre-empt enemy forces from gaining or holding land in anticipation of a cease-fire.

The Viet Cong radio broadcast said government forces were engaged in "land grabbing operations" designed to increase the amount of territory controlled by the Thieu regime in the event of an in-place cease-fire.

The heaviest fighting was reported in the Que Son Valley southwest of Da Nang and on the eastern edge of the U Minh Forest in the Mekong Delta. Thirty-five enemy troops were claimed killed in the Que Son Valley fight, while 52 were killed in the delta fighting according to Saigon's count.

Government losses were put at 19 killed and 35 wounded in the battle near the U Minh Forest.

There also was fighting in Quang Tri Province just below the demilitarized zone, where South Vietnamese marines are trying to regain ground north of the Thach Han River. One such attempt was beaten back Sunday by North Vietnamese troops, according to delayed field reports.

Closer to Saigon, government troops continued to push against enemy-held areas in an area 35-40 miles northwest of the capital. The U. S. Command said an Army AH1 Cobra helicopter gunship was shot down by enemy fire while flying in support of the ground troops. Both crewmen escaped with minor wounds, a spokesman reported.

Although President Nixon has stopped all bombing and other offensive operations over North Vietnam, U. S. warplanes continued to bomb in the South and in Laos and Cambodia.

During the 24-hour period ended at 8 a.m. Tuesday, American fighter-bombers logged 199 strikes in South Vietnam, the command said, while B52s flew 24 missions during the same period.

The targets were listed as supply dumps, infiltration routes, troop concentrations and staging areas.

The bulk of the B52 missions were in the area of the Michelin rubber plantation northwest of Saigon, where 27 strikes were flown. The region is a traditional staging area for Communist troops.

Canada Readies 1,450 To Watch Viet Peace

©The New York Times

Ottawa — Canada is prepared to begin moving a peace-keeping force of as many as 1,450 military personnel into Vietnam within 10 days of a cease-fire agreement, officials in the Department of External Affairs say.

Whether a contingent that large would be dispatched, however, depends on a number of tough conditions that some officials complain have not been clarified in Washington, Saigon or Hanoi, or discussed anywhere with Canadians.

The defense Department reported Monday that 400 officers and men had already had innoculations and were on alert for Vietnam duty. They are stationed across the country, spokesmen said, and would be flown to the St. Hubert Base near Montreal for the 27-hour flight to Saigon by way of Hawaii and Guam.

Eighteen Canadians now serving on the International Control Commission in Vietnam are also available for temporary service on a cease-fire supervisory group.

Mitchell W. Sharp, external affairs secretary, emphasized in the House of Commons two weeks ago that Canada had not yet made any commitment to accept a role in Vietnam. Any initial undertaking would be limited to 30 days. This would be extended to 60 days if it were to take that long for an international conference to lay down specific assignments or to determine what political authority would supervise an agreement.

Gold Bill Introduced

Washington (AP) — Sen. Peter H. Dominick, R-Colo., introduced a bill to restore to U. S. citizens the right to buy, own or sell gold.

SEC Opens Stock Exchanges To Major Institutional Investors

Washington (UPI) — The Securities and Exchange Commission shut the books on the controversial issue of stock exchange membership Tuesday, ruling that any firm which does a "predominantly public business" is entitled to belong to a national securities exchange.

The major effect of the decision will be to open exchange membership to mutual funds, and other institutional investors that trade in large blocks of stock.

By setting up their own brokerage subsidiaries with seats on national and regional exchanges, these big traders will be able to buy and sell securities at the less costly commission rates reserved for exchange members.

There is one important qualification: a firm will have to do at least 80% of its business with the "public" — that is, customers other than itself or its parent company.

SEC Chairman William J. Casey called the action "essential if the public character of the securities markets is to be preserved."

The rule, proposed in preliminary form last year, is a compromise between the New York Stock Exchange, which had tried to keep institutional investors off the Big Board, and others such as the Philadelphia - Baltimore-Washington Stock Exchange and the Securities Industry Association, which had endorsed unrestricted membership.

All registered securities exchanges must adopt the new rules by March 15, the SEC said.

Exchange members who do not now conduct a "predominantly public business" will have three years to meet the guidelines.

Casey said the rules offered "an opportunity for institutions to diversify by entering the public brokerage business, bringing much needed capital into that sector and increasing the qualify and scope of competition in investor service."

Casey and others have been pushing for a central market system that would bring all exchanges into one trading network within the next few years. The SEC chairman said the membership rule was a "crucial first step" in this direction.

One Member Of Corona Jury Is Holding Out

Fairfield, Calif. (AP) — Jurors in the Juan Corona murder trial announced in the fifth day of deliberations Tuesday they have progressed from an 8-4 to an 11-1 deadlock.

The direction of the jury's leanings was not revealed.

The panel also sought clarification of the legal requirement that Corona cannot be convicted unless guilt was proven "beyond a reasonable doubt."

Judge Richard E Patton had the lengthy legal definition reread and then sent the jury back to continue its deliberations in efforts to break the 11-1 deadlock.

Picturesque Saigon Bar Is Now A Freak Gallery

By HUGH MULLIGAN

Saigon (AP) — The picturesque terrace bar where Somerset Maugham sipped his gin at sundown and Graham Greene took notes for "the Quiet American" has become the noisiest and most noisome freak gallery in Saigon.

At nightfall the terrace of the Continental Palace Hotel, situated on Lam Son Square just across from the National Assembly building, becomes a collecting point for assorted prostitutes, transvestites, lesbians, homosexuals, pimps, beggars and bums in and out of uniform — left over from all stages of the war, going all the way back to the days of the French.

Habitues call it "the Continental Shelf," because of the strange stratum of subhuman existence that attaches itself to the venerable rattan chairs under the slowly rotating ceiling fans.

Wizened old waiters in their high-collar white duck colonial uniforms still move among the bamboo tables as if nothing had changed since the days when French officers talked optimistic strategy amid willowy ladies in flowing ao dais. Now the waiters' bows go to way-out hippies in braless T-shirts, hot pants and false eyelashes, of whose sex they cannot always be certain.

Alors, Saigon's most famous bar, has become an outdoor market selling everything from today's newspapers to yesterday's newly minted antiques and tonight's call girl.

Wave after unbelievable wave of hawkers ventures from table to table peddling silk-screen drawings, paperback books, dirty pictures, model sailboats and Chinese junks fashioned from tortoise shell, lacquer paintings, musical instruments, black market cigarettes, brassware fashioned from 105-howitzer shells.

The balloon boy goes by, then the girl with the tray of pineapples on her head and the old man selling masks.

Bedraggled tots still in diapers, and some who have never worn same, push little packets of peanuts wrapped in a twist of newspaper, and necklaces of freshly cut jasmine "for the girl friend," as they noisily proclaim. A beggar woman with a baby at her breast, a different one each week, shouts oaths at the ungenerous.

Cowboy Sells Sister

The tough-talking teen-aged cowboy selling his sister on the motorbike parked outside demonstrates Saigon's wartime upward mobility from shoeshine boy to newspaper peddler to pimp about town.

Several nights a week an alcoholic Vietnamese general who legend says the war long ago drove around the bend shows up to make a fiery speech from a table top or to sing sad songs interspersed with his own weeping hysteria or to take off his clothes and shout anti-American slogans before the green and white national police jeep arrives. Lately he has been seen in two new poses: carrying a three-foot lotus tree, the symbol of peace, and darting among the tables with his face blackened, aiming an imaginary gun as a self-assigned night fighter.

The long bar against the wall under the old wooden fighter plane propeller is by garish custom reserved for transvestites in tight pants and silk shirts cut to the navel, and the tables in the corner seem set aside for a half-dozen deaf mute prostitutes who gesticulate wildly and obscenely at would-be clients

Life is a cabaret, old friend, so drink away the impending doom.

The cast of characters varies: red-faced American construction workers, hardhat hangers—on from the days of the big buildup, fat master sergeants in khakis resplendent with combat ribbons, rear-echelon South Vietnamese troops and disabled veterans on crutches, British, American and Japanese journalists steeling themselves with a few belts before the 5 p.m. briefing, graying briefing officers doing the same, even an occasional set of silver-coiffeured American wives and lady embassy clerks looking prim and adventurous over Scotch-on-the-rocks.

Limbless Begger

In the dust outside a limbless begger grovels for a tossed 100 piaster note or a cigarette, and as the afternoon sun washes the yellow facade of the Caravelle Hotel across Lam Son Square, the Dickensian scene becomes more frenetic.

Darkness comes with a squeal of bats and a giggle of whores and the unmistakable sweet smell of marijuana.

No day can be called typical, but Saturday a dark-skinned Cambodian girl came in bleeding from the arm and pointed out a thin, jaundiced-looking Frenchman as her assailant in an alleged fight over boudoir fees. He tried to escape through the dining room, but a wall of lady linebackers closed in and had him trapped before the wailing MP jeep arrived.

The round Chinese headwaiter, popping a bottle of Vietnamese beer that reeks of formaldehyde, saw nothing, as befits a man who has seen everything.

Until the 11 o'clock curfew siren sounds, the Continental Shelf is almost surrounded by a sea of roaring Hondas and rickety blue-and-yellow French minicabs, producing such a torrent of sound that one can hardly hear one's self being propositioned.

Robot Car Rolled Out On Moon By Soviets

Moscow — A robot Soviet moon car rolled onto the lunar surface Tuesday to map a large crater about 120 miles from an area explored by Apollo 17 last month.

Called Lunokhod 2, the vehicle looks like a covered washtub on eight wire wheels. It is equipped with television cameras to transmit to earth panoramas of the terrain on he eastern edge of the broad Sea of Serenity.

Riding piggyback aboard the landing stage of the spacecraft Luna 21, Lunokhod 2 landed early Tuesday morning in the Lemonnier Crater. Ground controllers checked out its systems and then "drove" it down a gangplank onto the crater floor.

The crater is north of the Tuarus-Littrow highlands area explored by U. S. astronauts Eugene A. Cernan and Harrison H. Schmitt during 75 hours on the moon Dec. 11-14.

In announcing Lunokhod's landing, the news agency Tass said it will continue a program of detailed mapping of the lunar surface begun by its pioneer predecessor, Lunokhod 1.

Lunokhod 1 began its rambles Nov. 17, 1970, immediately after landing from aboard the carrier ship Luna 17. Using solar batteries for power, Lunokhod 1 traveled 6½ miles and mapped about a half million square yards of the lunar surface.

Lunokhod 2 is also powered by solar batteries, and Tass said it will remain sationary until Thursday charging the cells in bright sunlight before starting its lunar travels.

Watergate Raid Justifiable To 'Prevent Violence'—Alch

Washington (UPI) — Watergate defendant James W. McCord Jr. justifiably broke the law when he helped break into Democratic Headquarters last year because he believed it would help "prevent violence" to President Nixon and other top Republicans, his lawyer said Tuesday.

"If you have a reasonable apprehension that harm may come to others as well as to yourself, you can break the law to avoid the greater harm," McCord's attorney, Gerald Alch, told reporters.

"If my guy was laboring under the reasonable belief that there was imminent danger to others, then it's not illegal," he added. "We hope the evidence will show he had reason to believe just that."

Alch, dragging deeply on a cigarette as he spoke during a recess in the Watergate bugging trial, said he would present evidence that McCord had "every reason to believe" his actions were necessary to gain intelligence about "would-be violent groups" such as the National Peace Action Coalition, the People's Coalition for Peace and Justice, and Vietnam Veterans Against the War.

'Prevent Violence'

Asked what McCord had hoped to accomplish, Alch replied: "To prevent violence against Republican officials — including, but not limited to, the President."

McCord, one of the five men arrested inside the Watergate complex offices of the Democratic National Committee June 17 with burglary tools and bugging gear, was security chief for Nixon's re-election campaign at the time.

He and G. Gordon Liddy, the former financial counsel for the re-election committee, are on trial charged with conspiracy, burglary and illegal bugging and wiretapping. Since the trial began last week, five other men have pleaded guilty to similar charges, one of them saying he thought he was helping to thwart a "Communist conspiracy."

Alch outlined his defense tactics to newsmen after Chief U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica halted his cross-examination of a key prosecution witness and summoned lawyers to the bench for a 10-minute conference.

Alch had been questioning university senior Thomas J. Gregory, who has testified he was recruited to spy on Democratic primary candidates last year, about whether he learned of any peace group activities in support of Sen. George S. McGovern.

'Law Of Duress'

Alch said later that Sirica asked him to submit by Wednesday a written memorandum of his theory which he called the "law of duress," and that the judge would study it before ruling whether Alch could proceed.

Alch said the theory, a "relatively new one" upheld in several cases by state and federal appellate courts, contends for example that "if you know 'A' is going to kill 'B', you can assault 'A' — which would be against the law ordinarily —and it wouldn't be illegal."

Asked what McCord and the others might have hoped to find, Alch said: "Well, let's say they learned 3,000 people were coming up to the Capitol for a demonstration. They could have alerted security forces."

Liddy, a former White House aide, sat rocking back and forth in a swivel chair, smiling slightly, as Gregory told how he had been paid $175 a week to steal secrets first from Sen Edmund S. Muskie and then McGovern.

Answering Alch, Gregory said he had learned nothing about mass antiwar demonstrations held in Washington in late May, 1972, while he worked at McGovern headquarters. Nor, he said, did he have any personal knowledge of the Watergate break-in, which occurred two days after he quit his undercover job.

Antiwar Demonstrations Planned

Washington (UPI) — A ceasefire agreement will not blunt the momentum of mass antiwar demonstrations planned for the weekend of President Nixon's inauguration, protest organizers said Tuesday.

Deliberately avoiding any specific figures, Dr. Sidney Peck and Jerry Gordon said the mass march their organizations were sponsoring would bring "tens of thousands" of people to Washington to demonstrate against the American presence in Southeast Asia and to demand the United States sign the nine-point peace plan announced by Hanoi in October.

Peck is a national co-coordinator of the Peoples Coalition for Peace and Justice and Gordon is a national co-coordinator of the National Peace Action Coalition. Together the two groups are sponsoring a "march against death" scheduled to coincide with Nixon's inauguration.

At a Tuesday press conference, called to announce final logistical plans for the march, the two were interrupted when a reporter told them dispatches from Saigon were indicating a cease-fire agreement may be signed before Nixon's Saturday inauguration and their march.

The two "welcomed" the news but said "whatever the speculation . . . we will be marching in Washington this Saturday."

Both Peck and Gordon said that it would be necessary for Nixon to end all bombing of Indochina and order the withdrawal of all American military forces and material from Souteast Asia to end the protests.

"Until that takes place, we will not rest, we will not be lulled or deceived again," Peck said.

While as a matter of policy, both groups refuse to estimate the number of demonstrators, one unofficial prediction coming out of logistics discussions with police has said there could be as many as 50,000 participants in the PCPJ-NPAC march and rally.

Vietnam Veterans Against the War (VVAW), who are holding their own separate march, have said it may draw between 1,000 and 1,500 demonstrators.

Leaders of yet a third march, co-sponsored by the Students for a Democratic Society and the Youth International Party (Yippies), which may try to disrupt the official inauguration proceeding or parade, have said they believe 1,000 "freaks and street people" will attend their rally.

Bomb Tonnage Reported

Washington (AP) — U.S. warplanes bombarded Indochina with 95,490 tons of bombs in December, dropping most of it over North Vietnam during the 12-day Christmas aerial blitz.

Despite the heavy bombing, much of it with B52s, December's bomb tonnage as reported by the Pentagon Tuesday totaled less than that dropped in each month between May and August and in November. The earlier strikes, flown mainly by smaller fighter-bombers, were aimed at cutting off the flow of supplies fueling the North Vietnamese offensive in the south which began in April.

According to the Pentagon, the monthly bomb tonnage rate was: January 57,790; February 67,536; March 70,694; April 91,670; May 105,729; June 112,460; July 99,066; August 98,182; Sept. 91,700; Oct. 94,300; Nov. 100,678; Dec. 95,490.

The figures are for all of Indochina and are not broken down by country.

Woodcock To Serve On Advisory Group

Detroit (UPI) —United Auto Workers President Leonard Woodcock agreed Tuesday to serve on the government's Labor-Management Advisory Committee despite his objection to any controls on wages and prices.

"We'd have been better off if there had been no controls at all," he told newsmen. "We were on our way to economic stabilization in 1971 when the deep freeze was put on."

Woodcock's acceptance of the invitation brought the 1.5-million-member UAW back into the Nixon administration's economic program for the first time since last March when Woodcock quit the now-defunct federal Pay Board.

The panel of five labor and five business leaders who will advise the Cost of Living Council on new wage and price guidelines meets for the first time Thursday in Washington.

Woodcock's tenure on the committee might be brief since he said the UAW has urged Congress to reject the proposed one-year extension of the Economic Stabilization Act, which expires in April.

Woodcock, whose union will begin negotiations this summer on new contracts for workers in the automobile and agricultural implements industries, said Phase III was "a step in the right direction, but it does not go nearly far enough."

Raher than outright controls, Woodcock said the UAW prefers a "price-wage review board which would invoke the force of an informed public opinion as a restraining influence." He said such a review board would have the authority to force a rollback of wage or price hikes.

Promising his union he would follow "a responsible anti-inflationary course" in negotiations this summer and fall, Woodcock said UAW demands "will depend partly on the behavior of the companies." He refused to specultae on the possibilities of reaching a settlement without a costly strike such as the one that occurred in the 1970 talks and would no rule out General Motors, Ford or Chrysler as possible strike targets.

"The impression I got (from talk with federal officials) is that we'd be on our own to work out our problems," the union chief said. Asked if he felt the government might step into the talks if the settlement is considered inflationary, think there will be anything to overturn."

U.S.-Soviet Trade Triples

©The New York Times

Moscow — The level of Soviet-American trade nearly tripled in the first 11 months of 1972, even before large grain shipments began arriving here, putting the United States among the Soviet Union's major Western trading partners for the first time.

Statistics made available by the American Embassy here Tuesday show a jump in American exports to the Soviet Union from $134 million in the first 11 months of 1971 to nearly $449 million for the same period of 1972.

However, Soviet exports to the United States rose only from $54 million to $83 million during the same time.

Picturesque Saigon Bar Is Now A Freak Gallery

By HUGH MULLIGAN

Saigon (AP) — The picturesque terrace bar where Somerset Maugham sipped his gin at sundown and Graham Greene took notes for "the Quiet American" has become the noisiest and most noisome freak gallery in Saigon.

At nightfall the terrace of the Continental Palace Hotel, situated on Lam Son Square just across from the National Assembly building, becomes a collecting point for assorted prostitutes, transvestites, lesbians, homosexuals, pimps, beggars and bums in and out of uniform — left over from all stages of the war, going all the way back to the days of the French.

Habitues call it "the Continental Shelf," because of the strange stratum of subhuman existence that attaches itself to the venerable rattan chairs under the slowly rotating ceiling fans.

Wizened old waiters in their high-collar white duck colonial uniforms still move among the bamboo tables as if nothing had changed since the days when French officers talked optimistic strategy amid willowy ladies in flowing ao dais. Now the waiters' bows go to way-out hippies in braless T-shirts, hot pants and false eyelashes, of whose sex they cannot always be certain.

Alors, Saigon's most famous bar, has become an outdoor market selling everything from today's newspapers to yesterday's newly minted antiques and tonight's call girl.

Wave after unbelievable wave of hawkers ventures from table to table peddling silk-screen drawings, paperback books, dirty pictures, model sailboats and Chinese junks fashioned from tortoise shell, lacquer paintings, musical instruments, black market cigarettes, brassware fashioned from 105-howitzer shells.

The balloon boy goes by, then the girl with the tray of pineapples on her head and the old man selling masks.

Bedraggled tots still in diapers, and some who have never worn same, push little packets of peanuts wrapped in a twist of newspaper, and necklaces of freshly cut jasmine "for the girl friend," as they noisily proclaim. A beggar woman with a baby at her breast, a different one each week, shouts oaths at the ungenerous.

IN PERSPECTIVE

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

It was predicted on this page earlier this week by Star columnist Don Walton that the 1973 Legislature would be a little more inclined toward spending than have the past two meetings of that body Part of the reason for this is federal revenue-sharing which will pump $28 8 million into state coffers for fiscal 1973-74

That is not much money in terms of Washington spending but it is a pretty good pot of gold for the Cornhusker state and it will be covetously eyed by senators for a host of pet projects. Also contributing to the higher spending thought is an early assessment of senators being a little younger and brighter on the average than in the past

The thinking is that new and younger blood will tend to give a progressive look to the Unicameral and that might be transmitted into programs aimed at solving needs as opposed to excessive concern with tax levels Certainly, it is concern with spending that has taken priority over needs in the past two sessions

One spending proposal coming from Sen Terry Carpenter calls for University of Nebraska acquisition of Hiram Scott College instructional facilities in Scottsbluff and Pershing College at Beatrice Carpenter admits to a possible selfish motive in promoting the Hiram Scott program in his own constituency but argues that it is the logical place for the programs he has in mind

Carpenter is right on the matter of location If his program is valid, it is quite likely that Scottsbluff with Hiram Scott represents a good selection, as might Pershing at Beatrice The question however, is not one of location but of need

The need may be there, too, but it ought to be determined well in advance of any legislative commitment to an endeavor Carpenter proposes the facilities be turned into research and treatment centers for social problems, including drugs, alcoholism and venereal disease

★

Major programs in mental health and medical health services could also be provided at Hiram Scott, said Carpenter Carpenter thus joins what seems to be a growing group seeking to promote some useful purpose for Hiram Scott and Pershing

Recently, the heads of the four state colleges in Nebraska endorsed a plan for consolidation of Peru and Pershing into a southeast Nebraska multi-purpose educational complex, including academic and vocational In a number of quarters however, that plan went over like a lead balloon

It would be presumptuous to say at this point that the Carpenter scheme is any better or worse than the state colleges proposal but it is proper to note that Carpenter will have to prove the merits of his idea The objectives he seeks are worthy ones but is he on the right track toward achieving them?

The areas in which he would propose to operate Hiram Scott and Pershing are areas in which the state already has a number of interested groups, agencies or institutions Additionally, local governments charitable agencies and other public or semi-public groups can be found throughout the areas of concern pinpointed by the Scottsbluff senator

Not by any means have we solved the problems to which Carpenter has addressed himself in his proposal but a proliferation of effort is no guarantee that we will ever do so Occupying a key role in the Carpenter plans would be the University of Nebraska

The university would apparently be the administrative agency that would tie together all the teaching, research and service aspects of the plan Carpenter envisions. There is an obvious attractiveness to this but it should have more factual foundation

There should be no opposition to the idea on sectional or geographic grounds In fact if a good and constructive use can be found by the state for these dormant facilities it should definitely be pursued

What is needed now is more insight as to the details of such a proposal and how well it fits with other current and planned programs in the same area

Full Speech Schedule For Elusive President

NEW YORK — I think maybe I've stumbled over the reason President Nixon has been hiding out lately And it has nothing to do with the war or the Super Bowl or his instinctive reluctance to meet the press in open conflict

It's all those speeches on his calendar

In the next couple of weeks the poor fellow has to write five major addresses On five different topics Without repeating himself

That's enough to send anybody running for cover

First off of course is Saturday's Inaugural address And this time he's probably racking his brain for a catchier theme than the one he came up with four years ago

As slogans go, "Let us lower our voices" never really did catch on Not the way Kennedy's "Ask not etc" did Mr Nixon might dredge up his "bring us together" bit, but somehow the timing doesn't seem right for that one Not unless Henry comes up with a quick miracle in Paris

Also he and his speech-writing elves have to think of a way to make his goals and policies for the next four years sound inspiring to the American people Could a landslide winner do less?

Then without even time to wait for the reviews, he has to get the next script ready That's his State of the Union speech And the whole world's wondering how he'll put that one together to make Congress happy

Apparently he is too since he's decided to send it over rather than deliver it to the enemy camp in person The way the boys on The Hill have been growling lately he'd have needed his handy-dandy lion tamer's kit

They've been waiting for him and he knows it Which makes this speech especially touchy since he has to go into things like his policies on Vietnam crime welfare and civil rights He might even have to miss part of the Pro Bowl to work this out

After that he gets a breather. Traditionally, the Economic message follows the State of the Union speech by a day or two, but this year Mr. Nixon doesn't have to worry about it much

The news, by and large is good and his advisers tell him it's going to get better For the next six months anyway

But then comes the real grabber the Budget message And even if he can manage to keep congressional spendthrifts from going over $250 billion there's no way he can squeak this one by without some mention of red ink Probably around $23 billion worth

He will have to deal with that, no doubt And maybe even say a word about taxes

All in all it's the kind of report any president might feel like sending over by messenger So don't be surprised if he ducks a personal appearance on this one too

Number Five, however, winds up the rhetoric marathon, and this is one he might even enjoy It's the State of the World speech, and there's nothing Mr Nixon likes better than wheeling and dealing on a global scale Even with a couple of pesky wars around to worry about

Another Hopeful Sign

The latest bombing halt ordered by President Nixon is generally seen as another hopeful sign that peace in Vietnam is imminent That is how people should want to see it, but we can't blame those who think otherwise

Congressional leaders, both Republicans and Democrats, were encouraged but cautious in their assessments of the order Monday to suspend bombing and shelling of North Vietnam

South Vietnamese sources close to President Thieu said Tuesday that a cease-fire will be declared by the United States and South Vietnam on the eve of President Nixon's inauguration Saturday to pave the way toward signing of a peace agreement to end the Indochina war

Sen Barry Goldwater who believes that people who are against the war have been the greatest obstacles to peace said that progress is being made "and if everybody in America will shut up and back the President perhaps we can go on making progress

A thousand pardons senator but many Americans won't shut up because they have precious little reason to believe that peace is at hand

It was at hand just a few days before the election, but something happened after the election which begged for an explanation that wasn't given There are those who are cynical enough to believe that a cease-fire before Saturday will be ordered to pave the way for an orderly inaugural ceremony not a peace agreement We hope the cynics are wrong, but they can't be blamed for their cynicism The events of the last 30 days alone will bear them out

The people of Vietnam north and south will believe that peace has finally come when all the fighting stops, and that might not happen for years no matter what the U S does The American prisoners of war will believe that peace has arrived only when they are home and the people in this country who oppose the war will believe in peace only when the last American bombers ships and men are gone from Indochina

Hopeful signs really don't mean much

Council Arguments Weak

City Councilman Harry Peterson stood alone Monday as the council defeated a proposal asking the Legislature to crack down on private clubs with discriminatory membership rules

With Councilwoman Helen Boosalis absent, the council on a 5-1 vote rejected a resolution asking for a law which would restrict clubs with 'all white' membership policies to serving only their own members — no guests would be allowed The intent of the proposed legislation was to encourage the breakdown of racial barriers through economic pressure

The five councilmen in the majority are members of the Lincoln Elks lodge a club with a discriminatory membership rule Peterson, the only member in favor of the proposal is also the council's only black member

Peterson was right, of course Government has a duty to encourage an end to discrimination especially when government allows such clubs the privilege of selling liquor All Peterson asked was that the council show some intestinal fortitude

If nothing else, a favorable vote on the proposal would have shown that the council is still sensitive to the discrimination problem

The arguments against the proposal were weak, to be charitable Councilman Bob Sikyta seems to think there is a correlation between discriminatory private clubs which enjoy the privilege of a liquor license and trade groups such as heating and air conditioning associations which legitimately and rather sensibly limit their membership to people in the heating and air conditioning business The argument that the proposal would force economic ruin upon discriminatory clubs is no argument at all Those clubs have a way of adjusting to such restrictions They change

While "very sympathetic" with Peterson's concerns Councilman Merle Hale said the proposed bill 'is not the way to go about ending discrimination' But defeating it is not the way to encourage an atmosphere of openness and equality in a community

Monday was a time the council could have shown some courage but the courage was lacking

Making War, Not Love

(Ed. Note. This is the second of two articles by Mr. Wicker on the war-making powers of the President, and any possible action by Congress to restrict those powers.)

WASHINGTON — President Nixon's order for the Christmas carpet bombing of Hanoi and Haiphong was perhaps the most imperial military decision in American history, although its purpose was diplomatic It was not taken during a declared war, or in a domestic emergency such as Lincoln had to deal with, or in general consultation with Congress and the United Nations, as was Harry Truman's decision to defend South Korea, or even with the dubious authorization of the Tonkin Gulf resolution upon which Lyndon Johnson relied Nixon's bombing decision apparently was not discussed even with his own Joint Chiefs of Staff

But it is unlikely that even this horrendous expansion of the so-called "war powers" of the President as commander-in-chief will lead Congress to decisive action to restrict those powers. For the immediate future, Nixon remains an active commander-in-chief, ordering both military operations and peace negotiations, no Congress is likely to take the risky political step of attacking a president's powers in those circumstances, particularly in view of the new bombing halt.

In the era of nuclear-tipped missiles, moreover, the President must retain the power to act decisively and swiftly in response to threats from abroad This necessity, plus the President's role as commander-in-chief, makes it most difficult to frame a satisfactory device for restricting his ability to make presidential war

The so-called War Powers Act now pending, for example, would require a president who had sent the Marines to the Dominican Republic or the B-52's to Hanoi to report to Congress within 30 days and to ask for its approval This would give a president 30 days of war-making license not now specified in the Constitution Worse, it wraps the president in the flag, gives him the initiative as a commander-in-chief who has acted in what he will surely call the national interest, and puts the onus on Congress to declare that he was wrong and ought not to have done it

Congress will not often be so honlike — quite the opposite — so the War Powers Act might well become a device for underwriting — not restraining — presidential acts of war But congressional resolutions of policy, another possible device, have almost no teeth, Nixon, for example, merely shrugs off as not binding on him the Mansfield Resolution which declares it national policy that the war in Vietnam should end on a certain date As for cutting off funds for the war, Nixon has only to veto any bill that might attempt to do it After that a two-thirds vote would be required in each house

The Supreme Court is hardly the answer. If it tried to define presidential war powers, it would undertake to control the "co-equal" executive branch on the most sensitive questions of national policy If it actually sought to restrict the presidency, it might not be able to enforce its decision; or as now constituted, it might even expand the war powers, or confirm Nixon's view of them In any case, no Supreme Court is likely to stumble into such a political thicket.

So, as a practical matter, there is no handy device, no quick and easy way to restrict presidential war powers But the first necessary step toward that difficult goal surely is an end to the war in Vietnam While Nixon is actively functioning as commander-in-chief, while operations proceed, while he can base his actions on the demands of war, while he can clothe his policy in the "national interest," attacking his powers — even, to some extent, his policies — is too much like aiding the enemy; those who do it are even seen to be the enemy by people who consider their President the righteous leader of a peace-loving but mighty nation

But once the war — or at least overt American participation in it — is over, Congress will not be in the position of attacking the commander-in-chief in wartime Then, one useful precedent might be the Cooper-Church Amendment of 1970, which prohibits the use of any appropriated funds for committing American "ground combat forces" to Laos, Cambodia or Thailand

By CARY PETERSON
Lincoln, Nebraska

Kevin Phillips' column (Star, January 3) entitled "The First Amendment" was interesting because it gives insight into the thinking and techniques of the Nixon regime and its assault on the American free press. Steeped in synthetic, demagogic jargon designed to paint the impression of a conspiracy, Phillips' article claims an "adversary culture" controls the media and is slanting the news against the values of the "average U S citizen" (Phillips never tells us what these values of the average American are — I doubt he really knows)

Most of Phillips' shallow analysis should be readily dismissed but for the danger that it can sound very appealing in an emotional sort of way. This is what is frightening. President Nixon and his associates want to believe that they represent the "common man who struggled out of poverty by pulling himself by his own bootstraps." In their attacks against the free press, they want to obscure the real issues by portraying it as a struggle between "the common man" (as personified by Nixon) and the "elite, upper-class liberal" (represented in Nixon's eyes by the news media). This type of appeal is the theme of Phillips' article and its implications are indeed troubling.

It doesn't take much to rip holes in Mr Phillips analysis He asserts that the "Washington-New York news axis' sets the tone for the nation Nonsense! Most citizens don't read the 'liberal Eastern newspapers, the three news magazines with greatest readership (Time, Newsweek and U S News) can hardly be called liberal, the network news programs are usually limited by time to reporting little more than the bare facts, and when they do go slightly beyond that, both administration sources and critics are usually interviewed Besides, the President has access to the networks any time he desires, his critics do not

Phillips tries to put across the image of a small, conspiring group of Eastern journalists who siphon off the news and deliberately bias it before dispensing it to the nation. What incredible nonsense! The great majority of all news stories come from the news wire services, who employ their own reporters independent of this "liberal Establishment press" And these news stories are very objective, perhaps even somewhat biased toward official government points of view simply because the government is a major source of the news

What is the real issue involved? It's not the news on Page One and the way it's reported that bothers President Nixon. Rather it's the opinions on the editorial page. He apparently cannot stand any criticism, or that his critics are also given space in the newspapers. Nixon was aptly described by columnist Tom Wicker as a "crybaby" — he resorts to attacking the media in Phillips-like style when he is criticized.

Let's consider the rest of Phillips article He claims this liberal press' only investigates and attacks "the politicians government, and institutions of Middle America" Simply not true It was this so-called Eastern establishment press which tore apart McGovern's economic programs, it was an Eastern liberal, David Halberstam who unearthed the role of President Kennedy's liberal Ivy League advisors in the Vietnam fiasco it was the Eastern press which was the quickest to attack McGovern over the Eagleton affair; it was the Eastern press which dug up much of the information which forced the resignation of Justice Abe Fortas (a very liberal judge) from the Supreme Court; and these are but a few of the many examples of this supposedly biased liberal press tearing into liberals with no reservations.

The fact is that the press is for the most part very responsible Perhaps it may sound like a cliche, but it would seem that most newsmen hold their philosophy of the people's right to know above any other political philosophy, liberal, conservative, middle-class or whatever And this is so because the people's right to know and to make their opinions known is the philosophy of democracy

This is not the first time that the American free press has been attacked by those in power When, in the early days of the nation the elitist, aristocratic Federalists attempted to silence journalistic criticism with the Alien and Sedition Act, the outcry of the common masses led by such great Americans as Thomas Jefferson, Phillip Freneau, Benjamin Franklin Bache and others preserved the right of the press to criticize the government

If Richard Nixon succeeds in muffling the free press in the guise of the "average citizen," it will be too tragic an irony. If an independent and critical news media is to survive, it is up to all Americans to see through the Nixon administration's distortions of the issue, and come to the defense of the most important institution of a free society

Holidays Juggled

Lincoln Neb

Just glancing over the 1973 calendar for holidays "bugs me to comment

Seems most things any more are not celebrated for their meaningful occasion, but set only on weekends to make an extra day off from work

For instance, Washington's birthday to be celebrated February 19 instead of his actual birth date, Feb 22, is meaningless Another, the Memorial Day celebration, is set for May 28

Holidays no longer mark an occasion but only a long weekend Why not skip them altogether unless they can be authentic?

The ERA

Lincoln, Neb

In our monthly executive board meeting on Jan 12, acting as a board and not speaking for individuals, Lincoln Church Women United voted to support the ratification of the Equal Rights Amendment as acted upon by our Unicameral Legislature in last year's session

In our opinion, the Legislature acted correctly and we feel it would be to the detriment of Nebraska women as well as to the state image to repeal such ratification

We agree with Congressman Dwyer of New Jersey who said "It would not take women out of the home It would not downgrade the roles of mother and housewife Indeed it would give new dignity to these important roles By confirming women's equality under the law by upholding woman's right to choose her place in society, the ERA can only enhance the status of traditional women's occupations For these would become positions accepted by women as equals, not roles imposed on them as inferiors (116 Cong Record H 7952)

Wise Mr. Lincoln

Alexandria Neb

There seems to be no example of a president's attempting to interfere with the actual conduct of a military operation being conducted by the War Department prior to that afforded by President Lincoln The general chosen by him to take charge of the Civil War in the East seemed by many to be taking too much time in drilling and otherwise training the new recruits in the encampment in Maryland near Washington Finally Lincoln ordered him to cease his preparations and invade the Confederacy forthwith

The general ignored the order Did Lincoln demote him or reprimand him? Lincoln did nothing He was a smart man It seems certain that on second thought, he realized that while the Constitution-makers, having to give the authority of choosing the general to actually carry on the fighting to someone or somebody, did give it to the President But they were far too smart to give the command of any military operation to the president who in only rare cases would be competent and never, even if militarily competent, would have the time and energy to add the details of a military command to the already exhausting duties of the presidency

Would that five of our last six presidents had been as wise as was Lincoln

EVENTS

IN PERSPECTIVE

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

It was predicted on this page earlier this week by Star columnist Don Walton that the 1973 Legislature would be a little more inclined toward spending than have the past two meetings of that body. Part of the reason for this is federal revenue-sharing which will pump $28.8 million into state coffers for fiscal 1973-74.

That is not much money in terms of Washington spending but it is a pretty good pot of gold for the Cornhusker state and it will be covetously eyed by senators for a host of pet projects. Also contributing to the higher spending thought is an early assessment of senators being a little younger and brighter on the average than in the past.

The thinking is that new and younger blood will tend to give a progressive look to the Unicameral and that might be transmitted into programs aimed at solving needs as opposed to excessive concern with tax levels. Certainly, it is concern with spending that has taken priority over needs in the past two sessions.

One spending proposal coming from Sen. Terry Carpenter calls for University of Nebraska acquisition of Hiram Scott College instructional facilities in Scottsbluff and Pershing College at Beatrice. Carpenter admits to a possible selfish motive in promoting the Hiram Scott program in his own constituency but argues that it is the logical place for the programs he has in mind.

Carpenter is right on the matter of location. If his program is valid, it is quite likely that Scottsbluff with Hiram Scott represents a good selection, as might Pershing at Beatrice. The question, however, is not one of location but of need.

The need may be there, too, but it ought to be determined well in advance of any legislative commitment to an endeavor. Carpenter proposes the facilities be turned into research and treatment centers for social problems, including drugs, alcoholism and venereal disease.

★

Major programs in mental health and medical health services could also be provided at Hiram Scott, said Carpenter. Carpenter thus joins what seems to be a growing group seeking to promote some useful purpose for Hiram Scott and Pershing.

Recently, the heads of the four state colleges in Nebraska endorsed a plan for consolidation of Peru and Pershing into a southeast Nebraska multi-purpose educational complex, including academic and vocational. In a number of quarters, however, that plan went over like a lead balloon.

It would be presumptuous to say at this point that the Carpenter scheme is any better or worse than the state colleges proposal but it is proper to note that Carpenter will have to prove the merits of his idea. The objectives he seeks are worthy ones but is he on the right track toward achieving them?

The areas in which he would propose to operate Hiram Scott and Pershing are areas in which the state already has a number of interested groups, agencies or institutions. Additionally, local governments, charitable agencies and other public or semi-public groups can be found throughout the areas of concern pinpointed by the Scottsbluff senator.

Not by any means have we solved the problems to which Carpenter has addressed himself in his proposal but a proliferation of effort is no guarantee that we will ever do so. Occupying a key role in the Carpenter plans would be the University of Nebraska.

The university would apparently be the administrative agency that would tie together all the teaching, research and service aspects of the plan Carpenter envisions. There is an obvious attractiveness to this but it should have more factual foundation.

There should be no opposition to the idea on sectional or geographic grounds. In fact, if a good and constructive use can be found by the state for these dormant facilities, it should definitely be pursued.

What is needed now is more insight as to the details of such a proposal and how well it fits with other current and planned programs in the same area.

Making War, Not Love

(Ed. Note: This is the second of two articles by Mr. Wicker on the war-making powers of the President, and any possible action by Congress to restrict those powers.)

———

WASHINGTON — President Nixon's order for the Christmas carpet-bombing of Hanoi and Haiphong was perhaps the most imperial military decision in American history, although its purpose was diplomatic. It was not taken during a declared war, or in a domestic emergency such as Lincoln had to deal with, or in general consultation with Congress and the United Nations, as was Harry Truman's decision to defend South Korea, or even with the dubious authorization of the Tonkin Gulf resolution upon which Lyndon Johnson relied. Nixon's bombing decision apparently was not discussed even with his own Joint Chiefs of Staff.

But it is unlikely that even this horrendous expansion of the so-called "war powers" of the President as commander-in-chief will lead Congress to decisive action to restrict those powers. For the immediate future, Nixon remains an active commander-in-chief, ordering both military operations and peace negotiations; no Congress is likely to take the risky political step of attacking a president's powers in those circumstances, particularly in view of the new bombing halt.

In the era of nuclear-tipped missiles, moreover, the President must retain the power to act decisively and swiftly in response to threats from abroad. This necessity, plus the President's role as commander-in-chief, makes it most difficult to frame a satisfactory device for restricting his ability to make presidential war.

The so-called War Powers Act now pending, for example, would require a president who had sent the Marines to the Dominican Republic or the B-52's to Hanoi to report to Congress within 30 days and to ask for its approval. This would give a president 30 days of war-making license not now specified in the Constitution. Worse, it wraps the president in the flag, gives him the initiative as a commander-in-chief who has acted in what he will surely call the national interest, and puts the onus on Congress to declare that he was wrong and ought not to have done it.

Congress will not often be so lionlike — quite the opposite — so the War Powers Act might well become a device for underwriting — not restraining — presidential acts of war. But congressional resolutions of policy, another possible device, have almost no teeth; Nixon, for example, merely shrugs off as not binding on him the Mansfield Resolution which declares it national policy that the war in Vietnam should end on a certain date. As for cutting off funds for the war, Nixon has only to veto any bill that might attempt to do it. After that a two-thirds vote would be required in each house.

If it actually sought to restrict the presidency, it might not be able to enforce its decision; or as now constituted, it might even expand the war powers, or confirm Nixon's view of them. In any case, no Supreme Court is likely to stumble into such a political thicket.

So, as a practical matter, there is no handy device, no quick and easy way to restrict presidential war powers. But the first necessary step toward that difficult goal surely is an end to the war in Vietnam. While Nixon is actively functioning as commander-in-chief, while operations proceed, while he can base his actions on the demands of war, while he can clothe his policy in the "national interest," attacking his powers — even, to some extent, his policies — is too much like aiding the enemy; those who do it are even seen to be the enemy by people who consider their President the righteous leader of a peace-loving but mighty nation.

But once the war — or at least overt American participation in it — is over, Congress will not be in the position of attacking the commander -in-chief in wartime. Then, one useful precedent might be the Cooper-Church Amendment of 1970, which prohibits the use of any appropriated funds for committing American "ground combat forces" to Laos, Cambodia or Thailand.

Point of View

By CARY PETERSON
Lincoln, Nebraska

Kevin Phillips' column (Star, January 3) entitled "The First Amendment" was interesting because it gives insight into the thinking and techniques of the Nixon regime and its assault on the American free press. Steeped in synthetic, demagogic jargon designed to paint the impression of a conspiracy, Phillips' article claims an "adversary culture" controls the media and is slanting the news against the values of the "average U.S. citizen." (Phillips never tells us what these values of the average American are — I doubt he really knows.)

Most of Phillips' shallow analysis should be readily dismissed but for the danger that it can sound very appealing in an emotional sort of way. This is what is frightening. President Nixon and his associates want to believe that they represent the "common man who struggled out of poverty by pulling himself by his own bootstraps." In their attacks against the free press, they want to obscure the real issues by portraying it as a struggle between "the common man" (as personified by Nixon) and the "elite, upper-class liberal" (represented in Nixon's eyes by the news media). This type of appeal is the theme of Phillips' article and its implications are indeed troubling.

It doesn't take much to rip holes in Mr. Phillips' analysis. He asserts that the "Washington-New York news axis" sets the tone for the nation. Nonsense! Most citizens don't read the "liberal Eastern newspapers"; the three news magazines with greatest readership (Time, Newsweek, and U.S. News) can hardly be called liberal; the network news programs are usually limited by time to reporting little more than the bare facts, and when they do go slightly beyond that, both administration sources and critics are usually interviewed. Besides, the President has access to the networks any time he desires; his critics do not.

Phillips tries to put across the image of a small, conspiring group of Eastern journalists who siphon off the news and deliberately bias it before dispensing it to the nation. What incredible nonsense! The great majority of all news stories come from the news wire services, who employ their own reporters independent of this "liberal Establishment press." And these news stories are very objective, perhaps even somewhat biased toward official government points of view simply because the government is a major source of the news.

What is the real issue involved? It's not the news on Page One and the way it's reported that bothers President Nixon. Rather it's the opinions on the editorial page. He apparently cannot stand any criticism, or that his critics are also given space in the newspapers. Nixon was aptly described by columnist Tom Wicker as a "crybaby" — he resorts to attacking the media in Phillips-like style when he is criticized.

Let's consider the rest of Phillips' article. He claims this "liberal press" only investigates and attacks "the politicians, government, and institutions of Middle America." Simply not true. It was this so-called Eastern establishment press which tore apart McGovern's economic programs; it was an Eastern liberal, David Halberstam who unearthed the role of President Kennedy's liberal Ivy League advisors in the Vietnam fiasco; it was the Eastern press which was the quickest to attack McGovern over the Eagleton affair; it was the Eastern press which dug up much of the information which forced the resignation of Justice Abe Fortas (a very liberal judge) from the Supreme Court; and these are but a few of the many examples of this supposedly biased liberal press tearing into liberals with no reservations.

The fact is that the press is for the most part very responsible. Perhaps it may sound like a cliche, but it would seem that most newsmen hold their philosophy of the people's right to know above any other political philosophy, liberal, conservative, middle-class or whatever. And this is so because the people's right to know and to make their opinions known is the philosophy of democracy.

This is not the first time that the American free press has been attacked by those in power. When, in the early days of the nation, the elitist, aristocratic Federalists attempted to silence journalistic criticism with the Alien and Sedition Act, the outcry of the common masses led by such great Americans as Thomas Jefferson, Phillip Freneau, Benjamin Franklin Bache and others preserved the right of the press to criticize the government.

If Richard Nixon succeeds in muffling the free press in the guise of the "average citizen," it will be too tragic an irony. If an independent and critical news media is to survive, it is up to all Americans to see through the Nixon administration's distortions of the issue, and come to the defense of the most important institution of a free society.

Letters To The Editor

Brevity in letters is requested but length in itself will have no bearing on publication. Writers are advised that needless details and repetitious matter will be edited out of letters. Too frequent contributions from one person on the same subject may be rejected. All letters must be accompanied by the writer's true name but may be submitted for publication under a pen name or initials. However, letters will be printed under a pen name or initials at the editor's discretion.

Holidays Juggled

Lincoln, Neb.

Just glancing over the 1973 calendar for holidays "bugs" me to comment.

Seems most things any more are not celebrated for their meaningful occasion, but set only on weekends to make an extra day off from work.

For instance, Washington's birthday to be celebrated February 19 instead of his actual birth date, Feb. 22, is meaningless. Another, the Memorial Day celebration, is set for May 28.

Holidays no longer mark an occasion but only a long weekend. Why not skip them altogether unless they can be authentic?

End Of Tunnel

Angus, Neb.

The mudslide is over. When will the millions of freedom believers get the muck out of their eyes? I never knew there were so many sheep in the U.S. who would choose a wolf to be their shepherd.

Will the last person leaving the tunnel turn off the light?

The ERA

Lincoln, Neb.

In our monthly executive board meeting on Jan. 12, acting as a board and not speaking for individuals, Lincoln Church Women United voted to support the ratification of the Equal Rights Amendment as acted upon by our Unicameral Legislature in last year's session.

In our opinion, the Legislature acted correctly and we feel it would be to the detriment of Nebraska women as well as to the state image to repeal such ratification.

We agree with Congressman Dwyer of New Jersey who said: "It would not take women out of the home. It would not downgrade the roles of mother and housewife. Indeed, it would give new dignity to these important roles. By confirming women's equality under the law, by upholding woman's right to choose her place in society, the ERA can only enhance the status of traditional women's occupations. For these would become positions accepted by women as equals, not roles imposed on them as inferiors." (116 Cong. Record. H. 7952)

Real George

Omaha, Neb.

When Nixon brought George Bush in as United Nations delegate, he gave him a plush apartment in the Waldorf, a plush limousine, his salary and entertaining funds, all tax-paid. Does all this luxury living hold over now that George is head of the Republican party? I hadn't heard that he moved out of the Waldorf or gave up his public-supported limousine.

Two Sides

Lincoln, Neb.

Too long the communists have had the privilege of naming their enemies as imperialists. For instance, Hanoi. It recognizes only one Vietnam, and that under Hanoi's rule. That is not enough. Laos and Cambodia should fall also; therefore the new efforts to cut the vital communication ways. There is military training in primary school as well as geniuses like Giap with something to say.

They are upset about the bombing of sanctuaries of North Vietnam but do not care when towns in South Vietnam are bombarded and civilians killed.

Wise Mr. Lincoln

Alexandria, Neb.

There seems to be no example of a president's attempting to interfere with the actual conduct of a military operation being conducted by the War Department prior to that afforded by President Lincoln. The general chosen by him to take charge of the Civil War in the East seemed by many to be taking too much time in drilling and otherwise training the new recruits in the encampment in Maryland near Washington. Finally Lincoln ordered him to cease his preparations and invade the Confederacy forthwith.

The general ignored the order. Did Lincoln demote him or reprimand him? Lincoln did nothing. He was a smart man. It seems certain that on second thought, he realized that while the Constitution-makers, having to give the authority of choosing the general to actually carry on the fighting to someone or somebody, did give it to the President. But they were far too smart to give the command of any military operation to the president who in only rare cases would be competent and never, even if militarily competent, would have the time and energy to add the details of a military command to the already exhausting duties of the presidency.

Would that five of our last six presidents had been as wise as was Lincoln.

Europeans, U.S. Disagree On Monetary System

©The New York Times

Luxembourg — Western Europeans Tuesday signaled their disagreement with initial American proposals to revamp the monetary system, heralding the first of what are likely to be many clashes before greater stability is proclaimed.

The signals came at a meeting of the finance ministers and central bank governors of the nine European Common Market states. The Europeans spoke out against American ideas that changes in the reserves of central banks should automatically trigger adjustments in the value of currencies.

The ministers said they were against new ground rules for a world system in which any kind of objective criteria was used to force changes in parities.

They decided instead to formulate counter-proposals in which wide fluctuations in a series of economic indicators would lead only to automatic international consultations over the value of a nation's money.

New Order

What is at stake is a new monetary order replacing the now-defunct Bretton Woods system in which the American dollar, symbolzing the unparalleled power of the United States in the aftermath of World War II, was the central monetary unit.

The old system died a tumultuous death in the monetary crisis of the summer and fall of 1971. The turmoil in those months threatened to wreck the network of political and military alliances built up by the United States since 1945—as well as general economic order and prosperity.

So the stakes are large as the U.S., the Common Market, Japan and certain developing countries seek to establish a new set of rules to better reflect the multi-polarity of today's world.

The above-mentioned lands are represented on a body known as the Group of 20, constituted last September as the organization that would create the new system. And the Europeans were gathered to try to align their position for subsequent meetings of the bigger unit.

To Meet Next Week

The G-20 deputies, high officials but below the rank of minister, meet next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday in Paris. On March 19-20 there is to be a G-20 ministerial meeting in Washington. The Europeans will meet again en bloc before Washington.

The overriding issue is whether there are to be improved rules for getting an adjustment in the international payments of nations. For years the U.S. has been spending more than it earned, creating dollars that flooded foreign central banks. The concrete question is whether new rules can be devised that will help give the United States a surplus instead of a deficit in its international payments.

The European philosophy is that the adjustment is basically an American problem. The U.S. should cut down its spending and capital outflows. But the U.S. says the adjustment is an international problem. Other countries have to be willing to let the U.S. earn surpluses, or in other words they have to be willing to let dollar priced goods be competitive.

The U.S. wants countries with excessively high reserves to be forced under the new rules to raise the value of their currencies. This would make products denominated in these currencies less competitive against dollar goods.

Parliament Of Europe Seeking More Power

Strasbourg, France (AP) —The enlarged Parliament of Europe met in its first session Tuesday, with Britain leading moves to give it more power and closer links with its nine member nations.

The assembly hailed the arrival of British, Irish and Danish parliamentary groups.

The three countries had entered the European Common Market and its institutions Jan. 1, joining charter members France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg.

There was a mood of excitement as speakers took a long look at the working methods of their Parliament and then vowed to reform and strengthen them.

Everyone seemed to recognize that for 20 years the Strasbourg Parliament had been little more than a talking shop, rubber stamping often controversial decisions of the Common Market's executive commission, which takes orders only from the Council of Ministers from member states.

Now it looks as if the Parliament itself is hungering for a share in that role.

Britain's chief Conservative delegate, Peter Kirk, proposed that the Parliament assert its "power over the commission" as a first step. Then, he said, it sould tackle its relationship with the ministers themselves.

Kirk, reflecting the views of Prime Minister Edward Heath's government, hammered the theme that the comminity aim of a European union by 1980 can be achieved only if the Strasbourg Parliament wins the active backing of Europe's ordinary people.

'Real Powers'

"We will not be happy," he insisted. "until the European Parliament both acquires real decision-making powers and is elected by the people of Europe."

Among the reforms he demended was that the Parliament should be readier to use its powers to fire the commission when serious disputes arise and to withhold money from it as a means of getting its way.

France's Francois-Xavier Ortoli, who is the new commission president, disavowed the idea that he and his colleagues have only the role of technocrats to play in building up a new Europe.

Three times in his brief address he stressed the significance of the dialogue that he said needs to be developed between the Parliament and the commission, and through it other community organs. But he also said the commission, for its part, intends vigorously to exercise the "power of initiative" it has been given.

Residents Claim Riha Is Living Out Of District

Papillion (AP) — About a half dozen Sarpy County residents confronted Commissioner Louis Riha Jr. with the complaint that he no longer lives in his district.

Riha said that laws are unclear on what constitutes residency but that "when I feel I can no longer represent my district, I'll leave."

Riha purchased a farm south of Springfield last year. He said he spends his time both there and at his home, in his district. The commissioner got support from other board members this week.

Chairman William Brooks said Riha probably spends more time on county business than other commissioners, and was instrumental last year in getting money for a park in his district.

Marsh To Attend Inauguration

Lt. Gov. Frank Marsh will officially represent Nebraska at the inauguration of President Nixon Saturday, Gov. J. J. Exon said Tuesday.

Exon, a Democrat, said he asked Marsh to represent the governor because Exon plans to leave Friday for Japan as part of a trade mission.

3 Are Arraigned In Buffalo County For Robbery

Kearney (UPI) — Three persons accused of robbery in the alleged holdup of a companion Dec. 21 were arraigned in Buffalo County District Court here Tuesday.

The suspects are John Scanoln, 24, Lincoln; Allen Doub, 22, Muncie, Kan., and Daniel Boozer 23, Kearney.

The three stood mute and Judge S. S. Sidner entered a plea of innocent on their behalf. No trial date was immediately set. The three were freed on $5,000 bond each.

They are accused of robbing Robert Edwards, 26, of Lincoln, in a parking lot.

June 9-15 Slated For Boys State

The Nebraska American Legion's Boys State program will be held June 9-15 at the Nebraska Center for Continuing Education in Lincoln, it was announced Tuesday.

The Legion department said the program would again be headed by Judge Edward Carter of Lincoln.

EDWIN COHEN . . . undersecretary resigns.

Administration Loses Expert In Tax Reform

Washington (AP) — The Nixon administration lost its top expert on tax reform Tuesday just as Congress prepared to take up the issue of tax revision during its 1973 session.

The Florida White House announced that President Nixon had accepted with "deep regret" the resignation of Treasury Undersecretary Edwin S. Cohen, acknowledged to be one of the nation's foremost experts on the nation's income tax system.

Treasury officials discounted speculation that Cohen's departure is related to tax reform. The administration is not expected to propose sweeping reform proposals this year.

Anyone suggesting that Cohen resigned because he was angry over the administration's apparent failure to move is misinterpreting the situation, one official said.

Cohen, 58, is expected to return to his post as law professor at the University of Virginia. Those close to him say he has wanted to return and has made trips to Charlottesville, Va., where the campus is located, almost every weekend.

"He has been talking about it for two years," the Treasury source said. Cohen maintains a home in Charlottesville.

Cohen played a major role in the 1969 tax reform act. Former Treasury Secretary John B. Connally used him extensively for tasks in the international trade and monetary areas.

Although his chief responsibility was taxes, Cohen in recent weeks had taken on special assignments in other economic areas. He is currently in Paris attending a meeting of the Organization for Economic Development and Cooperation.

In the past seven months he has guided private administration studies on tax reform, most of which have been sent to the President for study.

No successor has been named. But Cohen's duties are expected to be taken up temporarily by Fred Hickman, assistant secretary of the treasury for tax policies. Hickman may be called upon to work with the House Ways and Means Committee during its hearings on tax reform scheduled to open soon.

Omaha School Board, Teachers Deadlocked

Omaha (AP) — A deadlock has been reported in contract talks the 2,820 classroom teachers in the Omaha School District and the Board of Education.

Charges have been voiced that the board's negotiating team "was neither sincere nor serious in the propositions they have brought to the negotiations table thus far."

Dr. Frank Williams, executive director of the Omaha Education Association and chief negotiator for the teachers, said the deadlock represents "the most serious confrontation with the board's negotiators since I've been in this community."

Williams became executive director in 1965.

The contract talks are for the 1973-74 school year. Williams and Herb Penner, OEA president, discounted the possibility of a teacher strike.

In a letter presented to the board Monday night, Williams said his team recommended "two possible procedures" for the board.

First, he said, the board could replace Assistant Superintendent Clifford Dale as chief negotiator and return to the negotiation table. Second, he said, the board can declare an impasse and submit the issue to a fact-finding committee as provided by law.

Board President Joseph M. Hart Jr. said after the meeting that board members would meet with the negotiators before responding to OEA's position.

Negotiators for the board and the teachers have not met since Friday.

Mayor Nabbed For Attempting To Hire Killer

Memphis, Tenn. (UPI) — Germantown Mayor Bruce Law was arrested on charges of attempting to contract for the death of a man and a woman.

Law was arrested in the court square of downtown Memphis and charged with "soliciting for the purpose of commiting first-degree murder."

Police were tight-lipped about the case, but Chief of Detectives Harris Cole said the charge involved efforts by Law to hire someone to commit murder.

Europeans, U.S. Disagree On Monetary System

©The New York Times

Luxembourg — Western Europeans Tuesday signaled their disagreement with initial American proposals to revamp the monetary system, heralding the first of what are likely to be many clashes before greater stability is proclaimed.

The signals came at a meeting of the finance ministers and central bank governors of the nine European Common Market states. The Europeans spoke out against American ideas that changes in the reserves of central banks should automatically trigger adjustments in the value of currencies.

The ministers said they were against new ground rules for a world system in which any kind of objective criteria was used to force changes in parities.

They decided instead to formulate counter-proposals in which wide fluctuations in a series of economic indicators would lead only to automatic international consultations over the value of a nation's money.

New Order

What is at stake is a new monetary order replacing the now-defunct Bretton Woods system in which the American dollar, symbolzing the unparalleled power of the United States in the aftermath of World War II, was the central monetary unit.

The old system died a tumultuous death in the monetary crisis of the summer and fall of 1971. The turmoil in those months threatened to wreck the network of political and military alliances built up by the United States since 1945—as well as general economic order and prosperity.

So the stakes are large as the U.S., the Common Market, Japan and certain developing countries seek to establish a new set of rules to better reflect the multi-polarity of today's world.

The above-mentioned lands are represented on a body known as the Group of 20, constituted last September as the organization that would create the new system. And the Europeans were gathered to try to align their position for subsequent meetings of the bigger unit.

To Meet Next Week

The G-20 deputies, high officials but below the rank of minister, meet next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday in Paris. On March 19-20 there is to be a G-20 ministerial meeting in Washington. The Europeans will meet again en bloc before Washington.

The overriding issue is whether there are to be improved rules for getting an adjustment in the international payments of nations. For years the U.S. has been spending more than it earned, creating dollars that flooded foreign central banks. The concrete question is whether new rules can be devised that will help give the United States a surplus instead of a deficit in its international payments.

The European philosophy is that the adjustment is basically an American problem. The U.S. should cut down its spending and capital outflows. But the U.S. says the adjustment is an international problem. Other countries have to be willing to let the U.S. earn surpluses, or in other words they have to be willing to let dollar priced goods be competitive.

The U.S. wants countries with excessively high reserves to be forced under the new rules to raise the value of their currencies. This would make products denominated in these currencies less competitive against dollar goods.

Parliament Of Europe Seeking More Power

Strasbourg, France (AP) —The enlarged Parliament of Europe met in its first session Tuesday, with Britain leading moves to give it more power and closer links with its nine member nations.

The assembly hailed the arrival of British, Irish and Danish parliamentary groups.

The three countries had entered the European Common Market and its institutions Jan. 1, joining charter members France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg.

There was a mood of excitement as speakers took a long look at the working methods of their Parliament and then vowed to reform and strengthen them.

Everyone seemed to recognize that for 20 years the Strasbourg Parliament had been little more than a talking shop, rubber stamping often controversial decisions of the Common Market's executive commission, which takes orders only from the Council of Ministers from member states.

Now it looks as if the Parliament itself is hungering for a share in that role.

Britain's chief Conservative delegate, Peter Kirk, proposed that the Parliament assert its "power over the commission" as a first step. Then, he said, it sould tackle its relationship with the ministers themselves.

Kirk, reflecting the views of Prime Minister Edward Heath's government, hammered the theme that the community aim of a European union by 1980 can be achieved only if the Strasbourg Parliament wins the active backing of Europe's ordinary people.

'Real Powers'

"We will not be happy," he insisted, "until the European Parliament both acquires real decision-making powers and is elected by the people of Europe."

Among the reforms he demended was that the Parliament should be readier to use its powers to fire the commission when serious disputes arise and to withhold money from it as a means of getting its way.

France's Francois-Xavier Ortoli, who is the new commission president, disavowed the idea that he and his colleagues have only the role of technocrats to play in building up a new Europe.

Three times in his brief address he stressed the significance of the dialogue that he said needs to be developed between the Parliament and the commission, and through it other community organs. But he also said the commission, for its part, intends vigorously to exercise the "power of initiative" it has been given.

Residents Claim Riha Is Living Out Of District

Papillion (AP) — About a half dozen Sarpy County residents confronted Commissioner Louis Riha Jr. with the complaint that he no longer lives in his district.

Riha said that laws are unclear on what constitutes residency but that "when I feel I can no longer represent my district, I'll leave."

Riha purchased a farm south of Springfield last year. He said he spends his time both there and at his home, in his district. The commissioner got support from other board members this week.

Chairman William Brooks said Riha probably spends more time on county business than other commissioners, and was instrumental last year in getting money for a park in his district.

Marsh To Attend Inauguration

Lt. Gov. Frank Marsh will officially represent Nebraska at the inauguration of President Nixon Saturday, Gov. J. J. Exon said Tuesday.

Exon, a Democrat, said he asked Marsh to represent the governor because Exon plans to leave Friday for Japan as part of a trade mission.

3 Are Arraigned In Buffalo County For Robbery

Kearney (UPI) — Three persons accused of robbery in the alleged holdup of a companion Dec. 21 were arraigned in Buffalo County District Court here Tuesday.

The suspects are John Scanoln, 24, Lincoln; Allen Doub, 22, Muncie, Kan. and Daniel Boozer 23, Kearney.

The three stood mute and Judge S. S. Sidner entered a plea of innocent on their behalf. No trial date was immediately set. The three were freed on $5,000 bond each.

They are accused of robbing Robert Edwards, 26, of Lincoln, in a parking lot.

June 9-15 Slated For Boys State

The Legion department said the program would again be headed by Judge Edward Carter of Lincoln.

EDWIN COHEN . . . undersecretary resigns.

Administration Loses Expert In Tax Reform

Washington (AP) — The Nixon administration lost its top expert on tax reform Tuesday just as Congress prepared to take up the issue of tax revision during its 1973 session.

The Florida White House announced that President Nixon had accepted with "deep regret" the resignation of Treasury Undersecretary Edwin S. Cohen, acknowledged to be one of the nation's foremost experts on the nation's income tax system.

Treasury officials discounted speculation that Cohen's departure is related to tax reform. The administration is not expected to propose sweeping reform proposals this year.

Anyone suggesting that Cohen resigned because he was angry over the administration's apparent failure to move is misinterpreting the situation, one official said.

Cohen, 58, is expected to return to his post as law professor at the University of Virginia. Those close to him say he has wanted to return and has made trips to Charlottesville, Va., where the campus is located, almost every weekend.

ACTION LINE: Yes, LAP is "losing" with little apparent regret its fleet of 58 Government Services Administration (USA) automobiles, 15 of which are presently in running order.

According to Administration Director Diane Beecher, cost and safety factors led to the decision to pay mileage where necessary to LAP employes as of Jan. 1, 1983.

Some of the autos are listed as needing "minor repair" says Beecher. Thirty of them are waiting for some GSA dicision about disposal; the other 28 are subject to interagency transfer through GSA.

The American Memical Assn. AMA, as might be expected, is taking a very wait-and-see attitude. A spokesman for the AMA said that the practice has not been established as having any merit, despite considerable publicity to the contrary.

He said he knew of an establishment in Kansas City, Mo., where a weekend course is taught but termed the operation "pure quackery."

Drawing on its limited expertise in the field, ACTION LINE would venture theory on the origin of the "Babbit" confusion, however. We have seen a cartoon parody of the famous pair in which two cats portray the comic team. We submit that parodied call for help is here rendered "Babbit" as a comic device which may have given rise to the confusion.

YOUR 1972 INCOME TAX:

Thorough Check Of Deductions May Pay Off

Making a thorough check for deductible items can help many taxpayers reduce their federal income tax bills, according to Commerce Clearing House, national firm reporting on tax business law.

Deductions which are not connected with a trade, business or profession are divided into two classes:

1. Deductible from gross income in order to arrive at the proper figure for "adjusted gross income," and

2. Deductibley only from "adjusted gross income" and then only if the standard deduction or optional tax table is not used.

The first class has no effect on the taxpayer's disposition of the second class, leaving him free to itemize deductions on Schedule A, Form 1040 or to take the standard deduction.

Deductible Items

You can deduct the following items in figuring your "adjusted gross income," which will be shown on Form 1040:

Capital losses (limited), including nonbusiness bad debts

Contributions by self-employed persons to retirement plans

Depreciation on income-producing property

Entertainment expenses of employes (to extent reimbursed by employer)

Losses on stock becoming worthless

Moving expenses of employes

Outside salesman's expenses

Reimbursed employe's expenses

Rental or royalty property expenses.

Traveling expenses, business trips

Travel expense for education that is "directly related" to taxpayer's business or employment.

Only If Itemized

The following items are deductible only if they are not to be used in computing "adjusted gross income."

Alimony and separate maintenance payments taxed to recipient

Casulaty losses and theft losses, personal, to the extent each loss exceeds $100.

Child care expenses (limited)

Contributions to charitable, etc., organizations (limited)

Cooperative housing taxes and interest.

Employment of customers, unreimbursed, if not an outside salesman

Income and other tax returns, cost of preparing

Interest on nonbusiness mortgages or installment purchases

Medical, dental and hospital expenses in excess of three per cent of adjusted gross income, for example:

Ambulance hire

Artificial limbs and teeth

Drugs and medical supplies to the extent they exceed 1 percent of adjusted gross income

Eeyglasses, hearing aids, etc.

Food (special)

Hospital, doctor and dentist bills

Medical insurance premiums (up to $150 may be deducted in full)

Nursing care

Operations and related treatments

Psychiatrist and psychologist fees

Support or corrective devices

Transportation expenses relative to illness (including fare to docotors office)

X-rays

State and local taxes: Automobile license fres (in some states if considered a personal property tax), gasoline taxes, income taxes, personal property taxes, real property taxes (pro rated for year of sale), and sales taxes.

Uniforms and protective clothing

Union dues.

Not Deductible

Here are some of the items which cannot be deducted regardless of the method used in computing the tax. These, among others, are considered by the Internal Revenue Service as personal and family expenses:

Adoption fees (pre-adoption medical expenses are deductible under certain conditions)

Attorney's fees: Breach of promise suit, Obtaining divorce, Preparation of will

Automobile upkeep expense (pleasure car)

Baby sitter, unless qualified as child care

Bomb shelter

Child-support payments

Clothing, personal, including maternity clothing

Commuter's expense

Depreciation, property held for personal use

Diaper service

Domestic servant's wages, except as child care

Dues, social club for personal use

Employes' insurance (other than hospitalization), amount dedutced from salary

Fines for violation of law or police regulations

Food

Funeral expenses

Gifts, nonbusiness, to individuals

House rent

Husband to wife, allowance paid as housewife's salary

Insurance on residence

Life insurance premiums

Mortgage insurance premiums, and other fees paid to obtain a mortgage on a person's residence.

If the fees are intended as interest, they are deductible.)

Residence, repairs to

Traveling:

Between home and business

In search of employment

No established residence

Other than for business purpose

Physically disabled, transportation to and from work

. . . Regulations Designed To Trace Animals

By DOMINICK COSTELLO
Farm Editor

A group of 30 livestock dealers, state senators and representatives of the state Department of Agriculture attended a hearing on a new set of rules and regulations for livestock dealers at the statehouse Tuesday.

The regulations are designed to aid the department in tracing specific animals back to their original owner in the event of animal health problems and to prevent the spread of livestock diseases.

The primary objection to the suggested rules was eliminated during the hearing. "We don't think the average dealer can keep so detailed a record on every head of livestock if he has to record the ear tag number, sex, age, weight, breed and color. It is simply impossible if you have any number of livestock handled at the same time," said Max Wilke, a dealer from Gibbon.

The objection was eliminated by new wording adopted at the suggestion of Bill Able, attorney for the Department of Agriculture, that limited the requirement to "Sufficient records to enable an animal to be traced back to the farm of origin."

Wilke suggested that much of the animal health problem could be eliminated if the department insisted that every animal sold had to be tested at the time of the sale instead of waiting until they were slaughtered, pointing out that delay in getting the test result for cattle sent to slaughter is a real problem to dealers.

Glenn Kreuscher, state director of agriculture, said "the disease control regulations were a separate matter and not proper to include in this particular hearing, but we will be happy to have a separate hearing if you people want one.

"I would like to see all animals tested at the point of sale, too, but it creates big problems for auction barns and markets that handle huge numbers of animals. We have permitted tests to be run after the sale is over or at slaughter because of this problem.

"We are trying to get these regulations identical or as near to it as is possible so everyone has the same kind of problems, but it isn't as easy to do as you might think," he added.

Paul Johnson, executive secretary of the Nebraska Livestock Feeders Association, suggested "We are all a part of the animal disease problem. There is the unscrupulous dealer to be sure, but the sale barn or the dealer who sells a sick animal, the feeder who sells a poor-doing animal in the sale barn, or the veterinarian who signs a health certificate without examining an animal carefully are all a part of the problem without meaning to be.

"Everyone in the industry should clean his own house and quit passing the blame to someone else," he said.

Dr. Ivan Hember, assistant state veterinarian said, "The disease problem will be licked when every sick or poor doing animal is sent to slaughter or to a rendering plant instead of being reintroduced into normal marketing channels.

"These animals are a hazard to the entire industry," he said.

AIM Leader Says Indians Not Afraid Of Authorities

Scottsbluff (AP) — An American Indian Movement leader said here Tuesday, "We took on the federal government and we're not scared of the pigs in Scotts Bluff County."

Russell Means, former national head of the AIM, said Indians are coming from 14 states to assist in a protest at Scottsbluff.

The protest which started early Sunday has resulted in the arrest of 16 persons, all of them Indians or Mexican-Americans.

Firebombs were tossed through a window of Scottsbluff Junior High School Monday night, causing only slight damage, and several members of the protesting group have been arrested on charges ranging from possession of marijuana to possession of molotov cocktails.

Two more Indians were arrested Tuesday, police said.

They were identified as Lawrence D. Lamont, 31, Pine Ridge, S.D., and Jerome G. Charette, 34, Minneapolis, Minn.

Authorities said the two were arrested after verification was received from Colorado officials that the vehicle they allegedly were driving was reported stolen in Denver.

Earlier Tuesday, the Scotts Bluff County attorney's office said seven persons arrested following a fire-bombing here would be arraigned in county court at nearby Gering.

Among those arrested was John Two Birds Arbuckle, 31, of Lincoln. He is Nebraska director of the American Indian Movement.

Arbuckle was arrested as police began an extensive surveillance of traffic in the southeast part of the city Monday night. Arrested with Arbuckle was LeRoy Casados, 32, of Alliance.

The two were picked up in Casados' van-type vehicle Monday night.

Scottsbluff police said they found a container that appeared to be filled with gasoline and other materials for making molotov cocktails. They also said they found three automatic weapons, a club, and marijuana.

Three other persons also were arrested bringing the total to 14 since police broke up a party at a motel early Sunday.

Police said charges against the three persons with them were: Stanley R. Holder, 22, of Gracemont, Okla., aiding and abetting a felony; Alonzo Victor, 30, of Stillwater, Okla., possession of a weapon and possession of marijuana; and Carter Camp, 29, of Stillwater, possession of a concealed weapon and possession of marijuana.

Casados is one of two persons charged in connection with the takeover of the museum at Fort Robinson in November.

Means said at a news conference "police are inciting a riot" and added that "the press is also inciting a riot."

Means, now a field director for the AIM from Mission, S.D., was critical of the local media and said it was "judge, jury and executioner" by reporting "false statements and only one side of the story."

He said nationally the press is "editing the Indian people out of existence."

State ETV Commission Favors Strong Local Voice

Star Staff Writer

The Nebraska Educational Television Commission Tuesday endorsed national efforts aimed at ensuring local public television stations a powerful role in establishment of national public television policy and programming.

The vote came after a commission discussion on the recent moves by the Corporation for Public Broadcasting (CPB) to take over policy and programming functions of the Public Broadcasting Service (PBS).

PSB has acted as the national programming arm of the corporation, which is headed by a board appointed by the president.

Earlier this month, the corporation in effect did away with PBS and a number of national public affairs programs, an act which prompted complaints about possible political influence on public TV.

Similar questions were raised in the commission meeting Tuesday by Mrs. Don Popken of Brady, who said it appeared to be an attempt by the Nixon administration to "take over" public television.

"They're trying to operate in total secrecy now," she said. "This is part of the plan."

General Manager Jack McBride of the Nebraska ETV network admitted that the national moves "open the door for undue influence in terms of programming," which he said was the subject for much congressional debate when the public TV legislation was argued.

But he also noted that CPB has operated with federal funds and thus stands accountable to the federal government.

"The people in the present administration are not providing it," Commissioner Popken noted. "This is public money."

The discussion on the public television matter began with a report by Commissioner John Prasch, who attended a meeting last week in Dallas called by the coordinating committee for chairmen of governing boards of public television.

Prasch represented the Nebraska commission at the meeting, and reported he had voted in favor of a resolution which called for establishment of policy and programming as a joint venture of CBP and local liciensees, such as the Nebraska network.

The participation in national programming in PBS has been assured via representation in that group by local general managers, such as McBride, who is a member of the PBS board.

Prasch said the Dallas action called for formation of an official organization representing local governing boards in public TV and for establishment of a joint mechanism with CPB for establishment of policy on a national basis.

Prasch said "nothing in the statement" approved in Dallas "defends PBS."

"It seems to be a statement that says local boards have a stake in this," said Prasch.

He said a special seven-member committee representing local boards and commissions will call a national meeting in the near future and invite all local licensees to attend.

Some 147 local stations were represented at the Dallas meeting, he said.

Prasch said the recent CPB moves may indicate that governing boards of laymen will have to take a stronger role in policy formulation for public television, as Congress intended.

He also noted that CPB's decision to assume policy and programming was defended by CPB as a economy move. But Prasch said the creation of a programming arm in PBS was seen originally as "insulation provided purposefully to keep this from being a political arm."

Responsibility For Programming Discussed By ETV Commission

Several members of the Nebraska Educational Television Commission Tuesday said a legislative directive to broadcast Unicameral debate daily raises potential questions about who is responsible for Nebraska ETV network programming.

Acting on a motion, the Legislature decided to broadcast its actions on a daily basis. The network had planned to tape proceedings twice a week and broadcast them in edited form on the weekends during the session.

Although the matter may not be settled yet in the Unicameral, the network is taping daily and broadcasting portions of legislative proceedings for one-half hour each evening at 10:30 CST.

The Legislature provided no additional funds for the daily venture, prompting the network to cut back on plans for other programs and commit its only mobile unit to the legislative chamber daily.

Although the action means the ETV network will have to change some of its programming and find extra funds to pay overtime salaries for the broadcasts, Commissioner John Prasch of Lincoln suggested Tuesday that the "more basic question (is) who is responsible for programming, the Legislature or the network."

"Maybe there is no need for a commission," he said.

Commissioner Philip Heckman of Crete said he would not encourage raising such an issue on the legislative telecasts, and Jack McBride, general manager of the network, said the telecasts are a "unique service" unequaled in the country.

"We really are delighted by this service," said McBride, although he conceded it will cause some hardships. "We regard this as a challenge and an opportunity."

But Commissioner Merk Hobson of Lincoln suggested the commission might consider what it would do if the Legislature decided the programs should be broadcast daily at 6:30 p.m., instead of 10:30 p.m.

"I just want the commission to think about 'that question," Hobson said.

The decision of the Legislature appeared to be an unsettled one this week, when an effort to rescind the earlier motion failed on a 23-19 vote.

Lt. Gov. Frank Marsh ruled the motion needed 25 votes to pass.

In other matters at its regular meeting, the commission endorsed previously announced staff changes that will permit McBride to devote 90% of this time to management of the SUN program for college credit by ETV.

The commission also approved increased salaries for three other network administrators, who will assume most of McBride's duties until at least July 1, the end of the first fiscal year for SUN.

The commission was told the staff changes will not cost the commission additional funds, since McBride's salary will be paid from SUN funds.

In other matters, the commission approved new membership for the instructional television coordinating board with the provision that two additional members be appointed from Omaha.

The board is an advisory committee to the commission on public television matters as they relate to classroom programming.

In officer elections for the new year, the commission named Joseph Maresh of Dodge as chairman, replacing Heckman. James McGaffin Jr. of Omaha was named vice chairman, Cecil Stanley was elected to the executive committee, McBride was re-elected secretary and Paul Few was named assistant secretary.

Omaha (AP) — The Dundee Presbyterian Church has voted to call the Rev. Gerald E. Hazelrigg of Peoria, Ill., into the congregation. Richard Peck, head of the minister selection committee, said he hopes the final decision will enable the new pastor to arrive by April 1.

Farm Union Head Lashes Cuts In Farm Programs

Nebraska Farmers Union President Elton Berck Tuesday lashed out at cuts in farm programs by the Nixon administration, warning that the farm planners ought to "listen to the voice of history."

"The farmers of this nation can produce enough food for the nation and the world but they must be paid a price for the product that would cover the cost of production and provide a profit or that production won't take place," he said.

Berck said "Farmers have slow to anger and when they did fight back they tended to react in a "Caspar Milquetoast fashion that does not have the impetus of a general farm revolt."

Derck said "Farmers have a short memory. We need to recall the bad old days of mountainous and costly surpluses of crops that could neither be sold nor given away.

"Remember that the production per acre has doubled in some crops since those days and the recently disclosed government plan to dismantle government owned storage facilities for those surpluses should be a matter of concern."

Berck expressed concern over additional duties being "put onto the shoulders of the secretary of agriculture in the new super cabinet.

"He is to have watch dog responsibilities over the food industry in order to roll back or at least halt in its tracks the upward spiral of over-the-counter food prices."

Berck predicted that any attempt to set maximum prices on raw farm products "will create an economic disaster of major proportions and awaken farm producers in action of unpredictable but possibly fearsome proportions."

Nebraska Position Told To Southern Cattlemen

Jackson, Miss. — "Nebraska feeders want livability, gainability, cutability and gradability in the feeders they buy," a University of Nebraska Extension livestock specialist told those attending a feeder-stocker marketing conference here Tuesday.

Dr. Paul Q. Guyer is among a group of Nebraska feeders on a fact-finding tour of southeastern states this week taking a look at the present status and future potential of the beef cattle industry in that area, with emphasis on its capability of producing feeder cattle.

The NU beef specialist said Nebraskans' greatest interest in Southern cattle "is for yearling steers weighing 600 pounds and up or heifers 500 pounds and up in the spring, summer or fall months." And, Guyer noted, "we want to buy them at a price that they will stand a chance for making a profitable venture."

He told the Southern cattlemen Nebraska feeders experience some problems with many southern cattle carrying grubs when they are put in feedlots in the summer and finished in about 100 to 120 days.

Noting that Nebraska feeders prefer to buy cattle with potential for minimum health problems, Guyer suggested that Southern cattle producers consider preconditioning or disease prevention practices on feeders aimed at northern feedlots. Conceding that "you may not get your full cost back the first time," Guyer said brisk competition for feeders today will soon prompt recognition of a favorable health experience. Many Nebraska feeders buy older and heavier feeders partly because they have been "automatically preconditioned" by age, the NU specialist stated.

Nebraska imports about 2.5 million head of cattle each year to meet feeder needs, Guyer reported, "and many of these come from southeastern states." A limited number are shipped directly from Mississippi, but most come indirectly through grazing areas in Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas, he explained.

AIM Leader Says Indians Not Afraid Of Authorities

Scottsbluff (AP) — An American Indian Movement leader said here Tuesday, "We took on the federal government and we're not scared of the pigs in Scotts Bluff County."

Russell Means, former national head of the AIM, said Indians are coming from 14 states to assist in a protest at Scottsbluff.

The protest which started early Sunday has resulted in the arrest of 16 persons, all of them Indians or Mexican-Americans.

Firebombs were tossed through a window of Scottsbluff Junior High School Monday night, causing only slight damage, and several members of the protesting group have been arrested on charges ranging from possession of marijuana to possession of molotov cocktails.

Two more Indians were arrested Tuesday, police said.

They were identified as Lawrence D. Lamont, 31, Pine Ridge, S.D., and Jerome G. Charette, 34, Minneapolis, Minn.

Authorities said the two were arrested after verification was received from Colorado officials that the vehicle they allegedly were driving was reported stolen in Denver.

Earlier Tuesday, the Scotts Bluff County attorney's office said seven persons arrested following a fire-bombing here would be arraigned in county court at nearby Gering.

Among those arrested was John Two Birds Arbuckle, 31, of Lincoln. He is Nebraska director of the American Indian Movement.

Arbuckle was arrested as police began an extensive surveillance of traffic in the southeast part of the city Monday night. Arrested with Arbuckle was LeRoy Casados, 32, of Alliance.

The two were picked up in Casados' van-type vehicle Monday night.

Scottsbluff police said they found a container that appeared to be filled with gasoline and other materials for making molotov cocktails. They also said they found three automatic weapons, a club, and marijuana.

Three other persons also were arrested bringing the total to 14 since police broke up a party at a motel early Sunday.

Police said charges against the three persons with them were: Stanley R. Holder, 22, of Gracemont, Okla., aiding and abetting a felony; Alonzo Victor, 30, of Stillwater, Okla., possession of a weapon and possession of marijuana; and Carter Camp, 29, of Stillwater, possession of a concealed weapon and possession of marijuana.

Casados is one of two persons charged in connection with the takeover of the museum at Fort Robinson in November.

Means said at a news conference "police are inciting a riot" and added that "the press is also inciting a riot."

Means, now a field director for the AIM from Mission, S.D., was critical of the local media and said it was "judge, jury and executioner" by reporting "false statements and only one side of the story."

He said nationally the press is "editing the Indian people out of existence."

State ETV Commission Favors Strong Local Voice

Star Staff Writer

The Nebraska Educational Television Commission Tuesday endorsed national efforts aimed at ensuring local public television stations a powerful role in establishment of national public television policy and programming.

The vote came after a commission discussion on the recent moves by the Corporation for Public Broadcasting (CPB) to take over policy and programming functions of the Public Broadcasting Service (PBS).

PSB has acted as the national programming arm of the corporation, which is headed by a board appointed by the president.

Earlier this month, the corporation in effect did away with PBS and a number of national public affairs programs, an act which prompted complaints about possible political influence on public TV.

Similar questions were raised in the commission meeting Tuesday by Mrs. Don Popken of Brady, who said it appeared to be an attempt by the Nixon administration to "take over" public television.

"They're trying to operate in total secrecy now," she said. "This is part of the plan."

General Manager Jack McBride of the Nebraska ETV network admitted that the national moves "open the door for undue influence in terms of programming," which he said was the subject for much congressional debate when the public TV legislation was argued.

But he also noted that CPB has operated with federal funds and thus stands accountable to the federal government.

"The people in the present administration are not providing it," Commissioner Popken noted. "This is public money."

The discussion on the public television matter began with a report by Commissioner John Prasch, who attended a meeting last week in Dallas called by the coordinating committee for chairmen of governing boards of public television.

Prasch represented the Nebraska commission at the meeting, and reported he had voted in favor of a resolution which called for establishment of policy and programming as a joint venture of CBP and local liciensees, such as the Nebraska network.

The participation in national programming in PBS has been assured via representation in that group by local general managers, such as McBride, who is a member of the PBS board.

Prasch said the Dallas action called for formation of an official organization representing local governing boards in public TV and for establishment of a joint mechanism with CPB for establishment of policy on a national basis.

Prasch said "nothing in the statement" approved in Dallas "defends PBS."

"It seems to be a statement that says local boards have a stake in this," said Prasch.

He said a special seven-member committee representing local boards and commissions will call a national meeting in the near future and invite all local licensees to attend.

Some 147 local stations were represented at the Dallas meeting, he said.

Prasch said the recent CPB moves may indicate that governing boards of laymen will have to take a stronger role in policy formulation for public television, as Congress intended.

He also noted that CPB's decision to assume policy and programming was defended by CPB as a economy move. But Prasch said the creation of a programming arm in PBS was seen originally as "insulation provided purposefully to keep this from being a political arm."

Responsibility For Programming Discussed By ETV Commission

Several members of the Nebraska Educational Television Commission Tuesday said a legislative directive to broadcast Unicameral debate daily raises potential questions about who is responsible for Nebraska ETV network programming.

Acting on a motion, the Legislature decided to broadcast its actions on a daily basis. The network had planned to tape proceedings twice a week and broadcast them in edited form on the weekends during the session.

Although the matter may not be settled yet in the Unicameral, the network is taping daily and broadcasting portions of legislative proceedings for one-half hour each evening at 10:30 CST.

The Legislature provided no additional funds for the daily venture, prompting the network to cut back on plans for other programs and commit its only mobile unit to the legislative chamber daily.

Although the action means the ETV network will have to change some of its programming and find extra funds to pay overtime salaries for the broadcasts, Commissioner John Prasch of Lincoln suggested Tuesday that the "more basic question (is) who is responsible for programming, the Legislature or the network."

"Maybe there is no need for a commission," he said.

Commissioner Philip Heckman of Crete said he would not encourage raising such an issue on the legislative telecasts, and Jack McBride, general manager of the network, said the telecasts are a "unique service" unequaled in the country.

"We really are delighted by this service," said McBride, although he conceded it will cause some hardships. "We regard this as a challenge and an opportunity."

But Commissioner Merk Hobson of Lincoln suggested the commission might consider what it would do if the Legislature decided the programs should be broadcast daily at 6:30 p.m., instead of 10:30 p.m.

"I just want the commission to think about that question," Hobson said.

The decision of the Legislature appeared to be an unsettled one this week, when an effort to rescind the earlier motion failed on a 23-19 vote.

Lt. Gov. Frank Marsh ruled the motion needed 25 votes to pass.

In other matters at its regular meeting, the commission endorsed previously announced staff changes that will permit McBride to devote 90% of this time to management of the SUN program for college credit by ETV.

The commission also approved increased salaries for three other network administrators, who will assume most of McBride's duties until at least July 1, the end of the first fiscal year for SUN.

The commission was told the staff changes will not cost the commission additional funds, since McBride's salary will be paid from SUN funds.

In other matters, the commission approved new membership for the instructional television coordinating board with the provision that two additional members be appointed from Omaha.

The board is an advisory committee to the commission on public television matters as they relate to classroom programming.

In officer elections for the new year, the commission named Joseph Maresh of Dodge as chairman, replacing Heckman. James McGaffin Jr. of Omaha was named vice chairman, Cecil Stanley was elected to the executive committee, McBride was re-elected secretary and Paul Few was named assistant secretary.

Farm Union Head Lashes Cuts In Farm Programs

Nebraska Farmers Union President Elton Berck Tuesday lashed out at cuts in farm programs by the Nixon administration, warning that the farm planners ought to "listen to the voice of history."

"The farmers of this nation can produce enough food for the nation and the world but they must be paid a price for the product that would cover the cost of production and provide a profit or that production won't take place," he said.

Berck said "Farmers have slow to anger and when they did fight back they tended to react in a "Caspar Milquetoast fashion that does not have the impetus of a general farm revolt."

Derck said "Farmers have a short memory. We need to recall the bad old days of mountaincus and costly surpluses of crops that could neither be sold nor given away.

"Remember that the production per acre has doubled in some crops since those days and the recently disclosed government plan to dismantle government owned storage facilities for those surpluses should be a matter of concern."

Berck expressed concern over additional duties being "put onto the shoulders of the secretary of agriculture in the new super cabinet.

"He is to have watch dog responsibilities over the food industry in order to roll back or at least halt in its tracks the upward spiral of over-the-counter food prices."

Berck predicted that any attempt to set maximum prices on raw farm products "will create an economic disaster of major proportions and awaken farm producers in action of unpredictable but possibly fearsome proportions."

Nebraska Position Told To Southern Cattlemen

Jackson, Miss. — "Nebraska feeders want livability, gainability, cutability and gradability in the feeders they buy," a University of Nebraska Extension livestock specialist told those attending a feeder-stocker marketing conference here Tuesday.

Dr. Paul Q. Guyer is among a group of Nebraska feeders on a fact-finding tour of southeastern states this week taking a look at the present status and future potential of the beef cattle industry in that area, with emphasis on its capability of producing feeder cattle.

The NU beef specialist said Nebraskans' greatest interest in Southern cattle "is for yearling steers weighing 600 pounds and up or heifers 500 pounds and up in the spring, summer or fall months." And, Guyer noted, "we want to buy them at a price that they will stand a chance for making a profitable venture."

He told the Southern cattlemen Nebraska feeders experience some problems with many southern cattle carrying grubs when they are put in feedlots in the summer and finished in about 100 to 120 days.

Noting that Nebraska feeders prefer to buy cattle with potential for minimum health problems, Guyer suggested that Southern cattle producers consider preconditioning or disease prevention practices on feeders aimed at northern feedlots. Conceding that "you may not get your full cost back the first time," Guyer said brisk competition for feeders today will soon prompt recognition of a favorable health experience. Many Nebraska feeders buy older and heavier feeders partly because they have been "automatically preconditioned" by age, the NU specialist stated.

Nebraska imports about 2.5 million head of cattle each year to meet feeder needs, Guyer reported, "and many of these come from southeastern states.' A limited number are shipped directly from Mississippi, but most come indirectly through grazing areas in Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas, he explained.

Two Fluoridation Bills Put Off By Legislature

The Legislature's Public Health and Welfare Committee turned down Tuesday what was called a "premature" attempt by Sen. Glenn Goodrich of Omaha to advance one of the session's "hot potato" issues — fluoridation — to the floor of the Legislature.

The committee's agenda did not include the fluoridation topic, but in the meeting's closing minutes Goodrich produced two fluoridation bills for possible introduction to the full Legislature.

A majority of the committee members balked a Goodrich's efforts and the issue was dropped before any vote was taken.

The bills (one which would wipe out the election requirement for fluoridation and leave it up to the local governing body, the other would make supplies mandatory) have been advocated by the Nebraska Dental Association and are scheduled to be introduced by as yet unidentified senators.

It has been estimate that 670,000 Nebraskans now drink water that has been treated with fluorides, while the remaining 80,000 do not.

"By leaving it (the fluoridation issue) up to the popular vote, the emotional pitches, like 'you'll be poisoning our water,' prevent" the adoption of fluoridation, Goodrich said.

Sens. Richard Maresh of Milligan and Frank Lewis of Bellevue urged Goodrich to lay the matter over so more study could be given to the issue.

"What's the hurry" asked Maresh. "Why not wait to have someone introduce it on the floor?"

Lewis referred to the "intense" pressure which Goodrich said the subject arouses and added that he would like to feel the heat before making a decision.

Physicians' Assistants Bill Goes To Legislature Floor

A bill providing for a certified program of physicians' assistants was advanced to the floor of the Legislature Tuesday by the Public Health and Welfare committee.

LB101, sponsored by Sen. Loran Schmit of Bellwood, was amended to accomodate a request by the Nebraska Hospital Association requiring approval of physician's assistants by the hospital board.

The measure, which passed on a unanimous 6-0 vote, allows persons who have completed an intensified two-course in medicine to perform limited medical services under the supervision of a doctor. The program to train the assistants was authorized by the 1972 Legislature at the University of Nebraska Medical School.

The intention of the bill is to alleviate the maldistribution of doctors in rural parts of Nebraska. Currently, 16 other states operate similar programs.

The committee also heard a request from Douglas County Welfare Director Michael Healy that the costs of maintaining sexual sociopaths in institutions be shifted from the county to the state.

All other mental patient's costs are currently paid in part by the state, and Healy said the sexual sociopaths were not included through an oversight when the state took over financial responsibility. Last year, he estimated, the cost to Douglas County was $80,000 for 11 patients.

Bob Huston, legal counsel for Lancaster County, also appeared to support the bill.

The committee delayed action until fiscal impact figures are provided.

Action was also postponed on a bill which would give the blind priority in operating vending businesses in county, city or municipally-owned property.

Board Okays Legislative Debate 'Pipe'

Lobbyists are being given a chance to keep an ear tuned to the Nebraska Legislature's proceedings without even visiting the chamber.

The Legislative Council Executive Board has approved a policy of allowing anyone who wishes to "pipe" the floor debate to loud speakers in outside locations by telephone to do so.

The request originated with the League of Nebraska Municipalities.

The executive board also has been considering the advisability of loud speaker installotions in Statehouse offices of the senators.

The board was told Tuesday that the sound could be piped into 33 offices — some jointly shared — for $2,840. No action was taken.

Sen. Gerald Stromer of Kearney who obtained the cost estimate for the board, expressed concern that the remote listening might induce senators to stay in their offices when they should be on the floor.

Listening posts already are maintained at several locations in the corridor where news media are headquartered, as well as in the senatorial lounge, cloak room and rotunda.

Conviction Annulment Bill Offered

Persons convicted of a crime would be able to have their conviction annulled if they are rehabilitated under terms of a bill introduced in the Legislature Tuesday.

The measure, LB202, is part of a Judiciary Committee package of legislation designed to reform the state's corrections system.

Sen. Roland Luedtke of Lincoln, chairman of the committee, aid the measure is related to an earlier committee-sponsored bill making illegal the discrimination against persons convicted of a crime.

If LB202, passes, adequate criminal record safeguards would still be retained in law, Luedtke said, explaining he feels the measure would be helpful in finding employment for paroled convicts.

Anulment would be "similar" to a full pardon which the State Pardon Board is now authorized to grant, Luedtke said, but the annulment could be obtained with less trouble for the offender

Bill Seeks Life Safety Code Repeal

Adoption of the Life Safety Code as the standard for fire safety conditions would be repealed by a bill introduced in the Legislature Tuesday by an interim study committee on rules and regulations.

The bill, LB199, would withdraw the code as the standard for fire inspections by the state fire marshal's office. No replacement was offered.

The code was first adopted by the Legislature six years ago and during the past year, Fire Marshal, Joe Pluta has used the code as the basis for a crackdown on city and county jails, ordering numerous facilities to make improvements under code requirements for 24-hour supervision and suitable fire escape means.

Pluta has also cited the code for a ruling by his office which prohibited indoor use of Christmas trees which had not been made fireproof.

Change In Bank Loans Advances

A bill increasing from $2,500 to $5,000 the maximum which an officer or employe of a bank may borrow from the bank was approved and sent to the floor Tuesday by the Legislature's Banking, Commerce and Insurance Committee.

The measure, LB140, was one of five non-controversial measures given public hearing before the committee. All five were advanced unanimously.

Physicians' Assistants Bill Goes To Legislature Floor

A bill providing for a certified program of physicians' assistants was advanced to the floor of the Legislature Tuesday by the Public Health and Welfare committee.

LB101, sponsored by Sen. Loran Schmit of Bellwood, was amended to accomodate a request by the Nebraska Hospital Association requiring approval of physician's assistants by the hospital board.

The measure, which passed on a unanimous 6-0 vote, allows persons who have completed an intensified two-course in medicine to perform limited medical services under the supervision of a doctor. The program to train the assistants was authorized by the 1972 Legislature at the University of Nebraska Medical School.

The intention of the bill is to alleviate the maldistribution of doctors in rural parts of Nebraska. Currently, 16 other states operate similar programs.

The committee also heard a request from Douglas County Welfare Director Michael Healy that the costs of maintaining sexual sociopaths in institutions be shifted from the county to the state.

All other mental patient's costs are currently paid in part by the state, and Healy said the sexual sociopaths were not included through an oversight when the state took over financial responsibility. Last year, he estimated, the cost to Douglas County was $80,000 for 11 patients.

Bob Huston, legal counsel for Lancaster County, also appeared to support the bill.

The committee delayed action until fiscal impact figures are provided.

Action was also postponed on a bill which would give the blind priority in operating vending businesses in county, city or municipally-owned property.

Board Okays Legislative Debate 'Pipe'

Lobbyists are being given a chance to keep an ear tuned to the Nebraska Legislature's proceedings without even visiting the chamber.

The Legislative Council Executive Board has approved a policy of allowing anyone who wishes to "pipe" the floor debate to loud speakers in outside locations by telephone to do so.

The request originated with the League of Nebraska Municipalities.

The executive board also has been considering the advisability of loud speaker installotions in Statehouse offices of the senators.

The board was told Tuesday that the sound could be piped into 33 offices — some jointly shared — for $2,840. No action was taken.

Sen. Gerald Stromer of Kearney who obtained the cost estimate for the board, expressed concern that the remote listening might induce senators to stay in their offices when they should be on the floor.

Listening posts already are maintained at several locations in the corridor where news media are headquartered, as well as in the senatorial lounge, cloak room and rotunda.

Conviction Annulment Bill Offered

Persons convicted of a crime would be able to have their conviction annulled if they are rehabilitated under terms of a bill introduced in the Legislature Tuesday.

The measure, LB202, is part of a Judiciary Committee package of legislation designed to reform the state's corrections system.

Sen. Roland Luedtke of Lincoln, chairman of the committee, aid the measure is related to an earlier committee-sponsored bill making illegal the discrimination against persons convicted of a crime.

If LB202, passes, adequate criminal record safeguards would still be retained in law, Luedtke said, explaining he feels the measure would be helpful in finding employment for paroled convicts

Anulment would be "similar" to a full pardon which the State Pardon Board is now authorized to grant, Luedtke said, but the annulment could be obtained with less trouble for the offender

Bill Seeks Life Safety Code Repeal

Adoption of the Life Safety Code as the standard for fire safety conditions would be repealed by a bill introduced in the Legislature Tuesday by an interim study committee on rules and regulations.

The bill, LB199, would withdraw the code as the standard for fire inspections by the state fire marshal's office. No replacement was offered.

The code was first adopted by the Legislature six years ago and during the past year, Fire Marshal, Joe Pluta has used the code as the basis for a crackdown on city and county jails, ordering numerous facilities to make improvements under code requirements for 24-hour supervision and suitable fire escape means.

Pluta has also cited the code for a ruling by his office which prohibited indoor use of Christmas trees which had not been made fireproof.

Change In Bank Loans Advances

A bill increasing from $2,500 to $5,000 the maximum which an officer or employe of a bank may borrow from the bank was approved and sent to the floor Tuesday by the Legislature's Banking, Commerce and Insurance Committee.

The measure, LB140, was one of five non-controversial measures given public hearing before the committee. All five were advanced unanimously.

Passengers Searched

Legislature Receives 20 New Bills; Total Now 212

By The Associated Press

The Legislature, on the eighth day of its 1973 session, received another 20 new bills Tuesday, hiking the total to date to 212. The total compares with 292 received at the same stage of the last 90-day session in 1971.

Included in the new offerings were measures aimed at implementing a pledge by Scottsbluff's Sen. Terry Carpenter, chairman of the Legislative Council Executive Board, to upgrade the Legislature's image and muscle.

On behalf of the executive board, Carpenter delivered a bill, LB205, which forbids interference with the legislative process, provides for legislative security officers and provides for contempt citations against those who disrupt the legisiative process.

Certain interference with the legislative process would constitute a misdemeanor and subject the offender to a jail term of up to one year and a fine of up to $1,000. However, bringing a firearm or other dangerous device into the Capitol would constitute a felony.

Disorderly conduct by a legislator or anyone else, "in the immediate view of the Legislature and tending to interrupt its proceedings," could result in the offender's imprisonment until the end of the legislative session.

A companion bill, LB204, authorizes the Legislature or Legislative Council Executive Board to rent or contract for additional space and to hire additional personnel. A third related measures establishes a legislative audit review committee.

Legislative Bills Introduced

LB197 (Syas)—Sxtends from five to 20 years the maximum length of leases or lease-purchase agreements which school districts may enter into for building or equipment.

LB198 (Cavanaugh, Anderson) — Eliminates the sefcion of law which says a voter must reregister after failing to vote in two successive general elections.

LB199 (Rules & Regulations Committee)—Withdraws the earlier adoption of the life safety code as standard for state fire marshal.

LB200 (Stull)—Establishes a Fort Robinson Centennial Commission.

LB201 (Kime)—Authorizes the Department of Agriculture to employ special investigators.

LB202 (Judiciary Committee) — Authorizes annulment of criminal convictions and restoration of civil rights as ar. aid to rehabilitation.

LB203 (Legislative Council Executive Board)—Establishes a legislative audit review committee.

LB204 (Executive Board)—Authorizes the Legislature or Legislative Council executive board to rent or contract for additional space and hire additional personnel.

LB205 (Executive Board)—Forbids interference with the legislative process, provides for security officers and various procedures.

LB 206 (Kennedy, Hasebroock)—Provides procedure for project improvement area for natural resource districts and variously revises related law.

LB207 (Marsh—Provides for reporting of cases of abuse of minor children and incompetent or disabled persons and provides for a central registry.

LB208 (Fellman—Prohibits discrimination in employment because of blindness or physical disability when such handicap would not prevent the performance of the work.

LB209 (Cavanaugh—Broadens authority of cities to prohibit discrimination to cover discrimination for age, visual handicap or physical disability.

LB210 (Waldron—Provides that inheritance tax liens shall expire 10 years after death.

LB211 (F. Lewis—Revises Nebraska fair employment practice act to make unlaw discrimination for blindness or physical disability when such handicap would not prevent the performance of the work.

LB212 (Interim Committee on Advertising—Regulates home solicitation selling.

Citizen Participation In Pollution Fight Sought

By United Press International

Private citizens have the power to directly participate in the enforcement of Nebraska's environmental control laws under the terms of a bill introduced in the Legislature Tuesday.

Sen. George Syas of Omaha sponsored the measure, LB195, which would establish a petition method of getting the State Environmental Control Department to take action against alleged polluters.

According to the bill, citizens have the right to expect a clean environment and also have the responsibility to see that violaters of anti-pollution laws are brought to task.

"The Legislature recognizes that each person has the right to the protection, preservation and enhancement of the air, land and water of Nebraska and that each person has the responsibility to contribute to the protection, preservation and enhancement of the air, land and water." the bill states.

The measure, in turn, would also put more pressure on the state environmental agency to take action.

Under the bill's terms, if the director of the agency failed to act on the petition within 10 days, the petitioner could file an action in the district court to force action.

Sen. Orval Keyes of Springfield introduced a bill, LB196, which would establish a statewide bicycle trail program.

The bill would allow counties, cities and villages to use a portion of the funds they receive from the highway allocation fund for such purposes.

While the measure proposed no specific amounts, it would require that money spent for the trails "would never in any one fiscal year" be less than 1% of the total amount of money received from the state highway allocation fund.

The bicycle program, however, would not aplpy in those areas where such trails would "be contrary to public safety"; where the trails would be too expensive; and where the population was too sparse to warrant them.

Bill Is Introduced To Repeal Law Canceling Registration

By The Associated Press

The Nebraska law which cancels a voter's registration if he fails to vote in two successive general elections would be repealed if the Legislature enacts a bill introduced Tuesday.

The measure, LB198, was sponsored by Sens. John J. Cavanaugh III of Omaha and Gary L. Anderson of Axtell.

The purge provision was contained in an omnibus bill enacted in 1969, making assorted changes in election laws. It came to controversial light after the general election last November, when it developed that thousands of Nebraskans would need to rerigster for having missed the two general elections held since the 1969 law was enacted.

Sen Cavanaugh said Douglas County Election Commissioner Mike Boyle estimates that under the purge provision, 20,000 Omahans will be ineligible to vote in the city's April 3 primary election unless they reregister.

Cavanaugh said the purge requirement "seems totally unreasonable to me," and contrary to the general thrust of voter registration" in view of the thousands of dollars spent to encourage citizens to register.

A person might dutifully vote in primary, city and special elections but be dropped from the rolls on failing to vote in two general elections, he noted.

"It strikes hardest at the elderly and working people who normally have a more valid excuse to miss an election."

Sen Anderson said most county clerks "have been doing a conscientious job" of keeping voter registration lists up to date.

Peters Opposes Furnishing Quarterly Fiscal Reports

By The Associated Press

A bill requiring the tax commissioner to furnish quarterly fiscal reports to the Legislature drew objection from Tax Commissioner William E. Peters at a public hearing Tuesday before the Legislature's Revenue Committee.

The measure LB123, sponsored by Hastings Sen. Richard Marvel's Appropriations Committee, was held for later disposition.

The bill would require quarterly reports on state tax receipts from all sources for each of the preceding 24 months, plus quarterly projections of tax receipts for the ensuing 24 months.

Sen. Marvel said the intent was to make available to the Legislature the same information provided to the governor. But Peters said that under the bill, "we will be doing more than we are now doing for the governor."

Peters said he has not yet had a chance to determine what additional cost his office might incur in preparing the information, and said making revenue projections with expertise might give some trouble.

It was agreed that representatives of the Legislature's fiscal staff and Peters' department get together with the committee later to work out some compromise.

Also heard and held was Alliance Sen. Leslie Stull's LB42 reducing the penalties — in some cases — for delinquent remittance to the state of sales taxes collected by sellers of merchandise.

Present law prescribes a flat $25 penalty plus forfeiture of the 3% collection fee which retailers pocket. The Stull bill would provide a sliding scale of penalties of $5 to $25, with the $5 applying where the tax due is $25 or less.

Bill Would Require Report On Suspected Child Abuse

By United Press International

Sen. Shirley Marsh of Lincoln asked the Legislature Tuesday to make it a misdemeanor crime for physicians and others not to report suspected child abuse cases to law enforcement agencies.

The request was made in the form of a bill, LB207, which would require abuse reports be filed and would impose up to a $100 penalty on those who failed to file reports.

Under the present system, physicians, nurses, school employes and others may file abuse reports but they could be later subject to damage suits if the reports turned out to be false.

Under the Marsh bill, those making reports would have no choice but to make them, but at the same time they would be granted immunity from any possible legal action as a result of their actions.

The bill would require reports in any situation where life or health is endangered. Also, if youngsters under 6-years-old are left unattended in a motor vehicle a report would be required.

In addition, the measure would apply not only to youngsters, but to any "incompetent or disabled person."

Sales Regulation Bill Is Introduced

A bill regulating door-to-door selling was introduced in the Legislature Tuesday by Callaway Sen. J. James Waldron's interim study committee on advertising.

Similar legislation has been proposed in the past but has failed of enactment.

The new measure, LB212, sets out circumstances under which a buyer may cancel a purchase made from a home solicitation salesman. It also sets out assorted requirements for salesmen, designed to forestall fraud.

Omaha School Bill Is Advanced

A bill increasing the maximum building levy for the Omaha School District from four to six mills was sent to the Unicameral floor Tuesday by the Legislature's Education Committee.

The bill, LB10, is sponsored by Sen. David Stahmer of Omaha.

A public hearing was held Monday on the measure by the committee and several Omaha school officials said the law is needed to provide required construction funds.

The mill levy limit would be increased only in Omaha, under terms of the bill.

* HERE'S WHAT DISCOUNT WITH A DIFFERENCE MEANS

Our Discount with a Difference offers money-saving prices on the wide variety of high quality meats, produce and other foods which helped to build Safeway's reputation.

When we converted to discount, we made sweeping changes in operating methods. These changes, which included new pricing methods and the elimination of unnecessary merchandising expenses, reduced our cost of doing business. Our savings were immediately reflected in substantial price reductions. We introduced our every day low level prices which helped to make the discount program so popular and effective. With low prices in effect all week long, there was no longer need to postpone shopping until the weekend. Low level prices gave our customers added incentive to buy from us all of their food needs. With shopping spread more uniformly throughout the week and throughout the store, our whole business became more efficient. We streamlined ordering, stocking and price marking. We increased checkstand efficiency and lessened the possibility of errors at check out.

Savings in our costs of doing business continue to be reflected in the prices of things we sell. Shop Safeway for the finest foods and a low total food bill. That's Discount with a Difference.

Josephine Lowman

How we spend time has such an important influence on our success and happiness. A few minutes invested wisely here and there, can compound into such gratifying rewards! Unless we determine to save a small portion of time for ourselves, the days, weeks, months and years will sweep past us. They leave us with unrealized plans and dreams.

I think many women who take excellent care of their families neglect themselves in matters of diet and exercise. This is unfair to them and also to those who love them.

Start exercising regularly unless there is some medical reason for not doing so. Exercise for at least the next eight weeks, and I hope you will enjoy the benefits so much that you will make it a lifetime habit.

Here is a list of the items you will need for the reducing menus for the next three days.

Orange juice
Cottage cheese
Cinnamon
Salad greens
Celery
Radishes
Oil
Vinegar
Garlic clove
Melba toast or Holland Rusk
4 oz. ground beef
½ oz. blue cheese
Steak sauce
1 cup raw spinach leaves
Red onion rings
Lemon juice
Skim milk
Bacon
Cheese
V-8 juice
3 oz. ground round
Garlic salt
½ cup canned mushrooms (brand with butter)
1 cup canned or fresh asparagus
1 cup chopped frozen spinach leaves
One 4 oz. fillet of flounder
Grated Parmesan cheese
Paprika
1 medium potato
Fresh parsley
Cantaloupe
English muffin
Green onion
Mushrooms
Cucumber
Carrot
Green pepper or green onion
Plain yogurt
4 oz. chicken livers
Chicken bouillon
Dried rosemary
½ cup cooked rice
¼ head of lettuce
Prepared mustard

MENUS

BREAKFAST

Grapefruit—½ large one (sprinkle with dried rosemary if desired).

Cornflakes—1 cup; use artificial sweetener and part of milk.

Skim milk—8 oz.

LUNCH

Salmon-cucumber sandwich—mix 3 oz. canned red salmon (skin and bones removed) with 1 tsp. mayonnaise, 1 tbs. lemon juice, ¼ tsp. dried basil, 1 tbs. capers, 1 tsp. minced onion, and pepper to taste. Slice thin rounds from ½ cucumber. Divide cucumber slices in half. Place one layer of cucumber on a slice of whole wheat bread, top with salmon mixture, and garnish with remaining cucumber slices and a chopped green onion.

Skim milk—8 oz.

DINNER

Herbed Chicken—Mix ½ tsp. dried, crushed rosemary and 1 tbs. minced fresh parsley with 1 tsp. soft butter or margarine. Sprinkle 1 chicken leg with salt and pepper and rub with herb butter. Bake in oven until done.

Tomato-Mushroom Cup—saute 4 large mushrooms, chopped, in one tsp. of butter or margarine in small teflon pan. Season with salt, pepper, ⅛ tsp. dried tarragon, and 1 tbs. minced fresh parsley. Hollow out 1 medium tomato and fill with mushroom mixture. Roast with chicken for last 15 minutes.

Rice—½ cup cooked

Opening lead - two of hearts.

The defenders generally do best against notrump when they hammer away at one suit. But there are some hands where the proper defense is to attack on two fronts. Though such hands are comparatively rare, they can be profitably manipulated by a good defensive pair when they do occur.

Here is a fine example of fluctuating defense, where West leads his partner's suit against three notrump. East wins with the king and has to make a crucial decision at this point. If he persists with hearts, he finishes a sadder and wiser man when South collects nine tricks after taking a diamond finesse.

But if East assesses the situation properly at trick two, he defeats the contract. He should realize from surveying dummy that a heart continuation cannot lead to more than three heart tricks and a diamond for the defense. He should therefore shift to a low spade, not knowing whether West has the queen, but aware that a spade shift offers the only real chance to stop the contract.

Declarer is helpless against this attack from a new quarter. If he follows low, West wins with the queen and reverts to hearts. East takes the ace, returns the ten, and South goes down one, losing a spade, three hearts and a diamond.

Know Your Antiques

"Bottoms-up" is the only way to fill this pig bottle made by the Anna, Illinois pottery about 1890. It is decorated with a railroad map and quotations such as "with a little good old rye."
(Collection of Greenfield Village and the Henry Ford Museum, Dearborn, Michigan)

Ralph and Terry Kovel

Did you ever feel as if you had made a pig of yourself? This habit was as well known to our ancestors as it is today. Bottle makers took advantage of this saying and made pig-shaped bottles for alcoholic beverages. Blown as well as molded glass bottles shaped like pigs are known from the late 19th century. Pottery pigs were also made.

One famous pottery bottle was made by Wallace V. Kirkpatrick at Anna, Illinois in 1889. He designed and made the pig with railroad routes and town names as part of the decoration on the body of the pig. It was filled with whiskey and was probably given as a favor at a railroaders' convention. Other similar versions of these "railroad" pigs by the Anna Pottery were made about the same date. It is unknown if the slightly different wording on the bottles was the result of different moods of the artist.

Q. We have a fan that has been passed down through the family. It was made from sticks of carved ivory. There is no fabric between the sticks. The flat thin carved ivory sticks are held together by a ribbon. When the fan is closed, the sticks lay one on top of the other.

A. Fans have been used for centuries. Fans made of ivory sticks are called brise fans. It was a popular style during the late 17th century. That style remained popular until the early 19th century. After that; fans became larger and had elaborate fabrics, laces or feathers.

The brise fan was also made from tortoise shell, horn, bone, filigree, silver, wood or ivory. It was cut wafer thin to resemble lace. Some were painted or gilded. Many fans were made of overlapping uncarved sticks and painted with oils to form a picture when opened.

* HERE'S WHAT DISCOUNT WITH A DIFFERENCE MEANS

Our Discount with a Difference offers money-saving prices on the wide variety of high quality meats, produce and other foods which helped to build Safeway's reputation.

When we converted to discount, we made sweeping changes in operating methods These changes, which included new pricing methods and the elimination of unnecessary merchandising expenses, reduced our cost of doing business Our savings were immediately reflected in substantial price reductions. We introduced our every day low level prices which helped to make the discount program so popular and effective With low prices in effect all week long, there was no longer need to postpone shopping until the weekend. Low level prices gave our customers added incentive to buy from us all of their food needs. With shopping spread more uniformly throughout the week and throughout the store, our whole business became more efficient. We streamlined ordering, stocking and price marking. We increased checkstand efficiency and lessened the possibility of errors at check out.

Savings in our costs of doing business continue to be reflected in the prices of things we sell. Shop Safeway for the finest foods and a low total food bill. That's Discount with a Difference.

The News Around Town

We have the feeling that winter is sulking these days—envious of the spectacular preview that spring is blessing us with at the moment.

All good things come to an end, we've been told, but even so, spring's eventual presence is making itself known.

A group of the Lincoln Country Club's feminine tennis players are missing Nebraska's same of spring. The tennis players are in Phoenix, Ariz., where they are attending a tennis clinic which includes classes all morning and work on the courts in the afternoons.

At this time we can't give you a complete list, but we do know that among those who are looking ahead to spring, summer—and tennis—in Lincoln are Mrs. Thomas Ludwick, Mrs. Jerome Druliner, Mrs. Wayne B. Kingery, Mrs. Paul Schorr, III, Mrs. Robert Reynolds and Mrs. M. E. Whitehead, Jr.

☆☆☆☆

Other Lincoln residents either have taken off for winter homes in Florida, California or Arizona, or are just about to pack the car or board the plane for what, in a week or two, may be warmer climes.

And now the cruise season is about to begin—Cruising seems to be especially popular this winter, and one of these days we'll tell you who went where.

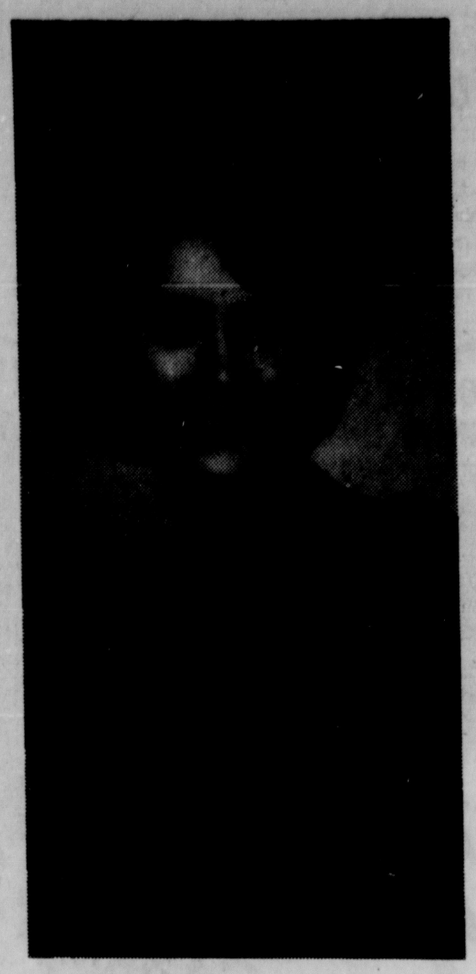
As far as Mrs. Lyle Holland is concerned she would just as soon not go-a-cruising—in a plane, that is.

Mrs. Holland's return date, after the visit with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Lebsock, and her grandchildren, Lyle Wieland, and Peter, coincided with the horrible happenings at O'Hare Airport in Chicago. Her stay in Chicago was extended for two days, but even after take-off there was some sky cruising around and around.

☆☆☆☆

And tomorrow, of course, is take-off day for a number of Nebraskans who will be attending the inauguration in Washington D.C. The pre-inauguration activities are beginning today, and the Nebraskans have a full calendar.

Saturday night will be a night of dancing at the inaugural balls.



MISS CAROL WOLLENBURG

Of special interest to Nebraska Wesleyan campus circles this morning is the announcement made by Mr. and Mrs. Theodore D. Wollenburg of DeWitt, of the engagement of their daughter, Carol, to Larry L. Meyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer F. Meyer of Humboldt.

The wedding is planned for Saturday, June 2.

Miss Wollenburg is a senior at Nebraska Wesleyan University where she is a member of Alpha Gamma Delta sorority, and where she is majoring in music education. Her honoraries are Kappa Delta Pi, Mu Phi Epsilon and Cardinal Key.

Mr. Meyer, who has completed a four-year tour of duty with the United States Navy, is a graduate of the University of Nebraska. He now is attending the Wartburg Theological Seminary in Dubuque, Iowa.

MISS JACQUELINE GRUBER

This morning Mrs. Marie Gruber of Grand Island make announcement of the engagement of her daughter, Jacqueline Marie, to David Alan Battiato, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Battiato of Fremont.

Saturday, Aug. 4, is named as the date of the wedding.

Mr. Battiato is a former student at the University of Nebraska and now is associated with a Lincoln restaurant.

PWP Plans Activities

The Lincoln Chapter of Parents Without Partners monthly sponsors a wide variety of social and educational activities for single parents.

One of the monthly activities is a group discussion — and the discussions explore informative and controversial areas of interest to the single parent.

Another of those discussion sessions will take place at 7:45 o'clock on Wednesday evening, Jan. 17, when PWP members discuss "The Divorced and the Separated," exploring such topics as: What does the New Year hold for you? Do you have to be remarried in order to enjoy life? If not, what are you going to do to avoid loneliness or develop new friendships? What kinds of relationships do you need in order to meet your needs?

Dale Hatch is in charge of reservations for the meeting.

Prospective members will have the opportunity to learn about other PWP activities at a meeting to take place at the home of Mrs. Ruth Eggerling on Thursday evening, Jan. 19.

How we spend time has such an important influence on our success and happiness A few minutes invested wisely here and there can compound into such gratifying rewards! Unless we determine to save a small portion of time for ourselves the days weeks months and years will sweep past us They leave us with unrealized plans and dreams

I think many women who take excellent care of their families neglect themselves in matters of diet and exercise This is unfair to them and also to those who love them

Start exercising regularly unless there is some medical reason for not doing so Exercise for at least the next eight weeks and I hope you will enjoy the benefits so much that you will make it a lifetime habit

Opening lead - two of hearts.

The defenders generally do best against notrump when they hammer away at one suit. But there are some hands where the proper defense is to attack on two fronts. Though such hands are comparatively rare, they can be profitably manipulated by a good defensive pair when they do occur.

Here is a fine example of fluctuating defense, where West leads his partner's suit against three notrump. East wins with the king and has to make a crucial decision at this point. If he persists with hearts, he finishes a sadder and wiser man when South collects nine tricks after taking a diamond finesse.

But if East assesses the situation properly at trick two, he defeats the contract. He should realize from surveying dummy that a heart continuation cannot lead to more than three heart tricks and a diamond for the defense. He should therefore shift to a low spade, not knowing whether West has the queen, but aware that a spade shift offers the only real chance to stop the contract.

Declarer is helpless against this attack from a new quarter. If he follows low, West wins with the queen and reverts to hearts. East takes the ace, returns the ten, and South goes down one, losing a spade, three hearts and a diamond.

If declarer goes up with the ace of spades at trick two, he runs into the same dead end. He tries the diamond finesse, which loses, and the defenders score two spades, two hearts and a diamond to bring South to justice.

West must of course also be agile in the defense when he wins the spade switch at trick two with the queen. He should return a heart, not a spade, but this is not really a hard play to make, for West can easily figure out what partner is up to.

of the land inaugural balls are far from a new experience. As the wife of the vice president, and the President of the United States, Mrs. Nixon will be donning her fourth inaugural ball gown on Saturday evening. It is, as we already have told you, blue georgette over blue crepe, but in no way does it resemble the other three.

Chit-Chat with Roxi

Teenagers have problems as do all people and whether that teenager is a girl or a boy makes no difference in the matter of worrisome questions. Talk your problems over with Roxi—Write to her in care of The Lincoln Star, Lincoln, Neb.

Dear Roxi:

My best friend just broke up with his girlfriend. I like her and I was wondering if you think it would be all right if I asked her out?

A. It would be ok if your best friend didn't mind, but he may not be completely over her and this could develop into a very sticky situation for both of you. It might be better to wait until you're positive you won't lose a friendship over a girl that may not like you.

Dear Roxi:

This boy I really liked asked me out and then he stood me up. I saw him today and he acted real friendly, like nothing had happened. What can I say to this creep?

A. You don't have to say anything. He has shown who he's fond of. It's really ridiculous when there is a world of people to fall in love with, some people choose themselves. Don't step to his low, be friendly to him, but keep your distance.

Dear Roxi:

Two boys, both of whom I like equally, have both asked me to go with them. What am I going to do? I can't go with both of them and yet I hate to lose both of them by not accepting either of them.

A. You aren't going to lose either of them by turning them down. Liking both boys equally shows you're not ready for going with either of them. Enjoy yourself and play the field. When you find the right one you will know it.

Musical Forum

"The Beatles and Bacharach" is the topic with which the members of the Musical Forum will be concerned at their meeting which will be held on Friday evening, Jan. 19.

Mrs. Robert Murphy will conduct the group discussion, and she will be assisted by Mrs. Ben Akert and Mrs. Frank Paul.

The exploration of the musicians' influences on current musical trends will take place at the 7:45 o'clock meeting for which Mrs. John Horstman will be the hostess.

Abby: tell him his nieces are minors

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My problem is with my husband, age 32, and his two nieces, ages 16 and 17. (They are sisters.)

We went to an all-night roadhouse inn to have breakfast at 2 a.m., and my husband disappeared with the 17-year-old for two hours. They said they were upstairs looking at the view.

When they came back I didn't say anything, but I was plenty mad. Whenever my husband and I take these two nieces out, he takes turns dancing with them and leaves me sitting. It's gotten so he never takes me out alone, he's always got these girls with us. He has fixed them up with dates with some of his friends who are his age, and for all I know my husband could be seeing them himself. He has disappeared for whole nights and comes home with lipstick on his shirts.

I have told the girls' mother about this and she says I am silly to worry, but I don't think I am because there was a lot of talk about incest in their family between my husband's younger brother and his older sister.

When my husband says goodby to these nieces, he kisses them on the mouth. My question? Is this healthy?

JEALOUS IN COLORADO

DEAR JEALOUS: It's not healthy, and neither is the relationship between your husband and his young nieces. Set this swinger down and talk to him like a Dutch Uncle, or that uncle will be in Dutch for fooling around with minors.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have a little problem we need help with. We have been going to a doctor for the past four years since we've moved to this town. Once, when our regular doctor was on vacation his partner filled in for him, and Abby, the partner was fantastic! I liked him so much better than my regular doctor.

My husband also had the partner and liked him better than our own.

We would like to switch over to the partner but we don't know how to go about it. We are so afraid of hurting our first doctor's feelings.

Do you happen to know how doctors feel about this sort of thing? MRS. B.

DEAR MRS. B.: I doubt that a doctor would be overjoyed to learn that a patient preferred his partner, and would like to switch. But a patient has a right to choose his own doctor — unless he goes to a clinic where it is understood that he will take whichever doctor is available.

MISS CAROL WOLLENBURG

Of special interest to Nebraska Wesleyan campus circles this morning is the announcement made by Mr. and Mrs Theodore D. Wollenburg of DeWitt, of the engagement of their daughter, Carol, to Larry L Meyer, son of Mr. and Mrs Elmer F Meyer of Humboldt

The wedding is planned for Saturday, June 2

Miss Wollenburg is a senior at Nebraska Wesleyan University where she is a member of Alpha Gamma Delta sorority, and where she is majoring in music education Her honoraries are Kappa Delta Pi. Mu Phi Epsilon and Cardinal Key.

Mr. Meyer, who has completed a four-year tour of duty with the United States Navy, is a graduate of the University of Nebraska. He now is attending the Wartburg Theological Seminary in Dubuque, Iowa

We have the feeling that winter is sulking these days—envious of the spectacular preview that spring is blessing us with at the moment

All good things come to an end, we've been told, but even so, spring's eventual presence is making itself known

A group of the Lincoln Country Club's feminine tennis players are missing Nebraska's same of spring. The tennis players are in Phoenix. Ariz., where they are attending a tennis clinic which includes classes all morning and work on the courts in the afternoons

At this time we can't give you a complete list, but we do know that among those who are looking ahead to spring, summer—and tennis—in Lincoln are Mrs Thomas Ludwick. Mrs Jerome Druliner, Mrs. Wayne B. Kingery, Mrs. Paul Schorr. III, Mrs Robert Reynolds and Mrs. M. E. Whitehead. Jr

☆☆☆☆

Other Lincoln residents either have taken off for winter homes in Florida, California or Arizona, or are just about to pack the car or board the plane for what, in a week or two, may be warmer climes.

And now the cruise season is about to begin—Cruising seems to be especially popular this winter, and one of these days we'll tell you who went where

☆☆☆☆

As far as Mrs. Lyle Holland is concerned she would just as soon not go-a-cruising—in a plane, that is.

Mrs Holland's return date, after the visit with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Lebsock, and her grandchildren, Lyle Wieland, and Peter, coincided with the horrible happenings at O'Hare Airport in Chicago. Her stay in Chicago was extended for two days, but even after take-off there was some sky cruising around and around

☆☆☆☆

And tomorrow, of course, is take-off day for a number of Nebraskans who will be attending the inauguration in Washington D C The pre-inauguration activities are beginning today, and the Nebraskans have a full calendar

Saturday night will be a night of dancing at the inaugural balls

MISS JACQUELINE GRUBER

This morning Mrs Marie Gruber of Grand Island make announcement of the engagement of her daughter, Jacqueline Marie, to David Alan Battiato, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Battiato of Fremont.

Saturday, Aug. 4. is named as the date of the wedding.

Miss Gruber is a sophomore at the University of Nebraska.

Mr. Battiato is a former student at the University of Nebraska and now is associated with a Lincoln restaurant

PWP Plans Activities

The Lincoln Chapter of Parents Without Partners monthly sponsors a wide variety of social and educational activities for single parents

One of the monthly activities is a group discussion — and the discussions explore informative and controversial areas of interest to the single parent.

Another of those discussion sessions will take place at 7:45 o'clock on Wednesday evening, Jan. 17, when PWP members discuss "The Divorced and the Separated," exploring such topics as: What does the New Year hold for you? Do you have to be remarried in order to enjoy life? If not, what are you going to do to avoid loneliness or develop new friendships? What kinds of relationships do you need in order to meet your needs?

Dale Hatch is in charge of reservations for the meeting

Prospective members will have the opportunity to learn about other PWP activities at a meeting to take place at the home of Mrs. Ruth Eggerling on Thursday evening, Jan 19

Supreme Court Says Its Decision On Double Jeopardy Is Retroactive

The New York Times

Washington — The Supreme Court ruled Tuesday that its 1970 prohibition against prosecuting a man for the same crime in both state and city courts can be invoked by prisoners who were victims of such treatment before the law was changed.

Writing a unanimous decision, Associate Justice William H. Rehnquist said that the right to avoid a second trial on the same criminal charge was a fundamental constitutional one that should properly be applied retroactively, to cover cases that had arisen in the past.

Rehnquist acknowledged that the High Court had refused, in some past cases, to allow retrospective application of such decisions, but he said that these involved "procedural rights and methods of conducting trials" rather than more basic principles that prohibited a trial together.

The case befort the court involved a Tennessee man who was convicted in 1962 in Chattanooga Municipal Court of assault and battery. On the basis of the same episode, he was later indicted by a grand jury, convicted of assault in state court and is now serving a 10-year maximum sentence in the state penitentiary.

It was not until 1969 that the Supreme Court decided the Fifth Amendment's prohibition against double jeopardy was binding on the states and until 1970 that this guarantee was held to preclude separate prosecutions for the same offense in state and municipal courts.

Texan Vows 'To Kick Out Mess'

Austin, Tex. (UPI) — West Texas rancher Dolph Briscoe Jr., wearing the cowboy boots he vowed to use to "kick out the mess in Austin," Tuesday was inaugurated as the 40th governor of Texas.

Briscoe and Lt. Gov. William P. Hobby Jr., the president and executive editor of the Houston Post, both campaigned on reform platforms in the aftermath of a statewide stock scandal which ended with the conviction of two legislators—including the speaker of the Texas House of Representatives—for bribery.

The two men took their oaths of office on a flag-decked stage at the Capitol entrance. Former President and Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson joined a crowd of 3,000 guests in cheering the new state leaders.

Lincoln Airport Authority Pleased With Security Plan

The Lincoln Airport Authority reviewed the new airport security plan Tuesday and expressed pleasure at the way the program is working.

On Jan. 6th, Airport personnel implemented a new phase in their security program—full scale screening of all passengers, including the search of all carry-on luggage.

The next security move, starting Feb. 6th, will require the airport to provide additional security personnel to be on duty 30 minutes before the flight until the aircraft takes off.

The Authority was told Tuesday that the Lincoln Police Department has offered man-hour assistance to increase security from 122 to 130 hours a week.

In other business, Authority Chairman Joe Hampton appointed a three-member committee to make recommendations to the board on possible Air Park West uses.

Ken Woods was introduced as the new sales manager for Frontier Airlines. Woods announced that Frontier is looking for office space in Lincoln to open a sales office. He has been employed by Frontier for six years in St. Louis.

Quints' Father Claims Disability

Chicago UPI) — James Baer, 30, has a $250,000 damage suit on file in Cook County Circuit Court charging he was "permanently disabled" when he was hit in the groin by a golf ball in 1970.

Baer was in the news earlier this month when his wife gave birth to quintuplets.

Chemist Claims Heptachlor Gets More Toxic In Sunlight

Washington (AP) — A chemist reported Tuesday that heptachlor, a still relatively widely used agricultural pesticide, changes in sunlight to a stable substance that is 22 times more toxic than the original compound.

Dr. Charles Hammer of Georgetown University reported finding the first proof of this in housefly, mice and other animals tests.

He said the newly uncovered substance is "considerably more toxic than DDT," which has already been banned from the market in the United States as potentially hazardous to man and animals.

"In my judgment, I think it (heptachlor) also should be removed from the market," Hammer declared.

Meanwhile, an Environmental Protection Agency spokesman said some restrictions on the registered use of heptachlor and another still relatively widely used pesticide, chlordane, will soon be recommended to the government by a special committee of EPA scientists.

The estimated yearly U.S. production of heptachlor is six million pounds, compared with 45 million for DDT in its heyday, and 200 million pounds for all insecticides presently in use.

Hammer made his statements at a news conference after making a technical report to a regional meeting of the American Chemical Society.

Historical Society Praised For Ft. Robinson Museum

The State of Nebraska and the Nebraska State Historical Society have been commended for the quality of the museum at Fort Robinson and for the preservation of buildings to serve the public.

Nebraska was one of three states recognized by the Council on Abandoned Military Posts during the organization's annual meeting last October, according to Marvin F. Kivett, director of the State Historical Society.

"The State of Nebraska and the Nebraska State Historical Society have performed a magnificent task on the preservation and memorialization of the remains of Fort Robinson," the resolution states.

Members of the non-profit, national organization and interested in the identification, preservation and restoration of old military organizations and their history, Kivett said.

FOR THE FIRST LADY

of the land inaugural balls are far from a new experience As the wife of the vice president, and the President of the United States, Mrs Nixon will be donning her fourth inaugural ball gown on Saturday evening It is, as we already have told you, blue georgette over blue crepe, but in no way does it resemble the other three.

When she attended the inaugural ball in 1957 her husband was beginning his second term as vice president, and the gown she wore is shown in the center picture At the extreme right is the inaugural ball gown she wore in 1953 — the beginning of her husband's first term as vice president under the late Dwight D Eisenhower. # Chit-Chat with Roxi

Teenagers have problems as do all people and whether that teenager is a girl or a boy makes no difference in the matter of worrisome questions. Talk your problems over with Roxi—Write to her in care of The Lincoln Star, Lincoln, Neb.

Dear Roxi:
My best friend just broke up with his girlfriend. I like her and I was wondering if you think it would be all right if I asked her out?

A. It would be ok if your best friend didn't mind, but he may not be completely over her and this could develop into a very sticky situation for both of you. It might be better to wait until you're positive you won't lose a friendship over a girl that may not like you.

Dear Roxi:
This boy I really liked asked me out and then he stood me up. I saw him today and he acted real friendly, like nothing had happened. What can I say to this creep?

A. You don't have to say anything. He has shown who he's fond of. It's really ridiculous when there is a world of people to fall in love with, some people choose themselves. Don't step to his low, be friendly to him, but keep your distance.

Dear Roxi:
Two boys, both of whom I like equally, have both asked me to go with them. What am I going to do? I can't go with both of them and yet I hate to lose both of them by not accepting either of them.

A. You aren't going to lose either of them by turning them down. Liking both boys equally shows you're not ready for going with either of them. Enjoy yourself and play the field. When you find the right one you will know it.

Musical Forum

"The Beatles and Bacharach" is the topic with which the members of the Musical Forum will be concerned at their meeting which will be held on Friday evening, Jan. 19.

Mrs. Robert Murphy will conduct the group discussion, and she will be assisted by Mrs. Ben Akert and Mrs. Frank Paul.

The exploration of the musicians' influences on current musical trends will take place at the 7:45 o'clock meeting for which Mrs. John Horstman will be the hostess.

Abby: tell him his nieces are minors

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My problem is with my husband, age 32, and his two nieces, ages 16 and 17. (They are sisters )

We went to an all-night roadhouse inn to have breakfast at 2 a.m., and my husband disappeared with the 17-year-old for two hours. They said they were upstairs looking at the view

When they came back I didn't say anything, but I was plenty mad Whenever my husband and I take these two nieces out, he takes turns dancing with them and leaves me sitting. It's gotten so he never takes me out alone, he s always got these girls with us He has fixed them up with dates with some of his friends who are his age, and for all I know my husband could be seeing them himself. He has disappeared for whole nights and comes home with lipstick on his shirts.

I have told the girls' mother about this and she says I am silly to worry, but I don't think I am because there was a lot of talk about incest in their family between my husband's younger brother and his older sister.

When my husband says goodby to these nieces, he kisses them on the mouth My question? Is this healthy?

JEALOUS IN COLORADO

DEAR JEALOUS: It's not healthy, and neither is the relationship between your husband and his young nieces. Set this swinger down and talk to him like a Dutch Uncle, or that uncle will be in Dutch for fooling around with minors.

DEAR ABBY My husband and I have a little problem we need help with We have been going to a doctor for the past four years since we've moved to this town Once, when our regular doctor was on vacation his partner filled in for him, and Abby, the partner was fantastic! I liked him so much better than my regular doctor afraid of hurting our first doctor's feelings.

Do you happen to know how doctors feel about this sort of thing? MRS. B.

DEAR MRS. B.: I doubt that a doctor would be overjoyed to learn that a patient preferred his partner, and would like to switch. But a patient has a right to choose his own doctor — unless he goes to a clinic where it is understood that he will take whichever doctor is available.

Supreme Court Says Its Decision On Double Jeopardy Is Retroactive

©The New York Times

Washington — The Supreme Court ruled Tuesday that its 1970 prohibition against prosecuting a man for the same crime in both state and city courts can be invoked by prisoners who were victims of such treatment before the law was changed.

Writing a unanimous decision, Associate Justice William H. Rehnquist said that the right to avoid a second trial on the same criminal charge was a fundamental constitutional one that should properly be applied retroactively, to cover cases that had arisen in the past.

Rehnquist acknowledged that the High Court had refused, in some past cases, to allow retrospective application of such decisions, but he said that these involved "procedural rights and methods of conducting trials" rather than more basic principles that prohibited a trial together.

The case befort the court involved a Tennessee man who was convicted in 1962 in Chattanooga Municipal Court of assault and battery. On the basis of the same episode, he was later indicted by a grand jury, convicted of assault in state court and is now serving a 10-year maximum sentence in the state penitentiary.

It was not until 1969 that the Supreme Court decided the Fifth Amendment's prohibition against double jeopardy was binding on the states and until 1970 that this guarantee was held to preclude separate prosecutions for the same offense in state and municipal courts.

Lincoln Airport Authority Pleased With Security Plan

The Lincoln Airport Authority reviewed the new airport security plan Tuesday and expressed pleasure at the way the program is working.

On Jan. 6th, Airport personnel implemented a new phase in their security program—full scale screening of all passengers, including the search of all carry-on luggage.

The next security move, starting Feb. 6th, will require the airport to provide additional security personnel to be on duty 30 minutes before the flight until the aircraft takes off.

The Authority was told Tuesday that the Lincoln Police Department has offered man-hour assistance to increase security from 122 to 130 hours a week.

In other business, Authority Chairman Joe Hampton appointed a three-member committee to make recommendations to the board on possible Air Park West uses.

Ken Woods was introduced as the new sales manager for Frontier Airlines. Woods announced that Frontier is looking for office space in Lincoln to open a sales office. He has been employed by Frontier for six years in St. Louis.

Quints' Father Claims Disability

Chicago UPI) — James Baer, 30, has a $250,000 damage suit on file in Cook County Circuit Court charging he was "permanently disabled" when he was hit in the groin by a golf ball in 1970.

Baer was in the news earlier this month when his wife gave birth to quintuplets.

Chemist Claims Heptachlor Gets More Toxic In Sunlight

Washington (AP) — A chemist reported Tuesday that heptachlor, a still relatively widely used agricultural pesticide, changes in sunlight to a stable substance that is 22 times more toxic than the original compound.

Dr. Charles Hammer of Georgetown University reported finding the first proof of this in housefly, mice and other animals tests.

He said the newly uncovered substance is "considerably more toxic than DDT," which has already been banned from the market in the United States as potentially hazardous to man and animals.

"In my judgment, I think it (heptachlor) also should be removed from the market," Hammer declared.

Meanwhile, an Environmental Protection Agency spokesman said some restrictions on the registered use of heptachlor and another still relatively widely used pesticide, chlordane, will soon be recommended to the government by a special committee of EPA scientists.

The estimated yearly U.S. production of heptachlor is six million pounds, compared with 45 million for DDT in its heyday, and 200 million pounds for all insecticides presently in use.

Hammer made his statements at a news conference after making a technical report to a regional meeting of the American Chemical Society.

Historical Society Praised For Ft. Robinson Museum

The State of Nebraska and the Nebraska State Historical Society have been commended for the quality of the museum at Fort Robinson and for the preservation of buildings to serve the public.

Nebraska was one of three states recognized by the Council on Abandoned Military Posts during the organization's annual meeting last October, according to Marvin F. Kivett, director of the State Historical Society.

"The State of Nebraska and the Nebraska State Historical Society have performed a magnificent task on the preservation and memorialization of the remains of Fort Robinson," the resolution states.

Members of the non-profit, national organization and interested in the identification, preservation and restoration of old military organizations and their history, Kivett said.

Heath To Visit U.S.

Washington (UPI) — British Prime Minister Edward Heath's previously-announced visit to Washington will take place Feb. 1-2.

Texan Vows 'To Kick Out Mess'

Austin, Tex. (UPI) — West Texas rancher Dolph Briscoe Jr., wearing the cowboy boots he vowed to use to "kick out the mess in Austin," Tuesday was inaugurated as the 40th governor of Texas.

Briscoe and Lt. Gov. William P. Hobby Jr., the president and executive editor of the Houston Post, both campaigned on reform platforms in the aftermath of a statewide stock scandal which ended with the conviction of two legislators—including the speaker of the Texas House of Representatives—for bribery.

The two men took their oaths of office on a flag-decked stage at the Capitol entrance. Former President and Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson joined a crowd of 3,000 guests in cheering the new state leaders.

TREAD WEAR EXPECTANCY

Because of variable driving habits and road conditions under which tires are used, it is impractical for Montgomery Ward, and conceivably misleading to our customers, to guarantee any specific number of months or miles of tread wear. We can, however, indicate the wear potential we have built into our tires in terms of service in normal family use. If a Riverside tire wears down to the tread wear indicators during the Tread Wear Expectancy, Montgomery Ward will upon presentation of the tire and evidence of date of purchase replace the tire for the then current price less the following dollar allowance:

| Tread Wear Expectancy | Tread Wearout Allowance Prorated on Miles Driven |

Hospital Emergency Service Consolidation Is Opposed

Representatives of Lincoln's three major general hospitals and the county medical society told the Lincoln Hospital and Health Council Tuesday that they believe hospital emergency services should not be consolidated.

The comments came in response to a resolution adopted by LHHC in October, when it asked the groups to study a number of issues and report back this month.

Although the hospital administrators and the physicians agreed on the matter of maintaining separate emergency rooms, they parted ways on a matter related to pharmaceutical supplies.

It asked views on possible establishent of a city-wide "common pharmaceutical formulary and the cost benefit to patients."

Such a formulary might help eliminate the duplication of identical pharmaceutical items, under various names, in pharmacies.

On that question, the medical society said it was vehemently opposed, while the hospital administrators said they believed the idea is "basically very sound and feasible."

The responses, along with responses to two other questions, were referred to the LHHC medical facilities committee.

One of the other matters was a suggestion that no more acute-care medical-surgical beds should be added in the community after next Dec. 1 unless an 80% occupancy has been reached in all accredited hospitals.

Neither the medical society nor the hospitals opposed the suggestion.

And finally, the medical society deferred to the administrators on how legal matters had affected hospital and medical costs, and the administrators cited several such factors.

The main issue was the matter of emergency service consolidation, which was opposed in the responses.

Both the doctors and the hospital administrators from Bryan Memorial, St. Elizabeth and Lincoln General said such a consolidation would not be wise.

They noted each of the hospitals treats about the same number of emergency cases each month, and said consolidation in one facility would require construction to meet needs.

They also noted that locations of the hospitals provides quick access from many parts of the city, and they said that emergency cases must be treated at any hospital to which they come.

The county medical society, on the pharmaceutical atter, said "such a mandatory formulary would completely remove any semblance of quality control of drugs and intra-venous solutions from the patient's physician and place it in the hands of the pharmacists.

"This (pharmaceutical) profession has recently added itself to the large number of groups who are trying to wrest the practice of medicine from the physician and gather it themselves," the county medical society said.

"The substitution without permission of a drug which the physician specifically desires to display in any given case removes his judgment factor and makes him nothing else than a technician."

The hospitals said such control of medication dispensing should include all health-care institutions, and said the "cooperation and support of the medical community" would be essential to success of such a venture.

In other matters, the hospital and health council was told that the executive committee had decided not to recommend any expanded membership or changes in representation to include more non-hospital and non-physician provider members.

The matter had been under study. Instead, the executive committee urged and the council approved appointment of a nominating committee to review current member participation.

The LHHC also:

—approved a proposal from the Door Health Center Inc. to seek funds from the Regional Medical Program for a three-month pilot operation of a referral center for low-income residents of the community. The center would attempt to document any gaps between available medical service and service provided to the poor.

—voted to inform a coalition opposing construction of the Northeast Radial that LHHC could not join in the coalition but would be interested in any information on possible environmental health factors associated with its construction.

—endorsed a Lincoln Technical College proposal to provide a centralized service for staff training and development in hospitals and nursing homes.

—referred to the facilities committee a Milder Manor proposal to add 50 beds.

City Council Hospital Ok Tax Plan

The City Council Monday approved a memorandum of understanding between the city and Lincoln General Hospital providing for in lieu of tax payments on the One North Building at the hospital.

The building, which is owned by the city and is tax exempt as a result, is being remodeled to serve as a physicians' office facility.

The agreement provides that the city shall determine the in lieu of tax rate by Sept. 1st of each year which shall be paid by the Lincoln Hospital Association. The council will be responsible for distribution of the money.

HOPE SAID FULFILLED

The election poster "Bring Us Together" held by Vicki Lynne Cole inspired the 1968 inaugural theme of President Nixon and now she says she thinks he has fulfilled that hope. The 17-year-old high school senior from Carey, Ohio, believes Nixon has succeeded in calming and uniting the nation, especially through his trip to China and Russia.

Hecht Named Senior Vice President; Yaussi Says NBC Has Profitable Year

Ross E. Hecht was promoted to senior vice president by the board of directors of the National Bank of Commerce (NBC) during the annual stockholders meeting Monday.

Hecht, 41, has served as vice president of marketing at NBC. He was named in 1972 as the coordinating officer in charge of remodeling and the bank's move to its temporary headquarters at 13th and N.

Glenn Yaussi, president of NBC Co., the one-bank holding company whose principal asset is the National Bank of Commerce, reviewed the yearend holding company figures.

"Today's financial picture is a rapidly changing one," Yaussi said, "and our organizational structure has allowed us to continue a profitable return to the stockholders of NBC Co."

NBC Co. has three other related subsidiaries: Mutual Savings Co., Peterson Building Corp. (Rampark) and Travel Unlimited. Their assets, liabilities and capital figures are included in the NBC Co. yearend figures.

Total assets for NBC Co. as of Dec. 31, 1972, were $205,193,525 compared to $184,239,318 in 1971, an increase of 11.37%.

Net operating income in 1972 was $2.38 a share, compared to $1.99 a share last year, Yaussi reported.

After deducting $.35 a share for "extraordinary deductions," net income per share in 1972 was $2.03.

"The action by NBC Co. Board of Directors authorizing construction of a bank and office building on the site of the existing bank resulted in the one-time extraordinary depreciation deduction reducing per share net income," Yaussi said.

Capital account increased from $12,074,013 in 1971 to $13,087,284 as of Dec. 31.

Area Residents Oppose Proposed Zone Change

A proposed change of zone at 36th and Pioneers Blvd. drew opposition from most of the citizens attending a neighborhood information meeting Tuesday night.

Austin Realty Co. is proposing to develop a 14-acre tract into 76 dwelling units, composed of single family homes, duplexes and townhouses.

The City-County Planning Commission will hold a public hearing on the application for Austin's change of zone from A-1 Single to A-2 Single Family at 2:30 Wednesday.

Gerald Schleich of Austin Realty and George Williamson, chairman of the planning commission explained the proposal and procedures to the approximately 60 people attending the session at the Southgate United Methodist Church, 3500 Pioneers Blvd.

Schleigh told the group that the townhouses would be two-and-a-half stories high, would face an interior street and would be sold — not rented.

Williamson outlined the procedures the group could use in supporting or opposing the proposal before the planning commission and City Council.

Residents expressed concern over increased density if the plan was approved with the possible, effects of overcrowding schools and increasing traffic in the area.

Several citizens pointed out that the Department of Roads has designated the area in question as a possible alternate to the Hwy. 2-Pioneers Blvd. corridor.

Williamson said he was "completely in the dark" as to what the Department of Roads has in mind, saying "So far, they haven't presented the planning commission with any plans."

Although most citizens decided to urge the planning commission to turn down the zoning change, they said they liked the community unit plan as presented — only with fewer housing units. Under the present A-1 zoning, 56 units would be built instead of 76.

However, several property owners opted not to sign the petition opposing the measure, saying they thought the plan "looked pretty good."

Suit Dismissed

Oakland, Calif. (UPI) — Buttes Gas & Oil Co. said the California Superior Court has dismissed the $100 million suit of Occidental Petroleum against Buttes charging breach of contract and unfair competition in the Persian Gulf region. A similar lawsuit by Occidental was dismissed earlier.

CSS Claims Young Addicts Not Benefitted

New York (UPI) — A private social agency said that young drug addicts in the city had not particularly benefitted from a three-year program aimed at their rehabilitation.

The Community Services Society of New York City (CSS), the city's oldest and largest voluntary private social agency, said the program operated by the city with state funds had given little attention to the planning, spending, procedures and operating standards of the city's youthful drug abuser program.

Col. Irwin Will Visit Union College

Apollo 15 astronaut, Col. James Irwin, will visit Union College campus for about two hours Friday, according to G. Glenn Davenport, director of college relations.

Irwin will hold a press conference at 10:30 a.m., address the student body in the collee auditorium at 11:10 a.m., and be guest speaker at a noon luncheon in the college cafeteria, Davenport said.

Irwin, along with Col. D. R. Scott and Maj. A. M. Worden were in space from July 26 to Aug. 7, 1971.

Irwin and Scott spent three days on the moon, including about 18 hours outside the spacecraft.

Davenport said the public is invited to attend the talk in the auditorium and-or the noon luncheon.

Legal Service Society Aids 1,213

A total of 2,534 persons applied for free legal services from the Lincoln Legal Service Society, Inc., according to the organization's annual report for the fiscal year Oct. 1, 1971, to Sept. 30, 1972.

Of those applying for help, 1,213 were accepted, 885 received advice only and 436 were referred elsewhere.

During the previous fiscal year, 2,109 applied and 951 were accepted.

The annual report noted that attorneys spent 1,270 hours interviewing clients, and 540 hours in court. They also spent 3,749 hours dealing with client problems, 612 hours with community groups and 1,939 hours training and doing research.

Attorneys for the organization attended 169 public meetings, drafted five legislative bills, litigated 10 group cases (law reform) and litigated a total of 305 cases altogether.

The final tally shows 189 cases won, 34 lost and 82 settled.

Of those applicants accepted for help last year, the greatest number—854— were from the 22-to-44-year age group. A total of 193 were 16-to 21-year-olds, and 131 were 45-to 64-year-olds. Only 35 were 65 years old or older.

Family income of those accepted was generally in the $1,500 to below eligibility guidelines bracket—676 persons were in that category. Some 299 persons had annual family incomes of $499 or less, and 238 said their incomes were between $500 and $1,499, the report said.

A breakdown of sources of accepted applicants showed 139 were referred by attorneys or courts; 54 by poverty programs; 83 by another participant; 414 had previously been served; 130 by publicity; 206 by social welfare agencies and 187 by other means.

The number of clients employed at the time of acceptance was 462; 751 were unemployed.

A total of 490 were visiting an attorney for the first time.

Staff attorneys are H. Bruce Hamilton, director, David M. Geier, Douglas K. German, David L. Piester, David G. Challed and William H. Nollkamper III.

Board members include Louis Finkelstein, president; Larry Langdale, vice president, and Marie Payne, secretary-treascrer. Other members are Dennis Burchard, R. P. Cathcart, David Dow, Lee Kills Enemy, Herbert J. Friedman, Robert T. Grimit, Barbara Meyer, A. Ruth Miller, Charles Pallesen and Marietta Warren.

Man Is Stabbed By Hitchhiker On Interstate

Omaha (UPI) —A 45-year-old Omaha man was listed in satisfactory condition at Bergan-Mercy Hospital after being stabbed in the stomach Monday night by a youthful hitchhiker on Interstate 29 near Missouri Valley, Iowa.

Eugene E. Miller told authorities he was returning to Omaha about 8:45 p.m. from a dinner with friends in Denison, Iowa, when he stopped to pick up a male hitchhiker. The youth appeared to be aged 12 to 16.

Miller opened the car door and the youth reached over, stabbed him and asked for money.

After regaining consciousness several hours later, Miller drove back to Omaha.

Protestant Dies; Kneecaps Shot Off 3 Catholics

Belfast, Northern Ireland (AP) — Police found the body of a 22-year-old Protestant militiaman crammed into the trunk of a car Tuesday on the fringe of the Catholic Lower Falls district.

Guerrilla terror squads also shot the kneecaps off three young Roman Catholics — the traditional punishment the Irish Republican Army hands out to informers.

Authorities believe the part-time soldier of the Ulster Defense Regiment was killed Monday when guerrillas hijacked his car for a bomb raid in the city center. He was shot in the head and his car used as a getaway vehicle for the bombers.

He was the 688th known fatality in Northern Ireland's 3½ years of sectarian bloodletting and the 26th Ulster Defense man to die.

Halaby Quits Pan American

New York (AP) — Najeeb E. Halaby, former president of Pan American World Airways, resigned as a director of the airline Tuesday, effective immediately, the company announced.

Halaby was ousted from the presidency Dec. 1, 1971, in a move linked to the airline's financial difficulties. He was succeeded by William T. Seawell, who later was given the additional title of chairman.

Hospital Emergency Service Consolidation Is Opposed

Representatives of Lincoln's three major general hospitals and the county medical society told the Lincoln Hospital and Health Council Tuesday that they believe hospital emergency services should not be consolidated.

The comments came in response to a resolution adopted by LHHC in October, when it asked the groups to study a number of issues and report back this month.

Although the hospital administrators and the physicians agreed on the matter of maintaining separate emergency rooms, they parted ways on a matter related to pharmaceutical supplies.

It asked views on possible establishent of a city-wide "common pharmaceutical formulary and the cost benefit to patients."

Such a formulary might help eliminate the duplication of identical pharmaceutical items, under various names, in pharmacies.

On that question, the medical society said it was vehemently opposed, while the hospital administrators said they believed the idea is "basically very sound and feasible."

The responses, along with responses to two other questions, were referred to the LHHC medical facilities committee.

One of the other matters was a suggestion that no more acute-care medical-surgical beds should be added in the community after next Dec. 1 unless an 80% occupancy has been reached in all accredited hospitals.

Neither the medical society nor the hospitals opposed the suggestion.

And finally, the medical society deferred to the administrators on how legal matters had affected hospital and medical costs, and the administrators cited several such factors.

The main issue was the matter of emergency service consolidation, which was opposed in the responses.

Both the doctors and the hospital administrators from Bryan Memorial, St. Elizabeth and Lincoln General said such a consolidation would not be wise.

They noted each of the hospitals treats about the same number of emergency cases each month, and said consolidation in one facility would require construction to meet needs.

They also noted that locations of the hospitals provides quick access from many parts of the city, and they said that emergency cases must be treated at any hospital to which they come.

The county medical society, on the pharmaceutical atter, said "such a mandatory formulary would completely remove any semblance of quality control of drugs and intra-venous solutions from the patient's physician and place it in the hands of the pharmacists.

"This (pharmaceutical) profession has recently added itself to the large number of groups who are trying to wrest the practice of medicine from the physician and gather it themselves," the county medical society said.

"The substitution without permission of a drug which the physician specifically desires to display in any given case removes his judgment factor and makes him nothing else than a technician."

The hospitals said such control of medication dispensing should include all health-care institutions, and said the "cooperation and support of the medical community" would be essential to success of such a venture.

In other matters, the hospital and health council was told that the executive committee had decided not to recommend any expanded membership or changes in representation to include more non-hospital and non-physician provider members.

The matter had been under study. Instead, the executive committee urged and the council approved appointment of a nominating committee to review current member participation.

The LHHC also:

—approved a proposal from the Door Health Center Inc to seek funds from the Regional Medical Program for a three-month pilot operation of a referral center for low-income residents of the community. The center would attempt to document any gaps between available medical service and service provided to the poor.

—voted to inform a coalition opposing construction of the Northeast Radial that LHHC could not join in the coalition but would be interested in any information on possible environmental health factors associated with its construction.

—endorsed a Lincoln Technical College proposal to provide a centralized service for staff training and development in hospitals and nursing homes.

—referred to the facilities committee a Milder Manor proposal to add 50 beds.

City Council Hospital Ok Tax Plan

The City Council Monday approved a memorandum of understanding between the city and Lincoln General Hospital providing for in lieu of tax payments on the One North Building at the hospital.

The building, which is owned by the city and is tax exempt as a result, is being remodeled to serve as a physicians' office facility.

The agreement provides that the city shall determine the in lieu of tax rate by Sept. 1st of each year which shall be paid by the Lincoln Hospital Association. The council will be responsible for distribution of the money.

HOPE SAID FULFILLED

The election poster "Bring Us Together" held by Vicki Lynne Cole inspired the 1968 inaugural theme of President Nixon and now she says she thinks he has fulfilled that hope. The 17-year-old high school senior from Carey, Ohio, believes Nixon has succeeded in calming and uniting the nation, especially through his trip to China and Russia.

Schleigh told the group that the townhouses would be two-and-a-half stories high, would face an interior street and would be sold — not rented.

Williamson outlined the procedures the group could use in supporting or opposing the proposal before the planning commission and City Council.

Residents expressed concern over increased density if the plan was approved with the possible, effects of overcrowding schools and increasing traffic in the area

Several citizens pointed out that the Department of Roads has designated the area in question as a possible alternate to the Hwy. 2-Pioneers Blvd. corridor.

Williamson said he was "completely in the dark" as to what the Department of Roads has in mind, saying "So far, they haven't presented the planning commission with any plans."

Although most citizens decided to urge the planning commission to turn down the zoning change, they said they liked the community unit plan as presented — only with fewer housing units. Under the present A-1 zoning, 56 units would be built instead of 76.

However, several property owners opted not to sign the petition opposing the measure, saying they thought the plan "looked pretty good."

Suit Dismissed

Oakland, Calif. (UPI) — Buttes Gas & Oil Co. said the California Superior Court has dismissed the $100 million suit of Occidental Petroleum against Buttes charging breach of contract and unfair competition in the Persian Gulf region. A similar lawsuit by Occidental was dismissed earlier

Hecht Named Senior Vice President; Yaussi Says NBC Has Profitable Year

Ross E. Hecht was promoted to senior vice president by the board of directors of the National Bank of Commerce (NBC) during the annual stockholders meeting Monday.

Hecht, 41, has served as vice president of marketing at NBC. He was named in 1972 as the coordinating officer in charge of remodeling and the bank's move to its temporary headquarters at 13th and N.

Glenn Yaussi, president of NBC Co., the one-bank holding company whose principal asset is the National Bank of Commerce, reviewed the yearend holding company figures.

"Today's financial picture is a rapidly changing one," Yaussi said, "and our organizational structure has allowed us to continue a profitable return to the stockholders of NBC Co."

NBC Co. has three other related subsidiaries: Mutual Savings Co., Peterson Building Corp. (Rampark) and Travel Unlimited. Their assets, liabilities and capital figures are included in the NBC Co. yearend figures.

Total assets for NBC Co. as of Dec. 31, 1972, were $205,193,525 compared to $184,239,318 in 1971, an increase of 11.37%.

Net operating income in 1972 was $2.38 a share, compared to $1.99 a share last year, Yaussi reported.

After deducting $.35 a share for "extraordinary deductions," net income per share in 1972 was $2.03.

"The action by NBC Co. Board of Directors authorizing construction of a bank and office building on the site of the existing bank resulted in the one-time extraordinary depreciation deduction reducing per share net income," Yaussi said.

Capital account increased

Ross Hecht

from $12,074,013 in 1971 to $13,087,284 as of Dec. 31.

Col. Irwin Will Visit Union College

Apollo 15 astronaut, Col. James Irwin, will visit Union College campus for about two hours Friday, according to G. Glenn Davenport, director of college relations

Irwin will hold a press conference at 10:30 a.m., address the student body in the collee auditorium at 11:10 a.m., and be guest speaker at a noon luncheon in the college cafeteria, Davenport said

Irwin, along with Col. D R. Scott and Maj. A. M. Worden were in space from July 26 to Aug 7, 1971.

Irwin and Scott spent three days on the moon, including about 18 hours outside the spacecraft

Davenport said the public is invited to attend the talk in the auditorium and-or the noon luncheon.

CSS Claims Young Addicts Not Benefitted

New York (UPI) — A private social agency said that young drug addicts in the city had not particularly benefitted from a three-year program aimed at their rehabilitation.

The Community Services Society of New York City (CSS), the city's oldest and largest voluntary private social agency, said the program operated by the city with state funds had given little attention to the planning, spending, procedures and operating standards of the city's youthful drug abuser program.

Legal Service Society Aids 1,213

A total of 2,534 persons applied for free legal services from the Lincoln Legal Service Society, Inc., according to the organization's annual report for the fiscal year Oct. 1, 1971, to Sept. 30, 1972.

Of those applying for help, 1,213 were accepted, 885 received advice only and 436 were referred elsewhere.

During the previous fiscal year, 2,109 applied and 951 were accepted

The annual report noted the attorneys spent 1,270 hours interviewing clients, and 540 hours in court They also spent 3,749 hours dealing with client problems, 612 hours with community groups and 1,929 hours training and doing research

Attorneys for the organization attended 169 public meetings, drafted five legislative bills, litigated 10 group cases (law reform) and litigated a total of 305 cases altogether.

The final tally shows 183 cases won, 34 lost and 82 settled.

Of those applicants accepted for help last year, the greatest number—854— were from the 22-to-44-year age group. A total of 193 were 16-to 21-year-olds, and 131 were 45-to 64-year-olds, Only 35 were 65 years old or older.

Family income of those accepted was generally in the $1,500 to below eligibility guidelines bracket—676 persons were in that category. Some 299 persons had annual family incomes of $499 or less, and 238 said their incomes were between $500 and $1,499, the report said.

A breakdown of sources of accepted applicants showed 139 were referred by attorneys or courts; 54 by poverty programs; 83 by another participant; 414 had previously been served; 130 by publicity; 206 by social welfare agencies and 187 by other means.

The number of clients employed at the time of acceptance was 462; 751 were unemployed.

Man Is Stabbed By Hitchhiker On Interstate

Omaha (UPI) —A 45-year-old Omaha man was listed in satisfactory condition at Bergan-Mercy Hospital after being stabbed in the stomach Monday night by a youthful hitchhiker on Interstate 29 near Missouri Valley, Iowa.

Eugene E Miller told authorities he was returning to Omaha about 8:45 p.m from a dinner with friends in Denison, Iowa, when he stopped to pick up a male hitchhiker. The youth appeared to be aged 12 to 16.

Miller opened the car door and the youth reached over, stabbed him and asked for money

Protestant Dies; Kneecaps Shot Off 3 Catholics

Belfast, Northern Ireland (AP) — Police found the body of a 22-year old Protestant militiaman crammed into the trunk of a car Tuesday on the fringe of the Catholic Lower Falls district

Guerrilla terror squads also shot the kneecaps off three young Roman Catholics — the traditional punishment the Irish Republican Army hands out to informers

Authorities believe the part-time soldier of the Ulster Defense Regiment was killed Monday when guerrillas hijacked his car for a bomb raid in the city center. He was shot in the head and his car used as a getaway vehicle for the bombers.

He was the 688th known fatality in Northern Ireland's 3½ years of sectarian bloodletting and the 26th Ulster Defense man to die.

Halaby Quits Pan American

New York (AP) — Najeeb E Halaby, former president of Pan American World Airways resigned as a director of the airline Tuesday, effective immediately, the company announced.

Halaby was ousted from the presidency Dec 1, 1971, in a move linked to the airline's financial difficulties He was succeeded by William T Seawell, who later was given the additional title of chairman.

County Board Defers Action On Several Business Items

By GERRY SWITZER
Star Staff Writer

One new business and two old business items placed on the advance agenda by Lancaster Commissioners for action Tuesday were deferred Tuesday by the board until Jan. 30.

The commissioners also approved adding three "emergency items" to the agenda which is now prepared on the Friday prior to the Tuesday meeting.

In announcing the new procedures which began this week, the board noted that the items for the agenda would not be accepted after 12 noon on Friday unless the board acted to accept them Tuesday for the agenda on an emergency basis.

The board deferred until Jan. 30 action on a report from the Committee on Commitment Procedures which was presented to them on Dec. 19 at which time the commissioners had deferred action for one week.

The commissioners indicated Tuesday that they had not had an opportunity to meet with the committee since the report was presented. The committee was appointed by the commissioners last March to study a more humane approach to the commitment of the mentally ill.

A second long-standing item placed on the agenda by board members, which was also deferred until Jan. 30 was the recommendations of the Goals and Policies Committee.

At the suggestion of Deputy County-City Planning Director Stanley Ryker, the board agreed to discuss among themselves the recommendations and then meet with the Planning Department before setting a hearing for adopting the recommendations as guidelines.

New Commissioner Jan Gauger suggested that a joint city and county public hearing be held rather than having each group hold a separate hearing.

Also deferred until Jan. 30 was discussion of the holidays for county employes.

The commissioners, who had met with Mayor Sam Schwartzkopf concerning the holiday situation at an unannounced session prior to the 10 a.m. session where agenda matters are now discussed, agreed to meet with elected officials and department heads to discuss the holiday situation.

The session of the mayor, which was arranged by Mrs. Gauger, according to Board Chairman Robert Colin was to discuss the problems the city has with additional holidays, the commissioners said.

Mayor Schwartzkopf told The Star that he was merely informed he was to meet with the county board at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday with no mention of the 10 a.m. session. He said, however, that he had no conflict and could have appeared at the 10 a.m. session.

In action on one of the emergency items added to the agenda, the board voted for the county to become a part of the Lincoln Technical College District.

In a letter received by the commissioners several months ago, it was noted that the law provides that if the counties didn't commit themselves to technical college districts by Jan. 1, 1973, the Legislature would assign counties to districts.

The board also approved emergency items directing the county treasurer to invest $500,000 and approving the county's administration of a Law Enforcement Assistance Federal Grant.

County Assignments Cause Slight Conflict

A slight conflict erupted Tuesday between County Board Chairman Robert Colin and veteran Commissioner Kenneth Bourne when Colin announced his appointments of board members to committees and responsibilities.

Bourne, who said he had been the board representative on the Civil Defense Advisory Committee for 14 years, challenged Colin when he announced that he had appointed himself (Colin) to that spot.

Bourne said that the last information he had from Colin was that he would be reappointed to that committee.

Colin contended that he thought each of the board members should have an opportunity to serve in various capacities.

Colin said that as earlier announced the County-City Building Committee, which will meet Wednesday, is being reorganized, and all three commissioners will now serve on the committee which formerly had only two members.

Other appointments made by Colin include:

Public Welfare Board, all three commissioners; Community Emergency, Shop, City Parks and Recreation and Air Pollution Advisory Council, Bourne; Health Board, Lancaster Office of Mental Retardation, Lincoln Action Program and Legislature, Jan Gauger, and Lancaster Manor, Westview, Civil Defense and Crime Commission, Colin.

—Approved purchase of copy machine for Commissioners' officee.

2 Adult Book Stores Are Being Reopened

Lincoln's two Adult Book and Cinema Stores, closed since Jan. 3 after a Lincoln Police raid on the 27th and Holdrege store, are being reopened, according to manager John Serafine.

Both stores were open Saturday. However, so far this week only the downtown store at 11th and N has been open.

Serafine said the 27th and Holdrege store would remain closed until it was cleaned. He said the former management had left it in poor condition.

One of the things standing in the way of the stores' reopening was that all merchandise was attached by creditors on Jan. 5 and held by Lincoln Municipal Court.

However, Serafine said the creditors had been paid and all the merchandise returned at the end of last week.

Four high-grade misdemeanor charges are still pending in Lancaster County Court against Serafine in connection with the stores' operation.

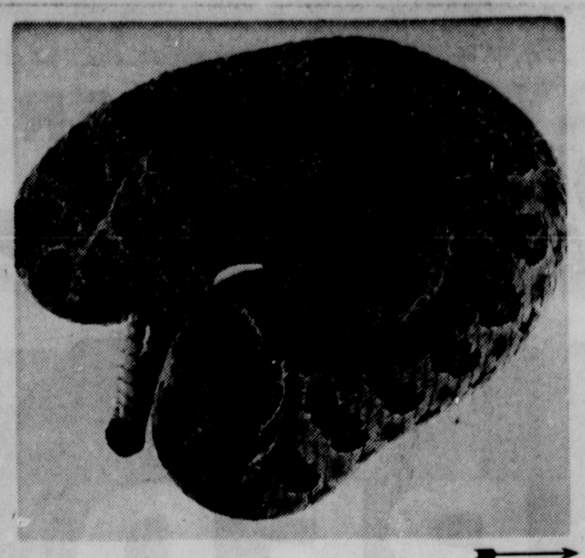
A preliminary hearing on the charges is set for Jan. 22. Serafine is out on $2,500 bond.

The charges each carry a penalty of up to one year in jail and-or up to a $1,000 fine.



RATTLESNAKE . . . may lose pet status.

Enforcing Pinball Laws To Begin Soon—Douglas

Enforcement of a state statute which apparently prohibits pinball machines from awarding free games is still being delayed, but should begin soon, according to Lancaster County Attorney Paul Douglas.

Douglas said Tuesday that his office would soon send letters to distributors and operators of pinball machines requesting compliance with state law.

Douglas indicated that the letters would have been sent last week, but that he had been tied up with work.

The plans to send the letters had been delayed earlier because Douglas was too tied up with work to meet with Lincoln Police Department officials following their initial investigation.

Although pinball machines in the state have been awarding free games for years, Omaha authorities announced over six weeks ago that they would begin enforcing the law, and Lincoln police officials said on Dec. 8 that they would follow suit.

Inspector Robert Sawdon said that the Lincoln Police Department is operating under the guidance of the (Lancaster) County Attorney's office in initiating enforcement of the law.

John Long, manager of the Golden Cue at 1907 O St., says he has made changes in pinball play at his establishment in order to comply with the law and indicated disappointment that the announced enforcement has been so long in coming.

"It's just that anybody that is trying to be honest is in an extremely disadvantageous position economically," he said.

Caudillo Trial Begins March 12 In North Platte

North Platte (UPI) — A March 12 trial date has been set for Joseph Caudillo, 21, of North Platte, accused in the Aug. 26, 1972, gunshot slaying of Daniel Silos, 27, also of North Platte.

It was the city's only gunshot slaying of the year.

A motion by Caudillo's attorney that would have resulted in dismissal of the case was denied by Judge Hugh Stuart in Lincoln County District Court Monday.

Attorney William S. Padley of Ogallala had told the court it was never proven that second degree murder had occurred, but that the act was one of self defense and was accidental. The motion was denied by the court.

Court spokesmen said the trial would probably last approximately one week.

City Council Will Consider Proposal Outlawing Keeping Poisonous Reptile

By LYNN ZERSCHLING
Star Staff Writer

Some Lincolnites' idea of the perfect pet bring frowns, "ughs" and "icks" from the average citizen.

Those "pets"—including rattlers, cobras and coperheads—would be outlawed under a proposal being considered by the City Council.

In response to complaints about people keeping poisonous snakes as pets, the Council will hold a public hearing next Monday on a proposed ordinance which would make it illegal for anyone to own or harbor any poisonous reptile within the city limits.

However, the proposal does allow public or municipal zoos to display such reptiles as exhibits.

Last fall several dead snakes, one determined to be an alien eastern diamondback rattler, turned up dead in Lincoln.

Bernard Patton, director of the Humane Society, confirmed that "last summer we had a couple of snakes turn up dead," but added that he has not received any complaints on live ones.

If the ordinance is approved, Lincolnites will have to visit such venomous snakes in the zoo.

However, no such snakes currently are kept at either the Children's Zoo or Antelope Zoo.

Bob Spencer, director of the Children's Zoo, said the zoo does keep scorpians and tarantulas, but, "We don't want to promote the keeping of poisonous snakes."

"As professionals," he said, "even we don't like to handle them—and we don't want to condone the keeping of such snakes to young people."

Spencer reported that there is no supply of anti-snake venom in this area.

"We're not prepared for it," he said, adding that Kansas City is probably the closest place to send for the antidote.

However, Spencer did note that the zoo has kept rattlers in the past—"about four in the last eight years." Those snakes were either abandoned or given to the zoo.

"We either released them in the native area or released them to the State Game Commission," he said.

Both Spencer and Patton said they know of several people in Lincoln who keep poisonous snakes.

Monte Cole, 800 Eldon Dr., is one of them.

"I have about four or five rattlers now," he said, adding that he and others planned to appear at the public hearing Monday to protest the ordinance.

Lincoln Gazette Sponsoring March To Protest Viet War

A Vietnam war protest march sponsored by the Lincoln Gazette is tentatively set for shortly after President Richard Nixon's inaugural address on Saturday, according to Ron Kurtenbach of the Lincoln Gazette.

Kurtenbach said anybody interested would be provided an opportunity to hear President Nixon's address at the United Ministries for Higher Education chapel at 333 No. 14th.

Provided that President Nixon did not say anything to "redeem" himself, Kurtenbach said, the march would begin from that location.

He said that stops along the path of the march would include Rep. Charles Thone's Lincoln office, the U.S. Selective Service System's offices in the Terminal Building, and the International Business Machines office.

Kurtenbach said the "peaceful and nonviolent" march would end at the State Capitol. He said activities are being organized at the Capitol rotunda by Nebraskans for Peace.

Kurtenbach said organizers were applying for a parade permit for the march.

PONY-U Head Plans To Speak On Catechetics

The president of PONY-U, a national group of parents devoted to parental rights in education, will speak in Lincoln Thursday at 8 p.m.

James Likoudis of Buffalo, N.Y., will discuss "What's Wrong with Modern-Day Catechetics?" at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Cannon, 3141 Prairie Rd.

The public is welcome, Mrs. Cannon said.

Likoudis, also vice-president of CREDO, an association of Catholic priests and laity, has published more than 60 articles on sex education, catechetics and the history of theology.

The nation-wide lecturer and moderator of the New York TV series "Sex and Morality" is a former professor at Rosary Hill in Buffalo and at St. Johns Seminary in New York state.

He is on the advisory staff of Catholics United for the Faith and writes for "American Ecclesiastical Review" and "Social Justice Review."

Alcohol Official Outlines What Is Suitable In Bars

Baton Rouge, La. (UPI) — Alcoholic beverage control commissioner Virgil D. Joffrion said Tuesday that bars should sell liquor and not skin so he was prepared a three-page report defining what is suitable for nightclubs, including those of the New Orleans French Quarter.

Joffrion said as far as he knew there are no places in Louisiana that feature live sex shows and only three bars with topless dancers.

"But I want to prevent people from coming into Louisiana and setting up this type of operation," he said.

Don Moul Tells NACCA To Keep Informed On Laws

Stepping down as president of the Nebraska Association of Child Care Agencies (NACCA) Don Moul of Lincoln's Family Service Association advised that the group keep informed with legislative matters regarding youth.

He also spoke of the Nebraska Committee for Children and Youth and Community Coordinated Child Care as key organizations with which the NACCA should keep close contact.

Gathered for the group's annual meeting Tuesday at the Villager Convention Center, 5200 O, were more than 50 members from across the state.

The morning program featured a talk and slide presentation on developmental child care by Miss LaDonna Ockinga, director of Lincoln child care centers.

Speaking during the afternoon session was James Arnot, director of the Lincoln Youth Service Bureau and the Lincoln Youth Service System.

Newly elected officers for 1973 include: president, Bill Heger, Christian Home in Council Bluffs, Iowa; president-elect, Paul Carney, Nebraska Center for Children and Youth, Lincoln; secretary Bernice Katskee, Lincoln, and ad hoc committee chairman, Jane Toole, State Department of Institutions.

Continuing to serve on the board of directors are: Robert Petersen, Kearney; Don Best, Geneva, and Alan Berk, Omaha.

Probe Continues In Reported Loss Of Cash, Checks

Omaha (AP) — Omaha police Tuesday were investigating the reported disappearance of $758 in cash and more than $70,000 in checks from the cashier's office at Archbishop Bergan-Mercy Hospital.

Officers said it had not been determined if the receipts from Saturday and Sunday were stolen or misplaced.

Police said a part-time worker who had access to a safe was to be questioned.

Police said the woman told them she has frequent blackouts and cannot remember anything that happened between 2:30 and 5 p.m. Sunday, when whe was alone in the office.

John Wick, manager of clerical services at the hospital, told police the office safe is kept open during business hours. He reported the disappearance to police at 7 p.m. Sunday.

Poisoned Bait Ban Blamed For Losses

Washington (AP) — Nine western senators say a federal ban on poisoned bait has caused increased killing of calves and lambs by coyotes.

They signed a joint letter to Secretary of Interior Rogers C. B. Morton asking protection of livestock from predators.

The senators said sheep and cattle ranchers reported an upswing in losses to predators soon after the government banned interstate shipments and the use of poisons on federal lands last February.

"These ranchers definitely deserve and need more assistance than is being given them," the letter said. "In an effort to help them out, we would appreciate knowing your intentions."

Sen. Clifford P. Hansen, R-Wyo., one of the signers, said in a statement that "the loss of sheep is on the rise and the problem has increased to the points where calves are being reported as lost to coyotes."

The poison ban was ordered after it was learned that bald and golden eagles had been killed.

Signers of the letter included Nebraska's Republican Sens. Carl Curtis and Roman Hruska.

Shirley Robins Named To Board

The appointment of Shirley Robins of Omaha to the State Board of Nursing was announced Tuesday by Gov. J. J. Exon.

She replaces Kathleen Cheney of Omaha, whose term expired.

NOTICE TO TELEPHONE CUSTOMERS

We are planning increases in the rates for some out-of-state calls.

The American Telephone and Telegraph Company has filed a new schedule of interstate rates with the Federal Communications Commission which increases charges for some customer-dialed calls during weekday business hours, for some operator-assisted calls, for some person-to-person calls, and for WATS (Wide Area Telecommunications Service).

All rates for interstate Long Distance calls you dial yourself without operator assistance in the evenings, at night, and on weekends will remain unchanged.

The new rates for Long Distance calls become effective on January 22, 1973. The new rates for WATS become effective on March 13, 1973, unless suspended by the FCC.

Interim rates and supporting data have been filed with the Federal Communications Commission. The increases for Long Distance calls have been authorized by the FCC on an interim basis to be effective January 22, 1973. The FCC will conduct additional hearings on the lawfulness of the rates, and FCC rules permit any interested persons to appear and participate.

This will be only the second general increase in interstate Long Distance rate levels in almost 20 years. During this period, in spite of inflation, interstate Long Distance rates have been reduced repeatedly. Even with this increase, the level of the new rates will still be below the 1953 level. Yet in those 20 intervening years, the cost of living has gone up more than 50 percent. The new rates are designed to increase total revenues from interstate service by about two percent.

1. Some of the rates for station-to-station calls you dial yourself without operator assistance from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday, will be increased five cents or 10 cents for the first three minutes.
2. Some of the rates in all time periods for operator-assisted station-to-station calls (that includes credit-card, collect, third-number, hotel-guest, and coin telephone calls) will be increased five cents for the first three minutes.
3. Some rates for person-to-person calls in all time periods will be increased five cents or 10 cents for the first three minutes.
4. The rates for each additional minute on some calls in all time periods will be raised in a range from one cent to five cents.
5. Interstate WATS rates will be increased about two percent.
6. Rates for station-to-station calls you dial yourself without operator assistance during evenings, nights, or weekends will remain the same.

Examples of Long Distance rates for coast to coast calls

| | | Station-to-Station Dial-it-Yourself | Station-to-Station Operator-Assisted | Person-to-Person |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| Weekends | 8 a.m. to 11 p.m. Sat. and 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Sun. | 70¢ first 3 minutes | $1.40 first 3 minutes | $3.55 first 3 minutes |
| Evenings | 5 p.m. to 11 p.m. Sun. through Fri. | 85¢ first 3 minutes | $1.40 first 3 minutes | $3.55 first 3 minutes |
| Nights | 11 p.m. to 8 a.m. daily | 35¢* first minute (minimum call) | $1.40 minimum call (3 minutes) | $3.55 minimum call (3 minutes) |
| Weekdays | 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Mon. through Fri. | $1.45 first 3 minutes | $1.85 first 3 minutes | $3.55 first 3 minutes |

Rates shown (tax is not included) are for the days, hours and durations indicated, and for the types of calls specified at the head of the columns. Rates may be even less, of course, on out-of-state calls for shorter distances.
Dial-it-yourself rates apply on all interstate calls (excluding Hawaii and Alaska) completed from a residence or business phone without operator assistance. They also apply on calls placed with an operator from a residence or business phone where direct dialing facilities are not available. Dial-direct rates do not apply to person-to-person, coin, hotel-guest, credit-card, or collect calls, or to calls charged to another number, because an operator must assist on such calls.
*One minute minimum calls available only at the times shown, and additional minutes are 20¢ each, coast to coast.

Gas Well Told

Dallas (UPI) — Texas International Co. said a subsidiary has brought in a major new gas well on the southeast flank of the Little Pecan Lake Field in Caneron Parish, Louisiana. The well is producing 9.1 million cubic feet of gas daily and 230 barrels of condensate from two zones at depths of 12,000 and 12,800 feet.

Mishaps Damage Half The Autos Of Ford In Year

Washington (AP) —A study by Ford Motor Co. has shown that more than half of the company's cars are damaged in collisions every year.

"The report suggests that at least some of the delicateness is, in Ford's view, designed into its vehicles," said the Insurance Institute for Highway Safety.

The institute released the Ford study, which had been distributed to several insurance firms after its completion in April, 1972.

Ford confirmed the study is legitimate, but declined immediate comment on the insurance institute's conclusions.

Detroit Busing Rehearing Set

Cincinnati, Ohio (AP) — A federal appeals court ordered on Tuesday a rehearing of arguments on a controversial plan designed to desegregate city schools in Detroit and 52 suburban districts.

The 6th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals vacated an earlier order in which it agreed with U.S. District Court findings of segregation in the districts. It said it would hear oral arguments Feb. 8 on a massive busing plan.

Plant Planned

Middleton, Ohio (UPI) — Armco Steel Corp. will join Marsteel Corp. of Manila in building a moly-cop grinding ball plant in the Philippines. Armco will have a minority stake in the venture.

County Board Defers Action On Several Business Items

By GERRY SWITZER
Star Staff Writer

One new business and two old business items placed on the advance agenda by Lancaster Commissioners for action Tuesday were deferred Tuesday by the board until Jan. 30.

The commissioners also approved adding three "emergency items" to the agenda which is now prepared on the Friday prior to the Tuesday meeting.

In announcing the new procedures which began this week, the board noted that the items for the agenda would not be accepted after 12 noon on Friday unless the board acted to accept them Tuesday for the agenda on an emergency basis.

The board deferred until Jan. 30 action on a report from the Committee on Commitment Procedures which was presented to them on Dec. 19 at which time the commissioners had deferred action for one week.

The commissioners indicated Tuesday that they had not had an opportunity to meet with the committee since the report was presented. The committee was appointed by the commissioners last March to study a more humane approach to the commitment of the mentally ill.

A second long-standing item placed on the agenda by board members, which was also deferred until Jan. 30 was the recommendations of the Goals and Policies Committee.

At the suggestion of Deputy County-City Planning Director Stanley Ryker, the board agreed to discuss among themselves the recommendations and then meet with the Planning Department before setting a hearing for adopting the recommendations as guidelines.

New Commissioner Jan Gauger suggested that a joint city and county public hearing be held rather than having each group hold a separate hearing.

Also deferred until Jan. 30 was discussion of the holidays for county employes.

The commissioners, who had met with Mayor Sam Schwartzkopf concerning the holiday situation at an unannounced session prior to the 10 a.m. session where agenda matters are now discussed, agreed to meet with elected officials and department heads to discuss the holiday situation.

The session of the mayor, which was arranged by Mrs. Gauger, according to Board Chairman Robert Colin was to discuss the problems the city has with additional holidays, the commissioners said.

Mayor Schwartzkopf told The Star that he was merely informed he was to meet with the county board at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday with no mention of the 10 a.m. session. He said, however, that he had no conflict and could have appeared at the 10 a.m. session.

In action on one of the emergency items added to the agenda, the board voted for the county to become a part of the Lincoln Technical College District.

In a letter received by the commissioners several months ago, it was noted that the law provides that if the counties didn't commit themselves to technical college districts by Jan. 1, 1973, the Legislature would assign counties to districts.

The board also approved emergency items directing the county treasurer to invest $500,000 and approving the county's administration of a Law Enforcement Assistance Federal Grant.

County Assignments Cause Slight Conflict

A slight conflict erupted Tuesday between County Board Chairman Robert Colin and veteran Commissioner Kenneth Bourne when Colin announced his appointments of board members to committees and responsibilities.

Bourne, who said he had been the board representative on the Civil Defense Advisory Committee for 14 years, challenged Colin when he announced that he had appointed himself (Colin) to that spot.

Bourne said that the last information he had from Colin was that he would be reappointed to that committee.

Colin contended that he thought each of the board members should have an opportunity to serve in various capacities.

Colin said that as earlier announced the County-City Building Committee, which will meet Wednesday, is being reorganized, and all three commissioners will now serve on the committee which formerly had only two members.

Other appointments made by Colin include:

Public Welfare Board, all three commissioners; Community Emergency, Shop, City Parks and Recreation and Air Pollution Advisory Council, Bourne; Health Board, Lancaster Office of Mental Retardation, Lincoln Action Program and Legislature, Jan Gauger, and Lancaster Manor, Westview, Civil Defense and Crime Commission, Colin.

2 Adult Book Stores Are Being Reopened

Lincoln's two Adult Book and Cinema Stores, closed since Jan. 3 after a Lincoln Police raid on the 27th and Holdrege store, are being reopened, according to manager John Serafine.

Both stores were open Saturday. However, so far this week only the downtown store at 11th and N has been open.

Serafine said the 27th and Holdrege store would remain closed until it was cleaned. He said the former management had left it in poor condition.

One of the things standing in the way of the stores' reopening was that all merchandise was attached by creditors on Jan. 5 and held by Lincoln Municipal Court.

However, Serafine said the creditors had been paid and all the merchandise returned at the end of last week.

Four high-grade misdemeanor charges are still pending in Lancaster County Court against Serafine in connection with the stores' operation.

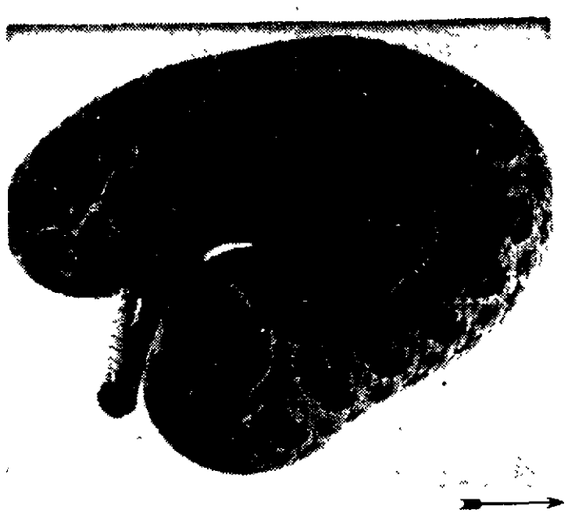
A preliminary hearing on the charges is set for Jan. 22. Serafine is out on $2,500 bond.

The charges each carry a penalty of up to one year in jail and-or up to a $1,000 fine



RATTLESNAKE . . . may lose pet status.

Enforcing Pinball Laws To Begin Soon—Douglas

Enforcement of a state statute which apparently prohibits pinball machines from awarding free games is still being delayed, but should begin soon, according to Lancaster County Attorney Paul Douglas.

Douglas said Tuesday that his office would soon send letters to distributors and operators of pinball machines requesting compliance with state law.

Douglas indicated that the letters would have been sent last week, but that he had been tied up with work.

The plans to send the letters had been delayed earlier because Douglas was too tied up with work to meet with Lincoln Police Department officials following their initial investigation.

Although pinball machines in the state have been awarding free games for years, Omaha authorities announced over six weeks ago that they would begin enforcing the law, and Lincoln police officials said on Dec. 8 that they would follow suit.

Inspector Robert Sawdon said that the Lincoln Police Department is operating under the guidance of the (Lancaster) County Attorney's office in initiating enforcement of the law.

John Long, manager of the Golden Cue at 1907 O St., says he has made changes in pinball play at his establishment in order to comply with the law and indicated disappointment that the announced enforcement has been so long in coming.

"It's just that anybody that is trying to be honest is in an extremely disadvantageous position economically," he said.

Caudillo Trial Begins March 12 In North Platte

North Platte (UPI) — A March 12 trial date has been set for Joseph Caudillo, 21, of North Platte, accused in the Aug. 26, 1972, gunshot slaying of Daniel Silos, 27, also of North Platte.

It was the city's only gunshot slaying of the year.

A motion by Caudillo's attorney that would have resulted in dismissal of the case was denied by Judge Hugh Stuart in Lincoln County District Court Monday.

Attorney William S. Padley of Ogallala had told the court it was never proven that second degree murder had occurred, but that the act was one of self defense and was accidental. The motion was denied by the court.

Court spokesmen said the trial would probably last approximately one week.

City Council Will Consider Proposal Outlawing Keeping Poisonous Reptile

By LYNN ZERSCHLING
Star Staff Writer

Some Lincolnites' idea of the perfect pet bring frowns, "ughs" and "icks" from the average citizen.

Those "pets"—including rattlers, cobras and copperheads—would be outlawed under a proposal being considered by the City Council.

In response to complaints about people keeping poisonous snakes as pets, the Council will hold a public hearing next Monday on a proposed ordinance which would make it illegal for anyone to own or harbor any poisonous reptile within the city limits.

However, the proposal does allow public or municipal zoos to display such reptiles as exhibits.

Last fall several dead snakes, one determined to be an alien eastern diamondback rattler, turned up dead in Lincoln.

Bernard Patton, director of the Humane Society, confirmed that "last summer we had a couple of snakes turn up dead," but added that he has not received any complaints on live ones.

If the ordinance is approved, Lincolnites will have to visit such venomous snakes in the zoo.

However, no such snakes currently are kept at either the Children's Zoo or Antelope Zoo.

Bob Spencer, director of the Children's Zoo, said the zoo does keep scorpians and tarantulas, but, "We don't want to promote the keeping of poisonous snakes."

"As professionals," he said, "even we don't like to handle them—and we don't want to condone the keeping of such snakes to young people."

Spencer reported that there is no supply of anti-snake venom in this area.

"We're not prepared for it," he said, adding that Kansas City is probably the closest place to send for the antidote.

However, Spencer did note that the zoo has kept rattlers in the past—"about four in the last eight years." Those snakes were either abandoned or given to the zoo.

"We either released them in the native area or released them to the State Game Commission," he said.

Both Spencer and Patton said they know of several people in Lincoln who keep poisonous snakes

Monte Cole, 800 Eldon Dr., is one of them.

"I have about four or five rattlers now," he said, adding that he and others planned to appear at the public hearing Monday to protest the ordinance.

Lincoln Gazette Sponsoring March To Protest Viet War

A Vietnam war protest march sponsored by the Lincoln Gazette is tentatively set for shortly after President Richard Nixon's inaugural address on Saturday, according to Ron Kurtenbach of the Lincoln Gazette

Kurtenbach said anybody interested would be provided an opportunity to hear President Nixon's address at the United Ministries for Higher Education chapel at 333 No. 14th.

Provided that President Nixon did not say anything to "redeem" himself, Kurtenbach said, the march would begin from that location.

He said that stops along the path of the march would include Rep. Charles Thone's Lincoln office, the U.S. Selective Service System's offices in the Terminal Building, and the International Business Machines office

Kurtenbach said the "peaceful and nonviolent" march would end at the State Capitol. He said activities are being organized at the Capitol rotunda by Nebraskans for Peace.

Kurtenbach said organizers were applying for a parade permit for the march.

Don Moul Tells NACCA To Keep Informed On Laws

Stepping down as president of the Nebraska Association of Child Care Agencies (NACCA) Don Moul of Lincoln's Family Service Association advised that the group keep informed with legislative matters regarding youth.

He also spoke of the Nebraska Committee for Children and Youth and Community Coordinated Child Care as key organizations with which the NACCA should keep close contact.

Gathered for the group's annual meeting Tuesday at the Villager Convention Center, 5200 O, were more than 50 members from across the state.

The morning program featured a talk and slide presentation on developmental child care by Miss LaDonna Ockinga, director of Lincoln child care centers.

Speaking during the afternoon session was James Arnot, director of the Lincoln Youth Service Bureau and the Lincoln Youth Service System.

Newly elected officers for 1973 include: president, Bill Heger, Christian Home in Council Bluffs, Iowa; president-elect, Paul Carney, Nebraska Center for Children and Youth, Lincoln; secretary Bernice Katskee, Lincoln, and ad hoc committee chairman, Jane Toole, State Department of Institutions.

Continuing to serve on the board of directors are: Robert Petersen, Kearney; Don Best, Geneva, and Alan Berk, Omaha.

Poisoned Bait Ban Blamed For Losses

Washington (AP) — Nine western senators say a federal ban on poisoned bait has caused increased killing of calves and lambs by coyotes.

They signed a joint letter to Secretary of Interior Rogers C. B. Morton asking protection of livestock from predators.

The senators said sheep and cattle ranchers reported an upswing in losses to predators soon after the government banned interstate shipments and the use of poisons on federal lands last February.

"These ranchers definitely deserve and need more assistance than is being given them," the letter said. "In an effort to help them out, we would appreciate knowing your intentions."

Sen. Clifford P. Hansen, R-Wyo., one of the signers, said in a statement that "the loss of sheep is on the rise and the problem has increased to the points where calves are being reported as lost to coyotes."

The poison ban was ordered after it was learned that bald and golden eagles had been killed.

Signers of the letter included Nebraska's Republican Sens. Carl Curtis and Roman Hruska.

PONY-U Head Plans To Speak On Catechetics

The president of PONY-U, a national group of parents devoted to parental rights in education, will speak in Lincoln Thursday at 8 p.m.

James Likoudis of Buffalo, N.Y., will discuss "What's Wrong with Modern-Day Catechetics?" at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Cannon, 3141 Prairie Rd.

The public is welcome, Mrs. Cannon said.

Likoudis, also vice-president of CREDO, an association of Catholic priests and laity, has published more than 60 articles on sex education, catechetics and the history of theology.

The nation-wide lecturer and moderator of the New York TV series "Sex and Morality" is a former professor at Rosary Hill in Buffalo and at St. Johns Seminary in New York state.

He is on the advisory staff of Catholics United for the Faith and writes for "American Ecclesiastical Review" and "Social Justice Review."

Alcohol Official Outlines What Is Suitable In Bars

Baton Rouge, La. (UPI) — Alcoholic beverage control commissioner Virgil D. Jeffrion said Tuesday that bars should sell liquor and not skin so he was prepared a three-page report defining what is suitable for nightclubs, including those of the New Orleans French Quarter.

Jeffrion said as far as he knew there are no places in Louisiana that feature live sex shows and only three bars with topless dancers.

"But I want to prevent people from coming into Louisiana and setting up this type of operation," he said.

Probe Continues In Reported Loss Of Cash, Checks

Omaha (AP) — Omaha police Tuesday were investigating the reported disappearance of $75% in cash and more than $70,000 in checks from the cashier's office at Archbishop Bergan-Mercy Hospital.

Officers said it had not been determined if the receipts from Saturday and Sunday were stolen or misplaced.

Police said a part-time worker who had access to a safe was to be questioned.

Police said the woman told them she has frequent blackouts and cannot remember anything that happened between 2:30 and 5 p.m. Sunday, when whe was alone in the office.

John Wick, manager of clerical services at the hospital, told police the office safe is kept open during business hours. He reported the disappearance to police at 7 p.m. Sunday.

Shirley Robins Named To Board

The appointment of Shirley Robins of Omaha to the State Board of Nursing was announced Tuesday by Gov. J. J. Exon.

She replaces Kathleen Cheney of Omaha, whose term expired.

NOTICE TO TELEPHONE CUSTOMERS

We are planning increases in the rates for some out-of-state calls.

The American Telephone and Telegraph Company has filed a new schedule of interstate rates with the Federal Communications Commission which increases charges for some customer-dialed calls during weekday business hours, for some operator-assisted calls, for some person-to-person calls, and for WATS (Wide Area Telecommunications Service).

All rates for interstate Long Distance calls you dial yourself without operator assistance in the evenings, at night, and on weekends will remain unchanged.

The new rates for Long Distance calls become effective on January 22, 1973. The new rates for WATS become effective on March 13, 1973, unless suspended by the FCC.

Interim rates and supporting data have been filed with the Federal Communications Commission. The increases for Long Distance calls have been authorized by the FCC on an interim basis to be effective January 22, 1973. The FCC will conduct additional hearings on the lawfulness of the rates, and FCC rules permit any interested persons to appear and participate.

This will be only the second general increase in interstate Long Distance rate levels in almost 20 years. During this period, in spite of inflation, interstate Long Distance rates have been reduced repeatedly. Even with this increase, the level of the new rates will still be below the 1953 level. Yet in those 20 intervening years, the cost of living has gone up more than 50 percent. The new rates are designed to increase total revenues from interstate service by about two percent.

Here are the provisions of the new interstate rates:

1. Some of the rates for station-to-station calls you dial yourself without operator assistance from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday, will be increased five cents or 10 cents for the first three minutes.
2. Some of the rates in all time periods for operator-assisted station-to-station calls (that includes credit-card, collect, third-number, hotel-guest, and coin telephone calls) will be increased five cents for the first three minutes.
3. Some rates for person-to-person calls in all time periods will be increased five cents or 10 cents for the first three minutes.
4. The rates for each additional minute on some calls in all time periods will be raised in a range from one cent to five cents.
5. Interstate WATS rates will be increased about two percent.
6. Rates for station-to-station calls you dial yourself without operator assistance during evenings, nights, or weekends will remain the same.

Examples of Long Distance rates for coast to coast calls

| | | Station to Station Dial it Yourself | Station to Station Operator-Assisted | Person-to-Person |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| Weekends | 8 a m to 11 p m Sat. and 8 a m to 5 p m Sun | 70¢ first 3 minutes | $1.40 first 3 minutes | $3.55 first 3 minutes |
| Evenings | 5 p m to 11 p m Sun through Fri | 85¢ first 3 minutes | $1.40 first 3 minutes | $3.55 first 3 minutes |
| Nights | 11 p m to 8 a m daily | 35¢* first minute (minimum call) | $1.40 minimum call (3 minutes) | $3.55 minimum call (3 minutes) |
| Weekdays | 8 a m to 5 p m Mon. through Fri | $1.45 first 3 minutes | $1.85* first 3 minutes | $3.55 first 3 minutes |

Rates shown (tax is not included) are for the days, hours and durations indicated, and for the types of calls specified at the head of the columns. Rates may be even less of course, on out of state calls for shorter distances.
Dial it yourself rates apply on all interstate calls (excluding Hawaii and Alaska) completed from a residence or business phone without operator assistance. They also apply on calls placed with an operator from a residence or business phone where direct dialing facilities are not available. Dial direct rates do not apply to person to person, coin, hotel guest, credit card, or collect calls or to calls charged to another number because an operator must assist on such calls.
*One minute minimum calls available only at the times shown, and additional minutes are 20¢ each coast to coast.

AT&T

POSTCARD by Stan Delaplane

I got up at the unholy hour of 5:30 to be on deck as we came under the Golden Gate Bridge. The new cruise ship "Spirit of London" is home.

There were quite a number of hardy spirits in the warm Union Jack bar — it was cold as billy-o outside. Gloomy gray skies. Drizzling rain fell on deck.

They were serving coffee. A sleepy brown steward from Goa stood at the urn.

I said, "Can I get a little brandy to lace into this."

He said, "The bar is closed sair. We are in U.S. waters."

I thought: "What am I doing up at this hour? I drive over the bridge every day."

We came under, the golden fog lights glowing. I went out and looked up. The view is better from the top, friends. If anybody tells you to get up at 5:30 to see the underside, forget it.

☆ ☆ ☆

Home is where the bills are. Home is where the phone rings. Home is where — "Daddy, what did you bring us "

The mailman cometh. But he cometh in his own sweet time.

The airmail from the Canal Zone — urgent newspaper copy — took a week! The airmail — urgent — from Miami took six days!

Airplane tickets I needed desperately — marked "certified" and all sorts of rush instructions — took four days to cross the bridge I drove in a half hour! Forwarded by air to Curacao — eight day cushion — they never got there.

"Neither snow nor rain nor heat nor gloom of night stays these couriers from the swift completion of their appointed rounds."

That's the Post Office. If this keeps up, we're going to hire a rewrite man and chisel a new motto.

☆ ☆ ☆

I knew when I got on the "Spirit of London" it was a matter of Burke's Law.

"If anything can go wrong, it will."

Material I was mailing in arrived by ox cart. A courier from Caracas simply disappeared.

A package of copy, specially marked, the supervisor warned by Telex, was lost for two frantic days.

Scratchy phone calls came to the ship: "Hello! Hello! Your Monday copy is missing! Hello I can't hear you."

☆ ☆ ☆

I wired in 2,000 words from the ship. First time. Do you know that ships — modern ships —do this by Morse? Tapping on a key?

I said to the radio operator: "Do you know I used to do this with the boy in the next block? Using a coil of copper wire wrapped around a Quaker Oats carton."

We get TV and voice from the moon, but we tap it out by Morse from a ship? Dit-dit-dit-dit, dit, dit-dah-dit-dit, dit-dah-dit-dit.

Home again. (I have a slight cold, too. Next week pneumonia.) I said: "Did you get my wire?" My secretary said: "What wire?"

I said: "Where's the cooking sherry?"

ASTROLOGICAL FORECAST

☆ By SIDNEY OMARR ☆

Forecast For Wednesday

Ask Aries and Sagittarius for advice and you will be paying those signs great compliments. But Gemini might not be so pleased preferring not to be confused by the problems of others.

☆ ☆ ☆

ARIES (March 21-April 19): What appears to be a giveaway could do something entirely different. No one is giving you something for nothing. Cycle is high but you must exercise caution where legal documents enter picture. Do some double-checking.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Confinement restrictions are highlighted. Make the most of time you spend alone. Remember that being alone is not same as being lonely. Club, group, hospital or institution is featured. Health and work command your attention

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Dispute could arise among friends. Some of your plans are revised. Be willing to accept innovations. Virgo could play key role. Road to romance is apt to be bumpy. Sense of humor can be valuable ally.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Attention centers around home base and practical issues. There are changes which could be upsetting. Security may appear threatened. Settlement is postponed. Talk with family member is imperative.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Check reservations. Communications tend to be disrupted misinterpreted. Avoid travel unless absolutely necessary. Examine long-range goals. Don't fool yourself. See persons as they really exist, not merely as you would like them to be.

VIRGO (Aug 23-Sept. 22): Guard valuables. Take nothing for granted Get promises in writing. Assume responsibility for your own welfare. Others may not be equipped to do job. Opportunity is great if you are willing to work overtime.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Process of tearing down occurs for purpose of rebuilding. Do plenty of listening observing. Finish rather than begin projects. Let others show their hands. Hold something in reserve. You can successfully play waiting game.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Fresh point of view is necessary. Delay, setback — these are but temporary. Stick to style and principles. Show consideration toward one who handicapped or confined. Keep health resolutions. Avoid extremes

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): You may be confused because of emotional tug-of-war. You are drawn between old loyalities and new desires. Lovers' quarrel could result. Strive to know these conditions are not long lasting. Maintain self-esteem.

CAPRICORN Dec. 20-Jan. 19th): Restlessness prevails. Necessary to find outlet for energies. Imprint your style. Help family members but know you have your own life to live. Sagittarian could confide problem. Don't cast first stone.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): One who asks you to run errand may not be aware of traffic conditions. Protect yourself. Don't promise more than you can deliver. Avoid trying to do too much at once Relative may be unreasonable.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Count your change. Be wary of individual who seems to be a supersalesman. Check percentages, interest rates. No one is handing you anything on proverbial silver platter. Kow it and act accordingly.

IF TODAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY you are a spiritual person, concerned with the welfare of others. Pressure of family problems willl be lifted in March. Your most significant month of 1973 is likely to be June. You have an affinity for Pisces persons.

Hearings Set For Protection Of Newsmen

Washington (AP) — A Senate subcommittee plans to begin hearings Feb. 20 on various measures to protect newsmen from being compelled to disclose confidential news sources and information.

Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., in announcing the plans Monday, referred to the legislation as "a means of protecting the people's right to be informed."

Caution Equals Defeat

If there's one thing that's marked the last five Super Bowls, it's the fact that none of them have been super.

And in all five instances, the team making its first Super Bowl appearance played like it was trying to protect a 10-point lead with one minute to play.

They've given every appearance of being afraid to do anything except take the snap from center and fall on the ball to avoid making a mistake.

In each of the last five games, the losing team in the Super Bowl was there for the first time and in each case its manner of play bore little resemblance to its style of play during the season.

"Washington just didn't have the edge against Miami that they did against us." commented Dallas Cowboys' coach Tom Landry, whose Cowboys lost to the Redskins in the NFC championship game.

Washington didn't look like Washington Sunday. Baltimore didn't look like the Colts when they lost to the Jets, 16-7. Ditto Minnesota in its 35-7 loss to Kansas City, Dallas in its 16-13 defeat by Baltimore and Miami a year ago in losing to Dallas 24-3.

Repeaters React Better

In the first case, the winner, the Jets, were such decided underdogs that there was no pressure on them. If they made mistakes, they'd be simply doing what was expected of them.

But in the latter four cases, the winner has been a team that had been there before against a loser that hadn't.

You can credit it to being better prepared to react to the pressure, but you might also credit it to the fact that they had learned that playing it too close to the vest was not the way to win.

Every team that has made a repeat trip to the Super Bowl has shown a more flamboyant attack than it had in its previous appearance and than its opponent, in the Super Bowl for the first time, was showing.

First-time coaches in the Super Bowl have seemed mesmerized by their game plan of establishing a running game even when trailing and not going anywhere on the ground.

On the other hand, the second-time-around coach has opened his attack and has come away with the trophy.

Carnival Might Have Helped

Washington coach Geoege Allen blamed his Redskins' problems Sunday on the carnival atmosphere that preceded the Super Bowl.

Perhaps the Redskins would have been more ready to play had he taken them to a carnival instead of protecting them rigidly from what he called distractions.

While Allen was guarding his old men as if they were cub scouts on their first camping trip, Miami, coach Don Shula permitted his players to be themselves, even staging a small party of beer and hamburgers for them the night before the game.

Shula knew how to cope with the pre-game pressures. Allen obviously did not.

"It's a tough row to hoe if you haven't gone through it and you don't know what to expect," Landry points ut.

"The second time we were there, we took the attitude that Don Shula took this time. You just have to bear with it and don't let it worry you. It's just something to put up with."

Hopefully, one of these years both Super Bowl teams will have been there before. Then maybe the game will really be a super one.

DiMaggio, Mantle Disagree On AL's New Rule

NEW YORK (AP) — Two New York Yankee hitting immortals found themselves at odds Tuesday over the American League's new experiment permitting a designated pinchhitter to bat for the pitcher.

"I think it's great — it's a change, and if there's anything baseball needs it's change" said Joe DiMaggio, whose 56-game hitting streak is one of the game's proudest records.

"I'm not sure the rule will do what it's intended to do, and that is produce more hits and runs," commented Mickey Mantle, the man who stepped into DiMag's shoes in 1952.

DiMaggio and Mantle were special guests, along with modern Yankee Bobby Murcer and pro football's all-time great quarterback Johnny Unitas, at a New York luncheon kicking off the American Airlines Golf Classic at the El Conquistador Hotel in San Juan, Puerto Rico, Feb. 2-4.

This is the tournament in which top National Football League and major league baseball stars team up and fight it out with brassies and fourirons.

Murcer, 25, the Yankees' newest candidate for super star status, struck a moderate stance—somewhere between that of DiMaggio and Mantle.

"I think basball needs to keep up with the times and make changes," Murcer. in a turtle neck shirt and wearing his hair modishly long, said. "But there's a lot to what Mickey says about the rule helping the pitcher."

"Pitching is 90 per cent of baseball," argued Mantle, casual in an open-throated shirt and sport coat. "This experimental rule of the American League is intended to open up the game and make it more interesting for the spectators.

"I think it could have just the opposite effect. It gives the pitcher more rest and makes him twice as tough.

"Besides, I don't think they should be tampering with baseball so much. Why not keep it as it is? I'm against raising the mound, shortening the fences and all that sort of stuff.

"After all, what keeps baseball going? What keeps it so interesting? It's the records. People always are talking about records. Babe Ruth's home runs. Winning streaks. Pitching streaks.

"Eliminate records and the game loses a lot of its romance. Yet that's what we are doing. We are making records easier to erase."

DiMaggio, conservatively attired in a business suit, white shirt and tie and still a majestic-looking figure at 190 pounds, insists that records are made to be broken.

"People ask me about my 56-game hitting streak," he said. "Sure, this rule might make it possible for someone to break my record. But it doesn't bother me. I'm proud of it because every hit was a legitimate hit. But records don't last.

"Pro football is always on the alert to keep its game interesting. Such as moving the hash marks in this year to produce a better running game. Baseball must do the same.

" I'm for change. One change I especially want is competition between the two leagues. I think it has to come."

DiMaggio and Mantle agreed on one point—the designated pinch-hitter rule is bound to prolong the baseball life of aging sluggers such as Hank Aaron and Willie Mays, but it wouldn't have done much for either of them.

"I couldn't play any more," said DiMag. "Injuries got me. My shoulder hurt so badly I couldn't bring the bat around any more."

"I got so I couldn't hit a lick," said Mickey.

Missourians Earn Victory

. . . PLAINSMEN NOW 6-6

Kansas City, Mo. — The University of Missouri at Kansas City used superior height here Tuesday night to defeat Nebraska Wesleyan, 90-66, in a nonconference game.

The Kangaroos, whose starters averaged 6-4, forced the Plainsmen to shoot from the outside with a zone defense.

NWU made 31 of 88 field goals, including only 10 of 39 in the first half. The Missouri team had 35 of 70 field goals, which indluded 15 of 32 in the first half.

The Plainsmen rallied in the second half and pulled within three points, 40-37, with 15:28 left.

However, the Kangaroos pushed to a 53-41 lead with 10:45 remaining to put the game out of reach.

NWU was somewhat hampered on the boards when Mike Renken drew his third foul in the first half and his fourth early in the second half.

The Plainsmen's leading rebounder had to sit much of the last half because of his four fouls, but still was the game's top rebounder with 14.

Steve Jöekel, who had a NWU career best of 27 points and Charlie Rine led the NWU comeback in the second half.

Dean DeBoer was commended by Wesleyan coach Dr. Irv Peterson for his floor play, but fouled out of the game.

The Kangaroos' zone forced the Plainsmen's leading scorer, John Strain, to shoot long shots and he was ineffective by only making three of 14.

The win boosts the Missouri club's record to 10-4, while NWU dropped to 6-6.

Mark Augustus, a 6-9 pivot, 6-4 Chris Stockard, 6-3 Craig Jones and 6-3 Dave Smith paced the Kangaroos. Smith was the top scorer with 22 points and Augustus the top rebounder with 13 for the Missouri team.

The Plainsmen open Nebraska Intercollegiate Athletic Conference play Saturday night at Hastings.

Tagge Says He Misses Enthusiasm

Nebraska had an enthusiastic rooter in the stands, cheering the Huskers to a basketball victory over Oklahoma Monday night.

He was Jerry Tagge, who quarterbacked the Big Red to back-to-back national football championships before joining the Green Bay Packers this fall.

"I'm staying in Omaha for a couple of weeks," Jerry said of his surprise visit to the NU campus. "Then I'm going out to California for a little more vacation time."

At halftime of the basketball game Oklahoma led, 34-30. "That's almost the same score of another Nebraska-Oklahoma game I remember," Tagge noted, referring to the last game he played against the Sooners—the 35-31 NU victory in the "Game of the Century." "There was one difference," he added. "That time Nebraska was ahead."

The Husker hoopsters eventually accomplished the same result, scoring a come-from-behind 74-67 triumph.

"I miss the enthusiasm of college sports," Tagge admitted. "In the pros it's much more of a business. Instead of being really close as we were at Nebraska, eating together, being together all the time and really being friends with your teammates, it's much different in the pros.

"The guys show up and go through a practice, then they all go their separate ways again. There isn't the same closeness."

But Tagge was quick to assure he wasn't knocking the "business" of being a pro football player. "I've got six months off now. And we (Green Bay) got in on some of the playoff money. That's what it's all about."

The ex-NU signal caller is optimistic about his future with the Packers. "It was somewhat discouraging not getting to play anymore than I did. But I expect to get to see a lot more action next season.

"The pro game is much different than college ball," Jerry added, "but it's not as complicated as people think. All the teams play basically the same defense and there's not nearly as much razzle-dazzle as in college ball."

Career Ends For Gregory

Nebraska basketball coach Joe Cipriano announced Tuesday that starting guard Tom Gregory has been lost for the season because of scholastic ineligibility.

Cipriano said Gregory, the Huskers' only starting senior, had not accumulated enough credit hours over the last two semesters to meet NCAA requirements.

"Tom did an excellent job all through his career, especially on defense this year," Cipriano said. "He'll certainly be a loss to us."

In his career, Gregory, a 6-2 product from Fullerton, Calif., scored 346 points in 66 games for a 5.2 points-per-game average. This year, he had 104 points in 14 games for a 7.4 average, fifth best for the Huskers.

Heisman On Display At NU Football Fete

Johnny Rodgers' Heisman Trophy will be on display at the Nebraska Football Letterman's Banquet Friday night at the Cornhusker Hotel.

Rodgers and all the Cornhusker seniors will be honored at the annual banquet, sponsored by the Extra Point Club. There will also be a salute for retired coach Bob Devaney and his staff.

Another highlight will be the presentation of the Outland Trophy to Rich Glover. The Football Writers Association of American selected Glover as the outstanding lineman in college football for 1972.

It marked the only time in history a school received the Outland in successive years. Larry Jacobson received the Outland Trophy in 1971.

Several awards will also be presented, with the recipients unknown until the banquet.

The Guy Chamberlain Trophy will be awarded to the senior who best exemplified the Cornhusker spirit during his career, and the Lincoln Optimists Clubs will present Most Valuable trophies to offensive and defensive linemen and offensive and defensive backs.

James Llewellyn of the Orange Bowl Committee will attend. Main speaker is Eddie Robinson, highly-successful football coach at Grambling University.

Tickets are still available for the Husker banquet — social hour at 6:30 p.m. dinner at 7:30 — at the Coliseum Ticket Office, Cornhusker Hotel, Gerry's Sport Shop, First National Bank, National Bank of Commerce and City National Bank at Gateway Shopping Center.

Carlton Signs With Phillies

Philadelphia (AP) — Steve Carlton signed a contract with the Philadelphia Phillies Tuesday for a reported $165,000, making the lefthander the highest paid pitcher in baseball.

"I'm happy," said Carlton, in what had to be the understatement of the new year.

Carlton won 27 and lost 10 for the Phillies last season, despite pitching for the worst team in baseball. He posted a 1.98 earned run average and led National League pitchers in almost every phase of the game. He was unanimously voted winner of the Cy Young award as the league's best pitcher.

What is he going to do for an encore in 1973?

Tampa, Fla. — Ray Lee Goodwin from Kansas City, the first Missourian to win the IMCA spring car crown in nearly 20 years, will be out to defend his title when the 53rd running of the Winternational Sprints is held in conjunction with the Florida State Fair here Feb. 7-10-11-14-17.

Missouri Drops, KSU Advances In UPI Ratings

New York (UPI) — The UCLA Bruins picked up their 56th and 57th consecutive victories last week to once again top this week's basketball ratings of the United Press International board of coaches in a week that saw a complete reshuffling of teams two through 20.

Missouri, Providence and Kansas State closed out the top 10. The Tigers became the third team in last week's top five to lose its first game of the season, suffering a 70-55 loss at the hands of Kansas State.

The surging Wildcats also defeated SMU by two to move from last week's 14th spot.

Rockets Edge Mexican Club

Northeast High edged the Mexican National prep all-stars in an 11-match wrestling meet at the Rocket Gym Tuesday night.

It was the first of three appearances for the Mexican troupe in the Capital City. They meet East High Wednesday night, then face Lincoln High Thursday evening.

Northeast captured six matches, one by a pin, while the all-stars from the South claimed five, one by fall.

The series of matches is a return visit following a tour by Nebraska all-star grapplers to Mexico and other Central American countries last summer.

Locations Picked For Golf Meets

Defending champion Fremont will host the Class A Nebraska State Golf Tournament on May 18, according to the Nebraska Schools Activities Association.

Norfolk will hold the Class C tournament, also May 18 and David City gets the State Sand Greens meet on May 5.

The site for the Class B tourney hasn't been determined because no school has volunteered a course on which to hold the meet.

Unitas Reaffirms Decision Not To Play At Baltimore

New York (AP) — Johnny Unitas, Baltimore's legendary quarterback, reaffirmed Tuesday he won't play for the Colts next season—and said he won't play for a team that isn't a contender.

"There's no way I'll play for the Colts next season," Unitas said at a kickoff luncheon for the seventh American Airlines Golf Classic, to be held in San Juan, P.R. Feb. 2-4.

"And I won't go to a team that I don't think is good," added the 39-year-old veteran, one of the premier passers in National Football League history.

Unitas, who has passed for more touchdowns—287—and more distance—nearly 22 miles—than any quarteback in NFL history, has made no secret that he wants to get away from the Colts, a team he played with for 17 years.

Unitas' insistence that he won't play again for Baltimore stems from the treatment he received during the 1972 season, when he was cast aside in favor of young Marty Domres following the firing of Coach Don McCafferty after the fifth game of the season. It wasn't the fact that he was shunted to the sidelines on orders from Joe Thomas, Baltimore's vice president and general manager. But the manner in which it was handled that rankled Unitas, named NFL Player of the Decade by The Associated Press in 1970.

"John Sandusky (McCafferty's replacement, who lattr was fired at the end of the season), told me, 'I wanted you to be my No. 1 quarterback, but I was told I had to go with Marty,'" Unitas disclosed. "'You won't be playing any more football for the Colts unless Marty gets hurt,'" Unitas said Sandusky told him.

KC Paper Says K-State Off Probation

Kansas City (AP) — The National Collegiate Athletic Association has removed Kansas State, Tulsa and Illinois State from probation and restored the schools to full rights and privileges, the Kansas City Star reported Tuesday night.

The Star said the action came at th easociation's final council meeting in Chicago Sunday.

It had been expected the three schools would come off the probation list last week but the council' agenda was so heavy the cases were not considered until Sunday.

K-State was placed on three-year probation for football violations in October 1970.

Undefeated Hampton Solidly On Top Of Class D Ratings

By RANDY YORK
Prep Sports Writer

Four teams are still unbeaten in the Class D basketball ranks.

But, Hampton is solidly at the head of the class with its 10-0 record. The other unbeatens — Pleasanton, Sidney St. Pat's and Bartlett — are dispersed throughout the top 10 after the second week of ratings.

Hampton proved it could win big on the road over the weekend, outclassing Shelby and Trumbull by a combined 69 points. None of the other three unbeatens were pressed either.

Coach Tom Camp's Pleasanton Bulldogs, the pride of the always rugged Fort Kearney Conference, added two more scalps in Sumner (79-66) and Elba (73-45).

They advanced one notch in the ratings to third after Falls City Sacred Heart fell from the ranks of the unbeaten. The Irish dropped a 40-37 decision to Class C-rated Pawnee City in the finals of the Southeast Border Conference Tournament at Tecumseh.

Sidney St. Pat's won at Bushnell, 54-48, to increase coach Chuck Perone's record to 11-0. The Irish, members of the Minuteman Conference, finished 17-5 last season.

Bartlett also stands 11-0 after overwhelmingly handling Chambers, 69-33, and Stuart, 102-60, over the weekend. Coach Jerry Stine's Broncos, members of the Sandhills-Gateway Conference, are rated seventh because of the strength of their schedule.

All three unbeatens, however, have excellent chances to gain ground on pacesetting Hampton, providing they can continue unbeaten.

In the scrambled Class D picture, one loss is so costly that it usually tumbles a team a least temporarily out of the top 10.

Elmwood has been an exception. Coach Jay Wischmeier's club is 11-2, but rated fifth on the strength of its five wins and championship in the tough MUDECAS Conference Tournament.

Elmwood has lost in overtime to Class C Palmyra (a setback it later avenged) and has been beaten, 56-48, by second-ranked Yutan.

Nebraska Prep Ratings

By Randy York

Class D

1—Hampton (10-0)
2—Yutan (7-1)
3—Pleasanton (11-0)
4—Falls City SH (8-1)
5—Elmwood (11-2)
6—Sidney St. Pat's (11-0)
7—Bartlett (11-0)
8—Deshler (8-1)
9—Butte (10-1)
10—Lexington St. Ann (10-1)

Comment — Palmer, No. 5 last week, was upset, 60-59, by Silver Creek and dropped from ratings. Both schools, however, are among top 10 challengers. Hordville (idle) and Adams (a 17-point loser) also exited. They were Nos. 9 and 10 a week ago. Falls City Sacred Heart lost a three-point decision to now Class C-rated Pawnee City and dropped one ratings notch. Once-beatens Deshler, Butte and Lexington St. Ann crack ratings for first time, assuming Nos. 8, 9 and 10.

Runners Pace Pro Bowl Clubs

. . . DALLAS TO HOST CONTEST

Dallas (AP) — O. J. Simpson watched Franco Harris flee downfield for a pass and shook his head.

"Boy, not only does he play like a 10-year veteran but he even looks older than me," said Simpson, the star runner of the Buffalo Bills.

Harris, whose football miracles inspired Pittsburgh to win the Central Division title, is the only rookie on the American Conference squad that squares away Sunday against the National Conference in the Pro Bowl at Texas Stadium.

"The guy is tough as a fullback but runs like a halfback" Simpson said. "He turns the corner then runs over somebody. I'll tell you something. There's no such a thing as a rookie in this game. When you've taken the pounding he has taken and survived with honors, you're no rookie I'll assure you."

Harris returned up field and said, "Gosh, I don't feel like a rookie anymore. I guess you age fast in the National Football League."

"Right," Simpson said, "If you're a runner you come into this league running like Gale Sayers did. Franco is a runner—a winner. He's got a helluva career ahead of him."

Simpson and Harris will be two of five 1,000-yard rushers on the field Sunday.

Billy Kilmer of the Redskins will start at quarterback for Coach Tom Landry's National Conference squad while Daryle Lamonica of Oakland will get the nod from AFC mentor Chuck Noll of Pittsburgh.

National Football League officials hope a crowd of 50-000 fans will be in Texas Stadium for the nationally televised 4p.m. EST kickoff.

The winning players get $2,000 and the losers $1,500. The winning coach gets $3,000 and the losing coach $2,500.

Brown, Freitas Leave Squads

Dallas (UPI) — Washington running back Larry Brown and Detroit tackle Rocky Freitas both dropped off the national conference squad Tuesday for next Sunday's pro bowl game.

Brown, the NFC's leading rusher, aggravated a knee injury and suffered a sprained wrist in Washington's Super Bowl loss last Sunday to Miami. He will be replaced by Walt Garrison of Dallas.

Freitas was called home to Hawaii because of an illness in his family. He will be replaced by George Kunz of Atlanta.

Previously removed from the rosters were Oakland receiver Fred Biletnikoff, New York Jet quarterback Joe Namath, Miami flanker Paul Warfield and Dallas defensive tackle Bob Lilly.

They were replaced in order by Chip Myers of Cincinnati, John Hadl of San Diego, J. D. Hill of Buffalo and Alan Page of Minnesota.

Free Throws Spark Peru

Peru (AP) — Peru capitalized on its free throw chances and edged Doane 79-76 in Nebraska college basketball action Tuesday night.

Ananius Montague put the game out of Doane's reach with two crucial free throws with only 23 seconds remaining in the contest to give Peru a five-point margin, more than Doane could overcome in the final seconds.

Peru is now 5-7 overall and Doane is 7-6.

Seattle Hits KC-Omaha

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Seattle SuperSonics, paced by Spencer Haywood, outscored Kansas City-Omaha 38-26 in the fourth period and rallied for a 125-122 National Basketball Association triumph Tuesday night.

Nate Archibald, the Kings' league-leading scorer, fired in 48 points to maintain his scoring margin over Haywood, the league's third leading scorer, who finished with 23. Archibald also had 11 assists.

Seattle fell 16 points behind, 57-73, 3when the Kings ripped off 10 straight points to open the third period. With Ron Riley scoring 10 points in the period, the Kings went into the final 12 minutes leading 96-87.

Fred Brown and Joby Wright each sank a pair of baskets and a goal by Dick Snyder cut the Royals' lead to 98-97. Then it was a see-saw battle until the final four minutes.

With the score tied 115-all and 3:56 to go, the Kings went scoreless until only 40 seconds remained. By that time the Sonics were in control 121-117.

Brown finished with 20 points, 12 in the final quarter, and Jim Fox had 23 for the Sonics.

Bluejays Hit Regis, 93-59

Denver (AP) — Creighton roared to a 45-25 halftime edge and beat Regis 93-59 Tuesday night in college basketball.

Regis took an 8-2 lead with 17:50 remaining in the first half, but Creighton then reeled off eight straight points in less than a minute to take a lead it never relinquished.

Gene Harmon had 19 points, Ralph Bobik 16 and Doug Brookins 14 for the winners, now 93. Regis, which fell to 5-5, was led by Tony DuCros with a game-high 23 points.

Creighton shot 41 per cent from the floor compared to Regis' 30 per cent shooting.

Bugner Retains European Title

London (AP) — Joe Bugner tuning for his upcoming fight with Muhammad Ali retained his European heavyweight boxing title by registering a unanimous 15-round decision over Rudy Lubbers of The Netherlands Tuesday night.

Bugner weighed 216 and Lubbers 195½.

Lubbers although shorter and lighter proved a durable fighter. Although Bugner was on top for most of the 15 rounds his performance was lackluster.

Nebraska Tech Prevails, 95-64

College Division Playoffs Okayed

Kansas City (AP) — A small college football playoff system for schools in both divisions, I and II, was approved by the National Collegiate Athletic Association in Chicago last Saturday, the NCAA announced here Tuesday.

Lou Spry, assistant executive director, said details have not been completed, but "Division I is supposed to involve eight teams and Division II will involve four teams—all at-large selections."

Until this year, the NCAA has sponsored regional games, four in Division I and two in Division II.

Division I teams are medium-sized state institutions; Division II, primarily private endowed liberal arts colleges.

Fairbury Trips Platte, 99-89

Fairbury —Fairbury took the rubber game from Platte College 99-89 Tuesday night to hand Platte its first loss in the Nebraska Junior College Conference.

Using a half-court press, Platte went ahead 81-80 but Fairbury came back with the help of Noel Taylor of Nassau in the Bahamas who became eligible at the semester. Taylor scored 27 points, 19 in the second half.

Fairbury defeated Platte 72-69 in a pre-season tournament game, then lost in a conference game in December 84-74. Fairbury is 5-1 in the conference and Platte is 6-1.

Platte—Williams 20, Hollatz 14, McArdle 10, West 10, Brower 10, Weselowski 9, Biefernich 4, Turner 3, McEniry 2.

Fairbury—Taylor 27, Jones 14, Jamison 13, Estes 12, Parks 10, Romer 8, Britt 8, Robinson 4, Cameron 3.

Elwood Propels Northeastern

Norfolk (AP) — A 5-7 guard, Steve Elwood, scored 28 points to lead Northeastern Junior College to an 84-67 basketball victory over Worthington, Minn., Tuesday night.

Northeastern held a 17-point lead early in the game but was only ahead 42-41 at the half.

Archibald Holds Scoring Lead

NEW YORK (UPI) — Tiny Nate Archibald continues to reign as the biggest man in the National Basketball Association scoring race.

The 6-foot-1 guard for the Kansas City-Omaha Kings is averaging 33.5 points a game and also leads in assists with an average of 11.5.

Kareem Abdul-Jabbar of the Milwaukee Bucks is second to Archibald in scoring at 31.0 while also placing second in field goal percentage at .563 and fourth in rebounding with 16.3 a game.

Wilt Chamberlain of the Los Angeles Lakers continues to lead in the field goal percentage department with a mark of .754 and ranks first in rebounding with 17.7 a game.

Rick Barry of the Golden State Warriors leads in free throw percentage with a mark of .925

Black Hills Hits Concordia, 97-74

Rapid City, S.D. (AP) — Mike Wells and Kim Templeton scored 20 points apiece as the Black Hills State Yellow Jackets downed Concordia, 97-74 in intersectional college basketball action Tuesday night.

Black Hills dominated the contest as it controlled the boards, holding a lopsided 61-33 edge in rebounding.

Black Hills moved to 8-5 for the year and Concordia dropped to 3-8

POSTCARD by Stan Delaplane

I got up at the unholy hour of 5:30 to be on deck as we came under the Golden Gate Bridge. The new cruise ship "Spirit of London" is home.

There were quite a number of hardy spirits in the warm Union Jack bar — it was cold as billy-o outside. Gloomy gray skies. Drizzling rain fell on deck.

They were serving coffee. A sleepy brown steward from Goa stood at the urn.

I said, "Can I get a little brandy to lace into this."

He said, "The bar is closed sair. We are in U.S. waters."

I thought: "What am I doing up at this hour? I drive over the bridge every day."

We came under, the golden fog lights glowing. I went out and looked up. The view is better from the top, friends. If anybody tells you to get up at 5:30 to see the underside, forget it.

☆ ☆ ☆

Home is where the bills are. Home is where the phone rings. Home is where — "Daddy, what did you bring us"

The mailman cometh. But he cometh in his own sweet time.

The airmail from the Canal Zone — urgent newspaper copy — took a week! The airmail — urgent — from Miami took six days!

Airplane tickets I needed desperately — marked "certified" and all sorts of rush instructions — took four days to cross the bridge I drove in a half hour! Forwarded by air to Curacao — eight day cushion — they never got there.

"Neither snow nor rain nor heat nor gloom of night stays these couriers from the swift completion of their appointed rounds."

That's the Post Office. If this keeps up, we're going to hire a rewrite man and chisel a new motto.

☆ ☆ ☆

I knew when I got on the "Spirit of London" it was a matter of Burke's Law.

"If anything can go wrong, it will."

Material I was mailing in arrived by ox cart. A courier from Caracas simply disappeared.

A package of copy, specially marked, the supervisor warned by Telex, was lost for two frantic days.

Scratchy phone calls came to the ship: "Hello! Hello! Your Monday copy is missing! Hello I can't hear you."

☆ ☆ ☆

I wired in 2,000 words from the ship. First time. Do you know that ships — modern ships —do this by Morse? Tapping on a key?

I said to the radio operator: "Do you know I used to do this with the boy in the next block? Using a coil of copper wire wrapped around a Quaker Oats carton."

We get TV and voice from the moon, but we tap it out by Morse from a ship? Dit-dit-dit-dit, dit, dit-dah-dit-dit, dit-dah-dit-dit.

Home again. (I have a slight cold, too. Next week pneumonia.) I said: "Did you get my wire?" My secretary said: "What wire?"

I said: "Where's the cooking sherry?"

ASTROLOGICAL FORECAST

☆ By SIDNEY OMARR ☆

Forecast For Wednesday

Ask Aries and Sagittarius for advice and you will be having those signs great compliments. But Gemini might not be so pleased preferring not to be confused by the problems of others.

☆ ☆ ☆

ARIES (March 21-April 19): What appears to be a giveaway could do something entirely different. No one is giving you something for nothing. Cycle is high but you must exercise caution where legal documents enter picture Do some double-checking.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Confinement restrictions are highlighted. Make the most of time you spend alone Remember that being alone is not same as being lonely. Club, group, hospital or institution is featured. Health and work command your attention

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Dispute could arise among friends. Some of your plans are revised. Be willing to accept innovations. Virgo could play key role. Road to romance is apt to be bumpy. Sense of humor can be valuable ally.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Attention centers around home base and practical issues. There are changes which could be upsetting Security may appear threatened Settlement is postponed. Talk with family member is imperative.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Check reservations Communications tend to be disrupted misinterpreted. Avoid travel unless absolutely necessary Examine long-range goals. Don't fool yourself. See persons as they really exist, not merely as you would like them to be.

VIRGO (Aug 23-Sept. 22): Guard valuables. Take nothing for granted Get promises in writing. Assume responsibility for your own welfare. Others may not be equipped to do job. Opportunity is great if you are willing to work overtime.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Process of tearing down occurs for purpose of rebuilding. Do plenty of listening observing. Finish rather than begin projects. Let others show their hands. Hold something in reserve. You can successfully play waiting game.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Fresh point of view is necessary. Delay, setback — these are but temporary. Stick to style and principles. Show consideration toward one who handicapped or confined. Keep health resolutions. Avoid extremes

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): You may be confused because of emotional tug-of-war. You are drawn between old loyalties and new desires. Lovers' quarrel could result. Strive to know these conditions are not long lasting. Maintain self-esteem

CAPRICORN Dec. 20-Jan. 19th): Restlessness prevails Necessary to find outlet for energies. Imprint your style. Help family members but know you have your own life to live Sagittarian could confide problem. Don't cast first stone.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): One who asks you to run errand may not be aware of traffic conditions. Protect yourself. Don't promise more than you can deliver. Avoid trying to do too much at once Relative may be unreasonable.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Count your change. Be wary of individual who seems to be a supersalesman. Check percentages, interest rates. No one is handling you anything on proverbial silver platter. Kow it and act accordingly.

IF TODAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY you are a spiritual person, concerned with the welfare of others Pressure of family problems will be lifted in March. Your most significant month of 1973 is likely to be June. You have an affinity Pisces persons.

For Tim Edwards, good basketball games are a weekly habit. He's the type who competes so hard so often, it's difficult to pinpoint the difference between good, great and super.

But last Friday night against York Edwards was super. So super, in fact, that coach Walt Harris declared that it was "certainly his best game at Crete High School."

That statement covers a lot of territory, especially considering that Edwards was a state Class B all-tournament performer last March in Lincoln.

Against York, he was the thrust enabling No. 1 Crete to hold on for a 74-73 win, its 10th without a loss this season.

The 6-2 senior hit 11 of 24 field goal attempts and added nine free throws for a game high 31 points and collected 15 rebounds, another game high.

"He also had six steals and five assists," points out Harris after reviewing Crete's statistical charts. "He clearly deserves Player of the Week after a performance like that."

Therefore, Edwards today earns the prep Player of the Week award.

During one stretch of the third quarter, he hit five straight field goals to help the Cardinals come back from a 41-36 halftime deficit.

"He's more than just a good basketball player," stresses Harris. "He's an outstanding kid who works hard all the time. And, even more importantly, he loves what he's doing and has fun doing it.

"He and Randy (Wenz) are the closest of friends," notes Harris. "Randy was our all-stater last year. But Tim is too, in my book. I think we have two all-staters on this club."

Other players who will receive Sunday Journal and Star Player of the Week cards include:

Don Madlock and Jerry Kletchka, Lincoln High — The former hit four of his game high nine field goals after regulation time and the latter hit winning field goal with two seconds remaining in 50-48 upset of Lincoln Northeast.

Greg Bacon, Lexington — His field goal in final seconds and 22 points gave Minutemen 69-68 Southwest Conference win over previously rated Minden.

Lindley Lamb, Osceola — Senior center connected for field goal with four seconds remaining in overtime as team edged favored David City Aquinas, 73-72.

Randall Gutherless, Maxwell — Scored 22 points, including game-winning field goal in final second, as team upset Farnam, 61-59.

Gary Slobodny, Norfolk—Senior frontliner hit seven straight free throws in the final period to help Panthers hold off East Big 10 rival Hastings, 57-53.

Verdell Erks, Centennial — Senior center's field goal with one minute remaining and 18 points helped Broncos outlast Wahoo, 71-68.

Steve Hiatt, Superior — His field goal with 17 seconds remaining — the only points he scored during the game — boosted Class B club past Class C Tri-County, 52-51.

Gary Herchenback, Lindsay Holy Family — Scored 25 points, including all five of his team's points in overtime, as Holy Family squeezed past St. Edward, 74-73.

Loren Killion, Kearney — Six-seven center rimmed careeer high 32 points (six shy of school record) as Bearcats measured West Big 10 rival Scottsbluff, 65-60.

Wes Pinkertman, O'Neill — His field goal with two seconds remaining helped team defeat Valentine, 48-46.

Dale Thiessen, Elkhorn — Senior center's 26 points were the key as ninth-rated Class B club survived Columbus Lakeview in overtime, 74-64.

Tom Lynch, Wilcox — His two free throws with 29 seconds remaining enabled team to edge Overton, 61-60.

Dave Prenzlow, Snyder — Senior forward hit 31 points as team rallied from 12-point third-quarter deficit to overtake Rosalie, 57-54.

Canadiens Pace East All-Stars

Montreal (UPI) — Six members of the Eastern Division-leading Montreal Canadiens were among the 12 players selected by the Professional Hockey Writers Association to the National Hockey League's 26 annual All-Star Game, to be played at Madison Square Garden in New York on Jan. 30.

The six Canadiens named are goaltender Ken Dryden, defensemen Guy Lapointe and Serge Savard, center Jacques Lemaire, right wing Yvan Cournoyer and left wing Frank Mahovlich.

Winners Back For Midlands

Omaha (UPI) — The reigning Midlands International tennis single and doubles champions will return here to defend their titles in the 1973 Midlands Tourney, it was announced Tuesday.

Romanians Ilie Nastase, 1972 singles champ, and Ion Tiriac, who teamed with Nastase to take the doubles title will headline the 24-player field for the Jan. 23-28 event.

Nastase, winning over $100,000 for the second year in succession, was the U.S. Open champ and Wimbledon finalist. Tiriac was the Romanian champion from 1959 until 1967, when Nastase began his rise.

Another top international player returning to the Midlands is Manuel Orantes of Spain, who won the Italian, German, Belgian and Swedish championships in 1972.

Orantes reached both the Wimbledon and Forest Hills semi-finals last year.

Anderson Operated On

Denver (AP) — Denver running back Bobby Anderson underwent minor surgery Tuesday the Broncos announced, to repair a slight right shoulder separation. He recently underwent a knee operation.

Dickey Charged With Auto Theft

Liberty, Mo. (AP) —Eldridge Dickey, Kansas City Chiefs wide receiver, was charged Tuesday with theft of a motor vehicle.

Police said the former all-America quarterback at Tennessee State, picked up by the Chiefs from the Baltimore Colts, drove off in a car owned by John Chezik Buick Inc., after the company refused to loan him a vehicle.

C. Patrick Bills, Clay County magistrate, set the football payer's bond at $1,500 and scheduled a preliminary hearing for Jan. 30.

Swim Meet Set By Junior AAU

More than 450 swimmers from 13 Nebraska swim clubs have registered to participate in the Midwestern AAU junior Olympics Swim Meet Saturday at Lincoln East High School.

Midget and intermediate swim events will begin at 8:30 a.m. Saturday, according to Jim Bartolome, Lincoln, meet director. Junior and senior events will be held in the afternoon.

Official Junior Olympic gold, silver, and bronze medals will be awarded for first through sixth place in individual events and first through third in relay events. There also will be individual high point trophies for boys and girls and team trophies.

The meet is being sponsored by the Lincoln Swim Club, Midwestern AAU and the Chevrolet Motor Company.

Gibson Hires Weber As K-State Assistant

Manhattan, Kan. (AP) — Bob Weber, head football coach at the University of Arizona past four years, has been hired by head coach Vince Gibson coordinator and offensive line coach at Kanas State University.

Weber assumes the duties of Don Powell, who recently resigned to become an assistant with the Saskatchewan Roughriders of the Canadian Football League

Royals Slate Lincoln Stop

Kansas City (AP) — Jack McKeon, new manager of the Kansas City Royals, will lead four players on a five-day swing through nine cities beginning Monday.

The first stop of the team's annual "goodwill caravan" will be Columbia, followed by Jefferson City, Springfield and Joplin in Missouri; Wichita and Topeka in Kansas; Lincoln and Omaha in Nebraska, and concluding Friday, Jan. 26, in St. Joseph, Mo.

Accompanying the 42-year-old McKeon will be John Mayberry, first baseman; Lou Piniella, right fielder; Ed Kirkpatrick, utility man, and Hal McRae, newly arrived following a four-player trade with the Cincinnati Reds.

Lincoln Ski Club Going To Races

The Cornhusker Ski Club is sending its strongest contingent over to the annual Flatlanders' Ski Races in Vail, Colo. his weekend.

The 49-member Lincoln ski group will be competing with about 1,000 skiers from Omaha, Kansas City, St. Louis, Wichita, Oklahoma City and other clubs in the Plains states.

Leading the Cornhuskers are Bill Browne, Lincoln's top finisher last year, John Hyland, still in peak condition from the Orange Bowl Game. Wayne Simpson, Steve Carveth and John Fritch. Also expected to make a strong showing for the Cornhuskers are Jack Hyland, Arleigh Hayes, Dick Kincade, John Whitten and Grant Whitney.

The girls will be led by Ellie Iovacchini and Phyllis Kincade, both of whom finished near the top last year. They will be joined by 12 other girls, including Jacque Rank, Murph Levy and Ginny Kincade.

Caution Equals Defeat

If there's one thing that's marked the last five Super Bowls, it's the fact that none of them have been super.

And in all five instances, the team making its first Super Bowl appearance played like it was trying to protect a 10-point lead with one minute to play.

They've given every appearance of being afraid to do anything except take the snap from center and fall on the ball to avoid making a mistake.

In each of the last five games, the losing team in the Super Bowl was there for the first time and in each case its manner of play bore little resemblance to its style of play during the season.

"Washington just didn't have the edge against Miami that they did against us," commented Dallas Cowboys' coach Tom Landry, whose Cowboys lost to the Redskins in the NFC championship game.

Washington didn't look like Washington Sunday. Baltimore didn't look like the Colts when they lost to the Jets, 16-7. Ditto Minnesota in its 35-7 loss to Kansas City, Dallas in its 16-13 defeat by Baltimore and Miami a year ago in losing to Dallas 24-3.

Repeaters React Better

In the first case, the winner, the Jets, were such decided underdogs that there was no pressure on them. If they made mistakes, they'd be simply doing what was expected of them.

But in the latter four cases, the winner has been a team that had been there before against a loser that hadn't.

You can credit it to being better prepared to react to the pressure, but you might also credit it to the fact that they had learned that playing it too close to the vest was not the way to win.

Every team that has made a repeat trip to the Super Bowl has shown a more flamboyant attack than it had in its previous appearance and than its opponent, in the Super Bowl for the first time, was showing.

First-time coaches in the Super Bowl have seemed mesmerized by their game plan of establishing a running game even when trailing and not going anywhere on the ground.

On the other hand, the second-time-around coach has opened his attack and has come away with the trophy.

Carnival Might Have Helped

Washington coach Geoege Allen blamed his Redskins' problems Sunday on the carnival atmosphere that preceded the Super Bowl.

Perhaps the Redskins would have been more ready to play had he taken them to a carnival instead of protecting them rigidly from what he called distractions.

While Allen was guarding his old men as if they were cub scouts on their first camping trip, Miami. coach Don Shula permitted his players to be themselves, even staging a small party of beer and hamburgers for them the night before the game.

Shula knew how to cope with the pre-game pressures. Allen obviously did not.

"It's a tough row to hoe if you haven't gone through it and you don't know what to expect," Landry points ut.

"The second time we were there, we took the attitude that Don Shula took this time. You just have to bear with it and don't let it worry you. It's just something to put up with."

Hopefully, one of these years both Super Bowl teams will have been there before. Then maybe the game will really be a super one.

DiMaggio, Mantle Disagree On AL's New Rule

NEW YORK (AP) — Two New York Yankee hitting immortals found themselves at odds Tuesday over the American League's new experiment permitting a designated pinchhitter to bat for the pitcher.

"I think it's great — it's a change, and if there's anything baseball needs it's change" said Joe DiMaggio, whose 56-game hitting streak is one of the game's proudest records.

"I'm not sure the rule will do what it's intended to do, and that is produce more hits and runs," commented Mickey Mantle, the man who stepped into DiMag's shoes in 1952.

DiMaggio and Mantle were special guests, along with modern Yankee Bobby Murcer and pro football's all-time great quarterback Johnny Unitas, at a New York luncheon kicking off the American Airlines Golf Classic at the El Conquistador Hotel in San Juan, Puerto Rico, Feb. 2-4.

This is the tournament in which top National Football League and major league baseball stars team up and fight it out with brassies and fourirons.

Murcer, 25, the Yankees' newest candidate for super star status, struck a moderate stance—somewhere between that of DiMaggio and Mantle.

"I think basball needs to keep up with the times and make changes," Murcer. in a turtle neck shirt and wearing his hair modishly long, said. "But there's a lot to what Mickey says about the rule helping the pitcher."

"Pitching is 90 per cent of baseball," argued Mantle, casual in an open-throated shirt and sport coat. "This experimental rule of the American League is intended to open up the game and make it more interesting for the spectators.

"I think it could have just the opposite effect. It gives the pitcher more rest and makes him twice as tough.

"Besides, I don't think they should be tampering with baseball so much. Why not keep it as it is? I'm against raising the mound, shortening the fences and all that sort of stuff.

"After all, what keeps baseball going? What keeps it so interesting? It's the records. People always are talking about records. Babe Ruth's home runs. Winning streaks. Pitching streaks.

"Eliminate records and the game loses a lot of its romance. Yet that's what we are doing. We are making records easier to erase."

DiMaggio, conservatively attired in a business suit, white shirt and tie and still a majestic-looking figure at 190 pounds, insists that records are made to be broken.

"People ask me about my 56-game hitting streak," he said. "Sure, this rule might make it possible for someone to break my record. But it doesn't bother me. I'm proud of it because every hit was a legitimate hit. But records don't last.

"Pro football is always on the alert to keep its game interesting. Such as moving the hash marks in this year to produce a better running game. Baseball must do the same.

" I'm for change. One change I especially want is competition between the two leagues. I think it has to come."

DiMaggio and Mantle agreed on one point—the designated pinch-hitter rule is bound to prolong the baseball life of aging sluggers such as Hank Aaron and Willie Mays, but it wouldn't have done much for either of them.

"I couldn't play any more," said DiMag. "Injuries got me. My shoulder hurt so badly I couldn't bring the bat around any more." "I got so I couldn't hit a lick," said Mickey.

Missourians Earn Victory

. . . PLAINSMEN NOW 6-6

Kansas City, Mo. — The University of Missouri at Kansas City used superior height here Tuesday night to defeat Nebraska Wesleyan, 90-66, in a nonconference game.

The Kangaroos, whose starters averaged 6-4, forced the Plainsmen to shoot from the outside with a zone defense.

NWU made 31 of 88 field goals, including only 10 of 39 in the first half. The Missouri team had 35 of 70 field goals, which indluded 15 of 32 in the first half

The Plainsmen rallied in the second half and pulled within three points, 40-37, with 15:28 left.

However, the Kangaroos pushed to a 53-41 lead with 10:45 remaining to put the game out of reach.

NWU was somewhat hampered on the boards when Mike Renken drew his third foul in the first half and his fourth early in the second half.

The Plainsmen's leading rebounder had to sit much of the last half because of his four fouls, but still was the game's top rebounder with 14.

Steve Joekel, who had a NWU career best of 27 points and Charlie Rine led the NWU comeback in the second half.

Dean DeBoer was commended by Wesleyan coach Dr. Irv Peterson for his floor play, but fouled out of the game.

The Kangaroos' zone forced the Plainsmen's leading scorer, John Strain, to shoot long shots and he was ineffective by only making three of 14.

The win boosts the Missouri club's record to 10-4, while NWU dropped to 6-6.

Mark Augustus, a 6-9 pivot, 6-4 Chris Stockard, 6-3 Craig Jones and 6-3 Dave Smith paced the Kangaroos. Smith was the top scorer with 22 points and Augustus the top rebounder with 13 for the Missouri team.

The Plainsmen open Nebraska Intercollegiate Athletic Conference play Saturday night at Hastings.

Career Ends For Gregory

Nebraska basketball coach Joe Cipriano announced Tuesday that starting guard Tom Gregory has been lost for the season because of scholastic ineligibility.

Cipriano said Gregory, the Huskers' only starting senior, had not accumulated enough credit hours over the last two semesters to meet NCAA requirements.

"Tom did an excellent job all through his career, especially on defense this year," Cipriano said. "He'll certainly be a loss to us."

In his career, Gregory, a 6-2 product from Fullerton, Calif., scored 346 points in 66 games for a 5.2 points-per-game average. This year, he had 104 points in 14 games for a 7.4 average, fifth best for the Huskers.

Rockets Edge Mexican Club

Northeast High edged the Mexican National prep all-stars in an 11-match wrestling meet at the Rocket Gym Tuesday night.

It was the first of three appearances for the Mexican troupe in the Capital City. They meet East High Wednesday night, then face Lincoln High Thursday evening.

Northeast captured six matches, one by a pin, while the all-stars from the South claimed five, one by fall.

Missouri Drops, KSU Advances In UPI Ratings

New York (UPI) — The UCLA Bruins picked up their 56th and 57th consecutive victories last week to once again top this week's basketball ratings of the United Press International board of coaches in a week that saw a complete reshuffling of teams two through 20.

Missouri, Providence and Kansas State closed out the top 10. The Tigers became the third team in last week's top five to lose its first game of the season, suffering a 70-55 loss at the hands of Kansas State.

The surging Wildcats also defeated SMU by two to move from last week's 14th spot.

Tagge Says He Misses Enthusiasm

Nebraska had an enthusiastic rooter in the stands, cheering the Huskers to a basketball victory over Oklahoma Monday night.

He was Jerry Tagge, who quarterbacked the Big Red to back-to-back national football championships before joining the Green Bay Packers this fall.

"I'm staying in Omaha for a couple of weeks," Jerry said of his surprise visit to the NU campus. "Then I'm going out to California for a little more vacation time."

At halftime of the basketball game Oklahoma led, 34-30. "That's almost the same score of another Nebraska-Oklahoma game I remember," Tagge noted, referring to the last game he played against the Sooners—the 35-31 NU victory in the "Game of the Century." "There was one difference," he added. "That time Nebraska was ahead."

The Husker hoopsters eventually accomplished the same result, scoring a come-from-behind 74-67 triumph.

"I miss the enthusiasm of college sports," Tagge admitted. "In the pros it's much more of a business. Instead of being really close as we were at Nebraska, eating together, being together all the time and really being friends with your teammates, it's much different in the pros.

"The guys show up and go through a practice, then they all go their separate ways again. There isn't the same closeness."

But Tagge was quick to assure he wasn't knocking the "business" of being a pro football player. "I've got six months off now. And we (Green Bay) got in on some of the playoff money. That's what it's all about."

The ex-NU signal caller is optimistic about his future with the Packers. "It was somewhat discouraging not getting to play anymore than I did. But I expect to get to see a lot more action next season.

"The pro game is much different than college ball," Jerry added, "but it's not as complicated as people think. All the teams play basically the same defense and there's not nearly as much razzle-dazzle as in college ball."

Heisman On Display At NU Football Fete

Johnny Rodgers' Heisman Trophy will be on display at the Nebraska Football Letterman's Banquet Friday night at the Cornhusker Hotel.

Rodgers and all the Cornhusker seniors will be honored at the annual banquet, sponsored by the Extra Point Club. There will also be a salute for retired coach Bob Devaney and his staff.

Another highlight will be the presentation of the Outland Trophy to Rich Glover. The Football Writers Association of American selected Glover as the outstanding lineman in college football for 1972

It marked the only time in history a school received the Outland in successive years. Larry Jacobson received the Outland Trophy in 1971.

Several awards will also be presented, with the recipients unknown until the banquet.

The Guy Chamberlain Trophy will be awarded to the senior who best exemplified the Cornhusker spirit during his career, and the Lincoln Optimists Clubs will present Most Valuable trophies to offensive and defensive linemen and offensive and defensive backs.

James Llewellyn of the Orange Bowl Committee will attend. Main speaker is Eddie Robinson, highly-successful football coach at Grambling University.

Tickets are still available for the Husker banquet — social hour at 6:30 p.m. dinner at 7:30 — at the Coliseum Ticket Office. Cornhusker Hotel, Gerry's Sport Shop, First National Bank, National Bank of Commerce and City National Bank at Gateway Shopping Center.

Carlton Signs With Phillies

Philadelphia (AP) — Steve Carlton signed a contract with the Philadelphia Phillies Tuesday for a reported $165,000, making the lefthander the highest paid pitcher in baseball.

"I'm happy," said Carlton, in what had to be the understatement of the new year.

Carlton won 27 and lost 10 for the Phillies last season, despite pitching for the worst team in baseball. He posted a 1.98 earned run average and led National League pitchers in almost every phase of the game. He was unanimously voted winner of the Cy Young award as the league's best pitcher.

What is he going to do for an encore in 1973?

Unitas Reaffirms Decision Not To Play At Baltimore

New York (AP) — Johnny Unitas, Baltimore's legendary quarterback, reaffirmed Tuesday he won't play for the Colts next season—and said he won't play for a team that isn't a contender.

"There's no way I'll play for the Colts next season," Unitas said at a kickoff luncheon for the seventh American Airlines Golf Classic, to be held in San Juan, P.R. Feb. 2-4.

"And I won't go to a team that I don't think is good," added the 39-year-old veteran, one of the premier passers in National Football League history.

Unitas, who has passed for more touchdowns—287—and more distance—nearly 22 miles—than any quarteback in NFL history, has made no secret that he wants to get away from the Colts, a team he played with for 17 years.

Unitas' insistence that he won't play again for Baltimore stems from the treatment he received during the 1972 season, when he was cast aside in favor of young Marty Domres following the firing of Coach Don McCafferty after the fifth game of the season. It wasn't the fact that he was shunted to the sidelines on orders from Joe Thomas, Baltimore's vice president and general manager. But the manner in which it was handled that rankled Unitas, named NFL Player of the Decade by The Associated Press in 1970.

"John Sandusky (McCafferty's replacement, who lattr was fired at the end of the season), told me, 'I wanted you to be my No. 1 quarterback, but I was told I had to go with Marty,'" Unitas disclosed. "'You won't be playing any more football for the Colts unless Marty gets hurt,'" Unitas said Sandusky told him.

KC Paper Says K-State Off Probation

Kansas City (AP) — The National Collegiate Athletic Association has removed Kansas State, Tulsa and Illinois State from probation and restored the schools to full rights and privileges, the Kansas City Star reported Tuesday night.

The Star said the action came at th cassociation's final council meeting in Chicago Sunday.

It had been expected the three schools would come off the probation list last week but the council' agenda was so heavy the cases were not considered until Sunday.

K-State was placed on three-year probation for football violations in October 1970.

Locations Picked For Golf Meets

Defending champion Fremont will host the Class A Nebraska State Golf Tournament on May 18, according to the Nebraska Schools Activities Association.

Norfolk will hold the Class C tournament, also May 18 and David City gets the State Sand Greens meet on May 5.

The site for the Class B tourney hasn't been determined because no school has volunteered a course on which to hold the meet

Undefeated Hampton Solidly On Top Of Class D Ratings

By RANDY YORK
Prep Sports Writer

Four teams are still unbeaten in the Class D basketball ranks

But, Hampton is solidly at the head of the class with its 10-0 record. The other unbeatens — Pleasanton, Sidney St. Pat's and Bartlett — are dispersed throughout the top 10 after the second week of ratings.

Hampton proved it could win big on the road over the weekend, outclassing Shelby and Trumbull by a combined 69 points. None of the other three unbeatens were pressed either.

Coach Tom Camp's Pleasanton Bulldogs, the pride of the always rugged Fort Kearney Conference, added two more scalps in Sumner (79-66) and Elba (73-45).

They advanced one notch in the ratings to third after Falls City Sacred Heart fell from the ranks of the unbeaten. The Irish dropped a 40-37 decision to Class C-rated Pawnee City in the finals of the Southeast Border Conference Tournament at Tecumseh.

Sidney St. Pat's won at Bushnell, 54-48, to increase coach Chuck Perone's record to 11-0 The Irish, members of the Minuteman Conference, finished 17-5 last season.

Bartlett also stands 11-0 after overwhelmingly handling Chambers, 69-33, and Stuart, 102-60, over the weekend. Coach Jerry Stine's Broncos, members of the Sandhills-Gateway Conference, are rated seventh because of the strength of their schedule

All three unbeatens, however, have excellent chances to gain ground on pacesetting Hampton, providing they can continue unbeaten.

In the scrambled Class D picture, one loss is so costly that it usually tumbles a team a least temporarily out of the top 10.

Elmwood has been an exception. Coach Jay Wischmeier's club is 11-2, but rated fifth on the strength of its five wins and championship in the tough MUDECAS Conference Tournament.

Elmwood has lost in overtime to Class C Palmyra (a setback it later avenged) and has been beaten, 56-48, by second-ranked Yutan.

Nebraska Prep Ratings

By Randy York

Class D

1—Hampton (10-0)
2—Yutan (7-1)
3—Pleasanton (11-0)
4—Falls City SH (8-1)
5—Elmwood (11-2)
6—Sidney St. Pat's (11-0)
7—Bartlett (11-0)
8—Deshler (8-1)
9—Butte (10-1)
10—Lexington St. Ann (10-1)

Comment — Palmer, No. 5 last week, was upset, 60-59, by Silver Creek and dropped from ratings. Both schools, however, are among top 10 challengers. Hordville (idle) and Adams (a 17-point loser) also exited. They were Nos. 9 and 10 a week ago. Falls City Sacred Heart lost a three-point decision to now Class C-rated Pawnee City and dropped one ratings notch. Once-beatens Deshler, Butte and Lexington St. Ann crack ratings for first time, assuming Nos. 8, 9 and 10.

Stock Mart Continues To Decline

New York (AP) — Stock market prices fell back a bit again Tuesday, with most analysts blaming uncertainty regarding the government's Phase 3 of the economic program. Some dissenters termed the dip a technical readjustment, however.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials, which dropped more than 26 points during the two previous sessions, closed the day down 1.28 to 1024.31.

Declining issues outnumbered advances, 969 to 492, among the 1,795 stocks traded on the New York Stock Exchange. Turnover was active, with the ticker tape a minute late on the bell, and volume totaled 19.17 million shares.

The decline was broad based, and the NYSE index of about 1,400 common stocks fell .21 to 64.21.

Most analysts linked the retreat to uneasiness about the effects of Phase 3 or the economy.

Investors are concerned the administration's abandonment of mandatory wage-price controls "may signal a substantial increase in the rate of inflation," said Robert Johnson of Paine, Webber, Jackson & Curtis.

Eastern Air Lines, the most-active issue on the Big Board, led a rally in airlines issues that was sparked by a favorable industry evaluation in Barron's. Eastern gained 1½ to 19⅛, Pan Am climbed ⅛ to 9⅛, Continental advanced ¾ to 15½, and United added ⅜ to 28⅛.

Chrysler lost ¼ to 39⅞ after it announced the recall of some 6,000 cars because of possible safety defects and was indicted on illegal exporting charges. Transamerica advanced 1¼ to 17 after receiving a bullish endorsement in the Wall Street Journal.

Control Data, which advanced more than 3 points Monday after winning important concessions in the settlement of its antitrust suit against International Business Machine, added 2¾ more to close at 57⅝.

Bankers Trust of New York, which reported higher year end net, finished up 1¼ at 67¼.

On the American Stock Exchange, declines edged out advances 531 to 345, and the price-change index closed down .04 at 26.35.

Soybean Futures Prices Advance

Chicago (AP) —A government report construed as bullish provided the impetus for limit advances in soybeans and soybean meal futures on the Chicago Board of Trade Tuesday.

The gain in soybeans was 10 cents a bushed and $5 a ton in meal, although the expiring January option, which is not held to trading limits, closed $22 higher.

Soybean oil gained nearly 80 points, while wheat advanced 4½ cents, corn nearly 3 cents, oats 1½ cents and iced broilers 50 points.

At the close, soybeans were up the limit at 10 cents above the previous close and January at 691½; wheat was 3¼ to 4½ cents higher, March 2.72; corn was ¾ to 2⅝ higher, March 1.57¼; and oats were ⅛ to 1½ higher, March 95⅞.

. . . DALLAS TO HOST CONTEST

Dallas (AP) — O J Simpson watched Franco Harris flee downfield for a pass and shook his head.

"Boy, not only does he play like a 10-year veteran but he even looks older than me ' said Simpson, the star runner of the Buffalo Bills

Harris, whose football miracles inspired Pittsburgh to win the Central Division title, is the only rookie on the American Conference squad that squares away Sunday against the National Conference in the Pro Bowl at Texas Stadium

"The guy is tough as a fullback but runs like a halfback" Simpson said 'He turns the corner then runs over somebody I'll tell you something There's no such a thing as a rookie in this game. When you've taken the pounding he has taken and survived with honors, you're no rookie I'll assure you."

Harris returned up field and said 'Gosh, I don't feel like a rookie anymore I guess you age fast in the National Football League"

"Right," Simpson said, 'If you're a runner you come into this league running like Gale Sayers did Franco is a runner—a winner He's got a hellu a career ahead of him"

Simpson and Harris will be two of five 1 000-yard rushers on the field Sunday

Billy Kilmer of the Redskins will start at quarterback for Coach Tom Landry's National Conference squad while Daryle Lamonica of Oakland will get the nod from AFC mentor Chuck Noll of Pittsburgh.

National Football League officials hope a crowd of 50 000 fans will be in Texas Stadium for the nationally televised 4p m EST kickoff

The winning players get $2,000 and the losers $1,500. The winning coach gets $3,000 and the losing coach $2,500.

Brown, Freitas Leave Squads

Dallas (UPI) — Washington running back Larry Brown and Detroit tackle Rocky Freitas both dropped off the national conference squad Tuesday for next Sunday's pro bowl game

Brown, the NFC's leading rusher, aggravated a knee injury and suffered a sprained wrist in Washington's Super Bowl loss last Sunday to Miami He will be replaced by Walt Garrison of Dallas.

Freitas was called home to Hawaii because of an illness in his family He will be replaced by George Kunz of Atlanta.

Previously removed from the rosters were Oakland receiver Fred Biletnikoff, New York Jet quarterback Joe Namath, Miami flanker Paul Warfield and Dallas defensive tackle Bob Lilly

They were replaced in order by Chip Myers of Cincinnati, John Hadl of San Diego, J D. Hill of Buffalo and Alan Page of Minnesota.

Seattle Hits KC-Omaha

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Seattle SuperSonics, paced by Spencer Haywood, outscored Kansas City-Omaha 38-26 in the fourth period and rallied for a 125-122 National Basketball Association triumph Tuesday night.

Nate Archibald, the Kings' league-leading scorer, fired in 48 points to maintain his scoring margin over Haywood, the league's third leading scorer, who finished with 23. Archibald also had 11 assists.

Seattle fell 16 points behind, 57-73, 3when the Kings ripped off 10 straight points to open the third period. With Ron Riley scoring 10 points in the period, the Kings went into the final 12 minutes leading 96-87.

Fred Brown and Joby Wright each sank a pair of baskets and a goal by Dick Snyder cut the Royals' lead to 98-97. Then it was a see-saw battle until the final four minutes.

With the score tied 115-all and 3:56 to go, the Kings went scoreless until only 40 seconds remained. By that time the Sonics were in control 121-117.

Brown finished with 2 0 points, 12 in the final quarter, and Jim Fox had 23 for the Sonics.

Denver (AP) — Creighton roared to a 45-25 halftime edge and beat Regis 93-59 Tuesday night in college basketball.

Regis took an 8-2 lead with 17.50 remaining in the first half, but Creighton then reeled off eight straight points in less than a minute to take a lead it never relinquished.

Gene Harmon had 19 points, Ralph Bobik 16 and Doug Brookins 14 for the winners, now 93. Regis, which fell to 5-5, was led by Tony DuCros with a game-high 23 points.

Creighton shot 41 per cent from the floor compared to Regis' 30 per cent shooting.

College Division Playoffs Okayed

Kansas City (AP) — A small college football playoff system for schools in both divisions, I and II, was approved by the National Collegiate Athletic Association in Chicago last Saturday, the NCAA announced here Tuesday.

Lou Spry, assistant executive director, said details have not been completed, but "Division I is supposed to involve eight teams and Division II will involve four teams—all at-large selections."

Until this year, the NCAA has sponsored regional games, four in Division I and two in Division II.

Division I teams are medium-sized state institutions; Division II, primarily private endowed liberal arts colleges.

Fairbury Trips Platte, 99-89

Fairbury —Fairbury took the rubber game from Platte College 99-89 Tuesday night to hand Platte its first loss in the Nebraska Junior College Conference

Using a half-court press, Platte went ahead 81-80 but Fairbury came back with the help of Noel Taylor of Nassau in the Bahamas who became eligible at the semester. Taylor scored 27 points, 19 in the second half

Fairbury defeated Platte 72-69 in a pre-season tournament game, then lost in a conference game in December 84-74. Fairbury is 5-1 in the conference and Platte is 6-1.

'Executive Privileges' Draw Demo Challenge

©The New York Times

Washington — The Senate Democratic Policy Committee, in a challenge to President Nixon's authority, announced Tuesday that it will try to limit the administration's use of "executive privilege" in avoiding the giving of testimony to Senate committees.

The 14-member Democratic policy group tentatively approved a resolution that would require White House aides and Cabinet members to "appear and answer all questions" unless Senate committees formally consented to written pleas from the President to excuse the officials from testifying.

The Policy Committee resolution was expected to be approved, and perhaps strengthened, by the full Democraric caucus on Thursday.

The resolution is aimed at forcing key White House officials. such as Henry A. Kissinger, the assistant to the President for national security affairs, and John D. Erlichman, Nixon's chief advisor on domestic matters, to make themselves available to Senate committees.

Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, the Senate Democratic leader, said that the language of the resolution was still being worked out but that it could include procedures for citing unwilling witnesses for contempt of Congress.

The unanimous decision of the Policy Committee to take the resolution before the party caucus was only one of several moves by the Democrats to confront the Republican administration.

Mansfield announced he was sending letters to several public and "quasi-public" agencies—including the Committee for the Re-Election of the President—instructing them that all pertinent documents should be "retained and recovered" for study by a Senate committee investigatigating the Watergate bugging incident.

The letters suggested that the Democrats were determined to make sure that they would have access to Republican documents bearing on alleged espionage and sabotage of Democratic candidates in the 1972 presidential capaign. Mansfield said, however, he did not have the "slightest idea" whether there had been any attempts to destroy pertinent documents.

Probes Planned

He said Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr. of North Carolina will conduct the Watergate investigation. Ervin will also direct inquiries into allegations that the FBI and military intelligence agencies had assembled "dossiers" on members of Congress. The administration's right to refuse to spend funds appropriated by Congress and the rights of reporters to refuse, under the First Amendment, to disclose information sources to grand juries will also be investigated, Mansfield said.

Sen. John O. Pastore, D-R.I., said, meanwhile, he was eager to give "Very close examination" to a proposal by Clay T. Whitehead, White House director of tele-communications policy, that would make local television stations responsible for the content of network news programs.

Pastore said that if the White House pursued the proposal, outlined in a Dec. 18 speech by Whitehead, the Senate commerce communications subcommittee would look at it "in-depth."

"But we're not buying any censorship." Pastore added.

6,263 Cars Recalled

Detroit (AP) — Chrysler Corp. announced Tuesday it is recalling 5,512 passenger cars for possible steering system defects and another 751 autos for a suspected faulty transmission assembly.

A spokesman said about 10% of the 5,512 recalled 1973 Plymouth Satellites and Dodge Coronets and Chargers are suspected of having lower control arm pivot shafts which may have been improperly heat treated.

Failure to have the condition corrected could result in a sudden failure of the pivot shaft and loss of steering control, the company reported.

The second recall involves 1973 Plymouth Fury and Dodge Polara and Monaco passenger cars equipped with 318-cubic-inch V8 engines and automatic transmissions.

A spokesman said an automatic transmission throttle linkage clip in a suspected 5% of the cars may not have been attached properly, which could result in the throttle slipping wide open.

Union Loan Reports 1972 Was Biggest Growth Year

Last year was the largest growth year in Union Loan and Savings' 66 years, Kenneth King, company president, reported at the firm's annual business meeting Tuesday.

During the last two years, assets increased by 52.6%, he noted. Assets for 1972 stood at $62,844,925 by year' end.

King predicted that Lincoln and Nebraska will experience a higher than normal activity in home building in 1973.

"For the past two years, we have exceeded the normal pattern in home construction and savings dollars," he said.

At the same time, he warned that construction may be down from the fast pace of 1972.

"Apartment starts in Lincoln have been heavy and will have to be watched very carefully," King said.

He also noted that the growth of Union Loan and Savings has exceeded the pace of the growth of the industry nationwide by a "considerable degree."

"This is a result of the healthy economy we have in Nebraska," he said, "and the continuing demand for the services of Union Loan by the people."

He said that Union Loan will establish its new office in Beatrice this year, with construction expected to start within the next 60 days.

Elected directors of the association were John D. Phillips, Selmer Solheim and K. D. King.

Officers include Kenneth King, president; Glen Hattan, secretary, assistant treasurer; Mike Keady, senior vice president; Ron Mathews, treasurer, controller; Ken Orth, vice president, assistant secretary; Ralph Whyman, vice president; Gerald King, inusrance manager; David Banwell, Frank L. Vogt, loan officers.

Directors are Kenneth King, Max Meyer, Earl Luff, Merle Hale, Selmer Solheim, John D. Phillips, Arthur J. Weaver.

Three People Suffocated By Heavy Taping

Raleigh, N.C. (UPI) — Police said two men and a woman found dead in a ransacked apartment apparently were suffocated by heavy tape wrapped around their noses and mouths.

One source said heavy-duty tape was wrapped around the victims heads from their chins to their foreheads, with the tape especially thick around the nostrils and mouths.

Their hands and feet had been tightly wrapped in heavy gray tape, neckties and electrical cord, Wake County Medical Examiner Gerard Hartzog estimated they had been dead about two days when they were found.

Suits Settled

Northvale, N.J. (UPI) — Rusco Industries, Inc., has settled seven stockholder suits against the company filed in federal court for the Central District of California for about $1.25 million. The actions were started in 1971 as an aftermath of a suit filed against the company and Jack Catain, then its president, by the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Clara Ward

Strokes Kill Songstress Clara Ward

Los Angeles (AP) — Gospel singer Clara Ward, who sang her first solo at the age of 5 and grew up singing in churches with her mother and sister, died Tuesday after suffering two strokes within the past five weeks. She was 48.

Miss Ward, leader of the Clara Ward Singers, had been in a coma at UCLA Medical Center since suffering the most recent stroke at her suburban Baldwin Hills home last week.

During her career, Miss Ward performed twice before President Lyndon Johnson, played Carnegie Hall with Mahalia Jackson, directed the music for a Broadway play and was nominated for a Grammy Award.

Miss Ward and her sister, Willa, joined their mother, Gertrude, when they were still children to form the Ward Singers trio and for many years sang at Sunday services in all-black churches.

The group took on two new members after Willa was married and made its first appearance before a white audience in 1957 at the Newport Jazz Festival. Concert tours and night club bookings at home and abroad followed.

Miss Ward was a firm believer in her music.

"I know the Lord," she said recently. "And I never have a lonely moment. I really kind of think, as far as my personal life is concerned, I got it made."

West Lincoln Sertoma Club Honors Stuart

James Stuart, chairman of the board of Stuart Enterprises, was awarded a Service to Mankind Award Tuesday by the West Lincoln Sertoma Club.

Stuart was cited for his activities in "developing educational philanthropies directed toward youth leadership."

He was instrumental in completing the all-weather track at Lincoln East High School and in fostering the Human Resources Research Foundation.

A member of the Lincoln School Board from 1961-67, he is also a member of the board of trustees of the University of Nebraska Foundation, the Lincoln Foundation, the University of Nebraska Endowment Foundation for Distinguished Teachers and Bryan Memorial Hospital.

He is past chairman of the board of trustees of First Plymouth Congregational Church and a past president of the Community Chest.

Stuart received the NU Distinguished Service Award in 1961.

Hike To Be Asked

San Francisco (UPI) — The Longshoremen's Union has decided to press shipping companies for a 30-cent hourly pay raise rejected by the now-defunct U. S. Pay Board, sources reported.

University Receives Bids On Fire Alarm Systems

The University of Nebraska Tuesday received bids for the installation of fire alarm systems in five buildings on the Lincoln campuses.

R. E. Bennett director of special business services for the university said the systems were being installed "in compliance with a request from the fire marshal."

However, he added, plans to install fire alarm systems "have been in the works for quite some time."

Bennett said the project was slowed because of a shortage of design people and available funds.

"As time goes on, more and more buildings will be brought up to standard, money permitting," he said.

Approximately eight bids were submitted for each of the five projects he said.

Gregg Electric Co. and Security Equipment Co., both Lincoln firms, submitted the apparent low bids.

Gregg Electric Co. bid $6,500 for installation of the fire alarm system in Agricultural Hall; $3,900 for the Military and Naval Science Building, and $4,660 for the Department of Information.

Security Equipment Co. bid $3,755 and $3,005 for installing the systems in Agricultural Hall and Miller Hall, respectively.

Crete's Edwards Wins Player Of Week Honor

... BEST EFFORT HELPS DOWN YORK

By RANDY YORK
Prep Sports Writer

For Tim Edwards, good basketball games are a weekly habit. He's the type who competes so hard so often, it's difficult to pinpoint the difference between good, great and super.

But last Friday night against York Edwards was super. So super, in fact, that coach Walt Harris declared that it was "certainly his best game at Crete High School."

That statement covers a lot of territory, especially considering that Edwards was a state Class B all-tournament performer last March in Lincoln.

Against York, he was the thrust enabling No. 1 Crete to hold on for a 74-73 win, its 10th without a loss this season.

The 6-2 senior hit 11 of 24 field goal attempts and added nine free throws for a game high 31 points and collected 15 rebounds, another game high.

"He also had six steals and five assists," points out Harris after reviewing Crete's statistical charts. "He clearly deserves Player of the Week after a performance like that."

Therefore, Edwards today earns the prep Player of the Week award.

During one stretch of the third quarter, he hit five straight field goals to help the Cardinals come back from a 41-36 halftime deficit.

"He's more than just a good basketball player," stresses Harris. "He's an outstanding kid who works hard all the time. And, even more importantly, he loves what he's doing and has fun doing it.

Tim Edwards
Prep Standout

"He and Randy (Wenz) are the closest of friends," notes Harris. "Randy was our all-stater last year. But Tim is too, in my book. I think we have two all-staters on this club."

Other players who will receive Sunday Journal and Star Player of the Week cards include:

Don Madlock and Jerry Kletchka, Lincoln High — The former hit four of his game high nine field goals after regulation time and the latter hit winning field goal with two seconds remaining in 50-48 upset of Lincoln Northeast.

Greg Bacon, Lexington — His field goal in final seconds and 22 points gave Minutemen 69-68 Southwest Conference win over previously rated Minden.

Lindley Lamb, Osceola — Senior center connected for field goal with four seconds remaining in overtime as team edged favored David City Aquinas, 73-72.

Randall Gutherless, Maxwell — Scored 22 points, including game-winning field goal in final second, as team upset Farnam, 61-59.

Gary Slobodny, Norfolk—Senior frontliner hit seven straight free throws in the final period to help Panthers hold off East Big 10 rival Hastings, 57-50.

Verdell Erks, Centennial — Senior center's field goal with one minute remaining and 18 points helped Broncos outlast Wahoo, 71-68.

Steve Hiatt, Superior — His field goal with 17 seconds remaining — the only points he scored during the game — boosted Class B club past Class C Tri-County, 52-51.

Gary Herchenback, Lindsay Holy Family — Scored 25 points, including all five of his team's points in overtime, as Holy Family squeezed past St. Edward, 74-73.

Loren Killion, Kearney — Six-seven center rimmed careeer high 32 points (six shy of school record) as Bearcats measured West Big 10 rival Scottsbluff, 65-60.

Wes Pinkertman, O'Neill — His field goal with two seconds remaining helped team defeat Valentine, 48-46.

Dale Thiessen, Elkhorn — Senior center's 26 points were the key as ninth-rated Class B club survived Columbus Lakeview in overtime, 74-64.

Tom Lynch, Wilcox — His two free throws with 25 seconds remaining enabled team to edge Overton, 61-60.

Dave Prenzlow, Snyder — Senior forward hit 31 points as team rallied from 12-point third-quarter deficit to overtake Rosalie, 57-54.

Winners Back For Midlands

Omaha (UPI) — The reigning Midlands International tennis single and doubles champions will return here to defend their titles in the 1973 Midlands Tourney, it was announced Tuesday.

Romanians Ilie Nastase, 1972 singles champ, and Ion Tiriac, who teamed with Nastase to take the doubles title will headline the 24-player field for the Jan. 23-28 event.

Nastase, winning over $100,000 for the second year in succession, was the U.S. Open champ and Wimbledon finalist. Tiriac was the Romanian champion from 1959 until 1967, when Nastase began his rise.

Another top international player returning to the Midlands is Manuel Orantes of Spain, who won the Italian, German, Belgian and Swedish championships in 1972.

Orantes reached both the Wimbledon and Forest Hills semi-finals last year.

Dickey Charged With Auto Theft

Liberty, Mo. (AP) —Eldridge Dickey, Kansas City Chiefs wide receiver, was charged Tuesday with theft of a motor vehicle.

Police said the former all-America quarterback at Tennessee State, picked up by the Chiefs from the Baltimore Colts, drove off in a car owned by John Chezik Buick Inc., after the company refused to loan him a vehicle.

C. Patrick Bills, Clay County magistrate, set the football payer's bond at $1,500 and scheduled a preliminary hearing for Jan. 30.

Swim Meet Set By Junior AAU

More than 450 swimmers from 13 Nebraska swim clubs have registered to participate in the Midwestern AAU junior Olympics Swim Meet Saturday at Lincoln East High School.

Midget and intermediate swim events will begin at 8:30 a.m. Saturday, according to Jim Bartolome, Lincoln, meet director. Junior and senior events will be held in the afternoon.

Official Junior Olympic gold, silver, and bronze medals will be awarded for first through sixth place in individual events and first through third in relay events. There also will be individual high point trophies for boys and girls and team trophies.

The meet is being sponsored by the Lincoln Swim Club, Midwestern AAU and the Chevrolet Motor Company.

Gibson Hires Weber As K-State Assistant

Manhattan, Kan. (AP) — Bob Weber, head football coach at the University of Arizona past four years, has been hired by head coach Vince Gibson coordinator and offensive line coach at Kanas State University.

Weber assumes the duties of Don Powell, who recently resigned to become an assistant with the Saskatchewan Roughriders of the Canadian Football League

Royals Slate Lincoln Stop

Kansas City (AP) — Jack McKeon, new manager of the Kansas City Royals, will lead four players on a five-day swing through nine cities beginning Monday.

The first stop of the team's annual "goodwill caravan" will be Columbia, followed by Jefferson City, Springfield and Joplin in Missouri; Wichita and Topeka in Kansas; Lincoln and Omaha in Nebraska, and concluding Friday, Jan. 26, in St. Joseph, Mo.

Accompanying the 42-year-old McKeon will be John Mayberry, first baseman; Lou Piniella, right fielder; Ed Kirkpatrick, utility man, and Hal McRae, newly arrived following a four-player trade with the Cincinnati Reds.

Lincoln Ski Club Going To Races

The Cornhusker Ski Club is sending its strongest contingent over to the annual Flatlanders' Ski Races in Vail, Colo. his weekend.

The 49-member Lincoln ski group will be competing with about 1,000 skiers from Omaha, Kansas City, St. Louis, Wichita, Oklahoma City and other clubs in the Plains states.

Leading the Cornhuskers are Bill Browne, Lincoln's top finisher last year, John Hyland, still in peak condition from the Orange Bowl Game. Wayne Simpson, Steve Carveth and John Fritch. Also expected to make a strong showing for the Cornhuskers are Jack Hyland, Arleigh Hayes, Dick Kincade, John Whitten and Grant Whitney.

The girls will be led by Ellie Iovacchini and Phyllis Kincade, both of whom finished near the top last year. They will be joined by 12 other girls, including Jacque Rank, Murph Levy and Ginny Kincade.

Stock Mart Continues To Decline

New York (AP) — Stock market prices fell back a bit again Tuesday, with most analysts blaming uncertainty regarding the government's Phase 3 of the economic program. Some dissenters termed the dip a technical readjustment, however.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials, which dropped more than 26 points during the two previous sessions, closed the day down 1.28 to 1024.31.

Declining issues outnumbered advances, 969 to 492 among the 1,795 stocks traded on the New York Stock Exchange. Turnover was active, with the ticker tape a minute late on the bell, and volume totaled 19 17 million shares.

The decline was broad based, and the NYSE index of about 1,400 common stocks fell .21 to 64.21.

Most analysts linked the retreat to uneasiness about the effects of Phase 3 or the economy.

Investors are concerned the administration's abandonment of mandatory wage-price controls "may signal a substantial increase in the rate of inflation," said Robert Johnson of Paine, Webber, Jackson & Curtis.

Eastern Air Lines, the most active issue on the Big Board led a rally in airlines issues that was sparked by a favorable industry evaluation in Barron's. Eastern gained 1½ to 19⅛. Pan Am climbed ⅝ to 9⅞. Continental advanced ¾ to 15½, and United added ⅞ to 28⅛.

Chrysler lost ¼ to 39¾ after it announced the recall of some 6,000 cars because of possible safety defects and was indicted on illegal exporting charges. Transamerica advanced 1¼ to 17 after receiving a bullish endorsement in the Wall Street Journal.

Control Data, which advanced more than 3 points Monday after winning important concessions in the settlement of its antitrust suit against International Business Machine, added 2¾ more to close at 57⅝.

Bankers Trust of New York, which reported higher year end net, finished up 1¼ at 67¼.

On the American Stock Exchange declines edged out advances 531 to 345, and the price change index closed down .04 at 26.35.

Soybean Futures Prices Advance

Chicago (AP) — A government report construed as bullish provided the impetus for limit advances in soybeans and soybean meal futures on the Chicago Board of Trade Tuesday.

The gain in soybeans was 10 cents a bushed and $5 a ton in meal, although the expiring January option, which is not held to trading limits closed $22 higher.

Soybean oil gained nearly 80 points, while wheat advanced 4½ cents, corn nearly 3 cents, oats 1½ cents and iced broilers 50 points.

At the close soybeans were up the limit at 10 cents above the previous close and January 4.49½; wheat was 3¼ to 4½ cents higher, March 2.72; corn was 1¾ to 2⅝ higher, March 1.57¼; and oats were ⅛ to 1½ higher, March 95⅞.

'Executive Privileges' Draw Demo Challenge

©The New York Times

Washington — The Senate Democratic Policy Committee, in a challenge to President Nixon's authority, announced Tuesday that it will try to limit the administration's use of "executive privilege" in avoiding the giving of testimony to Senate committees.

The 14-member Democratic policy group tentatively approved a resolution that would require White House aides and Cabinet members to "appear and answer all questions" unless Senate committees formally consented to written pleas from the President to excuse the officials from testifying.

The Policy Committee resolution was expected to be approved, and perhaps strengthened, by the full Democraric caucus on Thursday.

The resolution is aimed at forcing key White House officials. such as Henry A. Kissinger, the assistant to the President for national security affairs, and John D. Erlichman, Nixon's chief advisor on domestic matters, to make themselves available to Senate committees.

Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, the Senate Democratic leader, said that the language of the resolution was still being worked out but that it could include procedures for citing unwilling witresses for contempt of Congress.

The unanimous decision of the Policy Committee to take the resolution before the party caucus was only one of several moves by the Democrats to confront the Republican administration.

Mansfield announced he was sending letters to several public and "quasi-public" agencies—including the Committee for the Re-Election of the President—instructing them that all pertinent documents should be "retained and recovered" for study by a Senate committee investigatigating the Watergate bugging incident.

The letters suggested that the Democrats were determined to make sure that they would have access to Republican documents bearing on alleged espionage and sabotage of Democratic candidates in the 1972 presidential campaign. Mansfield said, however, he did not have the "slightest idea" whether there had been any attempts to destroy pertinent documents.

Probes Planned

He said Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr. of North Carolina will conduct the Watergate investigation. Ervin will also direct inquiries into allegations that the FBI and military intelligence agencies had assembled "dossiers" on members of Congress. The administration's right to refuse to spend funds appropriated by Congress and the rights of reporters to refuse, under the First Amendment, to disclose information sources to grand juries will also be investigated, Mansfield said.

Sen. John O. Pastore, D-R.I., said, meanwhile, he was eager to give "Very close examination" to a proposal by Clay T. Whitehead, White House director of tele-communications policy, that would make local television stations responsible for the content of network news programs.

Pastore said that if the White House pursued the proposal. outlined in a Dec. 18 speech by Whitehead, the Senate commerce communications subcommittee would look at it "in-depth."

"But we're not buying any censorship." Pastore added.

6,263 Cars Recalled

Detroit (AP) — Chrysler Corp. announced Tuesday it is recalling 5,512 passenger cars for possible steering system defects and another 751 autos for a suspected faulty transmission assembly.

A spokesman said about 10% of the 5,512 recalled 1973 Plymouth Satellites and Dodge Coronets and Chargers are suspected of having lower control arm pivot shafts which may have been improperly heat treated.

Failure to have the condition corrected could result in a sudden failure of the pivot shaft and loss of steering control, the company reported.

The second recall involves 1973 Plymouth Fury and Dodge Polara and Monaco passenger cars equipped with 318-cubic-inch V8 engines and automatic transmissions.

A spokesman said an automatic transmission throttle linkage clip in a suspected 5% of the cars may not have been attached properly, which could result in the throttle slipping wide open.

Union Loan Reports 1972 Was Biggest Growth Year

Last year was the largest growth year in Union Loan and Savings' 66 years, Kenneth King, company president, reported at the firm's annual business meeting Tuesday.

During the last two years, assets increased by 52.6%, he noted. Assets for 1972 stood at $62,844,925 by year' end.

King predicted that Lincoln and Nebraska will experience a higher than normal activity in home building in 1973.

"For the past two years, we have exceeded the normal pattern in home construction and savings dollars," he said.

At the same time, he warned that construction may be down from the fast pace of 1972.

"Apartment starts in Lincoln have been heavy and will have to be watched very carefully," King said.

He also noted that the growth of Union Loan and Savings has exceeded the pace of the growth of the industry nationwide by a considerable degree."

"This is a result of the healthy economy we have in Nebraska," he said, "and the continuing demand for the services of Union Loan by the people."

He said that Union Loan will establish its new office in Beatrice this year, with construction expected to start within the next 60 days.

Elected directors of the association were John D. Phillips, Selmer Solheim and K. D. King.

Officers include Kenneth King, president; Glen Hattan, secretary, assistant treasurer; Mike Keady, senior vice president; Ron Mathews, treasurer, controller; Ken Orth, vice president, assistant secretary; Ralph Whyman, vice president; Gerald King, insurance manager; David Banwell, Frank L. Vogt, loan officers.

Directors are Kenneth King, Max Meyer, Earl Luff, Merle Hile Selmer Solheim, John D. Phillips, Arthur J. Weaver.

Three People Suffocated By Heavy Taping

Raleigh, N.C. (UPI) — Police said two men and a woman found dead in a ransacked apartment apparently were suffocated by heavy tape wrapped around their noses and mouths.

One source said heavy-duty tape was wrapped around the victims heads from their chins to their foreheads, with the tape especially thick around the nostrils and mouths.

Their hands and feet had been tightly wrapped in heavy gray tape, neckties and electrical cord, Wake County Medical Examiner Gerard Hartzog estimated they had been dead about two days when they were found.

Suits Settled

Northvale, N.J. (UPI) — Rusco Industries, Inc., has settled seven stockholder suits against the company filed in federal court for the Central District of California for about $1.25 million. The actions were started in 1971 as an aftermath of a suit filed against the company and Jack Catain, then its president. by the Securities and Exchange Commis

Strokes Kill Songstress Clara Ward

Los Angeles (AP) — Gospel singer Clara Ward, who sang her first solo at the age of 5 and grew up singing in churches with her mother and sister, died Tuesday after suffering two strokes within the past five weeks. She was 48.

Miss Ward, leader of the Clara Ward Singers, had been in a coma at UCLA Medical Center since suffering the most recent stroke at her suburban Baldwin Hills home last week.

During her career, Miss Ward performed twice before President Lyndon Johnson, played Carnegie Hall with Mahalia Jackson, directed the music for a Broadway play and was nominated for a Grammy Award.

Miss Ward and her sister, Willa, joined their mother, Gertrude, when they were still children to form the Ward Singers trio and for many years sang at Sunday services in all-black churches.

The group took on two new members after Willa was married and made its first appearance before a white audience in 1957 at the Newport Jazz Festival. Concert tours and night club bookings at home and abroad followed.

Miss Ward was a firm believer in her music.

"I know the Lord," she said recently. "And I never have a lonely moment. I really kind of think, as far as my personal life is concerned, I get it made."

West Lincoln Sertoma Club Honors Stuart

James Stuart, chairman of the board of Stuart Enterprises, was awarded a Service to Mankind Award Tuesday by the West Lincoln Sertoma Club.

Stuart was cited for his activities in "developing educational philanthropies directed toward youth leadership."

He was instrumental in completing the all-weather track at Lincoln East High School and in fostering the Human Resources Research Foundation.

A member of the Lincoln School Board from 1961-67, he is also a member of the board of trustees of the University of Nebraska Foundation, the Lincoln Foundation, the University of Nebraska Endowment Foundation for Distinguished Teachers and Bryan Memorial Hospital.

He is past chairman of the board of trustees of First Plymouth Congregational Church and a past president of the Community Chest.

Stuart received the NU Distinguished Service Award in 1961.

Hike To Be Asked

San Francisco (UPI) — The Longshoremen's Union has decided to press shipping companies for a 30-cent hourly pay raise rejected by the now-defunct U. S. Pay Board, sources reported.

University Receives Bids On Fire Alarm Systems

The University of Nebraska Tuesday received bids for the installation of fire alarm systems in five buildings on the Lincoln campuses.

R. E. Bennett director of special business services for the university said the systems were being installed "in compliance with a request from the fire marshal."

However, he added, plans to install fire alarm systems "have been in the works for quite some time."

Bennett said the project was slowed because of a shortage of design people and available funds.

"As time goes on more and [illegible] up to standard, money permitting," he said.

Approximately eight bids were submitted for each of the five projects he said.

Gregg Electric Co. and Security Equipment Co., both Lincoln firms, submitted the apparent low bids.

Gregg Electric Co. bid $6,500 for installation of the fire alarm system in Agricultural Hall; $3,900 for the Military and Naval Science Building, and $4,660 for the Department of Information.

Security Equipment Co. bid $3,755 and $3,005 for installing the systems in Agricultural Hall and Miller Hall, re[illegible]

AMERICAN MOTORS BUYER PROTECTION PLAN
1. A simple, strong guarantee, just 101 words!
When you buy a new 1973 car from an American Motors dealer, American Motors Corporation guarantees to you that, except for tires, it will pay for the repair or replacement of any part it supplies that is defective in material or workmanship. This guarantee is good for 12 months from the date the car is first used or 12,000 miles, whichever comes first. All we require is that the car be properly maintained and cared for under normal use and service in the fifty United States or Canada, and that guaranteed repairs or replacement be made by an American Motors dealer.
2. A free loaner car from almost every one of our dealers if guaranteed repairs take overnight.
3. Special Trip Interruption Protection.
4. And a toll free hot line to AMC Headquarters.

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you. 1-17

1. A simple, strong guarantee, just 101 words!

When you buy a new 1973 car from an American Motors dealer, American Motors Corporation guarantees to you that, except for tires, it will pay for the repair or replacement of any part it supplies that is defective in material or workmanship. This guarantee is good for 12 months from the date the car is first used or 12,000 miles, whichever comes first. All we require is that the car be properly maintained and cared for under normal use and service in the fifty United States or Canada, and that guaranteed repairs or replacement be made by an American Motors dealer.

2. A free loaner car from almost every one of our dealers if guaranteed repairs take overnight.

3. Special Trip Interruption Protection.

4. And a toll free hot line to AMC Headquarters.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you. 1-17
